DILKS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS ON 100 MILE TREK

ROGERS FEELS SURE COOLIDGE WON'T BE ENVOY TO ENGLAND

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. — Everybody has been wondering what Mr. Coolidge will do after March.

Well, one thing certain, after issuing that Armistice Day speech, he had no idea of being made ambassador to England or France.

I see they have promised this Rothstein murderer now if he will come in and give up they will give him a medal and his gun back. I think if he holds out they will do by him the same as the other prominent guests. They will give him the keys of the city.

Why does every peace envoy always go on a battleship? No wonder Lindbergh's trip was so well received.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc notes that Chief of Police C. C. Horner has decided that the "stop" signs at the intersection of Sheridan and Albert streets will be changed to Albert street instead of Sheridan. This is believed to be a proper move by autoists who drive these streets. At the same time there is another suggestion of drivers that could be followed out. It is suggested that with the completion of the State street route the stop sign at the intersection of State and Grant streets should be on Grant instead of State street. Numerous drivers also believe that the signs at Moody and Mercer street corner should be reversed and instead of being on Mercer should be on Moody avenue.

Somebody is always taking the joy out of life. Here is the rabbit hunting season well under way and along comes Dr. H. C. Harper, county medical director, with a warning that the rabbits may have the fever and hunters must be extremely careful in handling them.

There is no danger of any autoist not seeing the new traffic signal at the intersection of North and Jefferson streets. It is about as conspicuous as any in the city. It is slowing up traffic on Jefferson street considerably.

Tomorrow is Booster Day at Franklin field. Not only that but probably the greatest game of the season is scheduled when New Castle clashes with Beaver Falls High. The oldtimers will put on a program in addition. Be on hand early.

There should be some sort of regulations to govern trucks driving over sidewalks in this city. In a number of cases Pa Newc notes where sidewalks have been badly damaged.

Don't forget that if you want only the score of the New Castle High school game tomorrow simply say, "score please". The News operators will understand what score you want. It saves time for everybody.

Announcement that the Edenburg-Hillsville road is to be improved for another mile and a half next year will bring Hillsville and that section of the county much "nearer" to New Castle. This is one of the important highways of the county and will be an improvement that will be greatly appreciated.

Get ready to go to church Sunday. There will be a new pastor in the pulpit. Plans are completed whereby an exchange of pulpits will be made in most all of the churches of the city.

June brides, and those married in September or October even, have the happy faculty of husband-controlling already. "Does your husband really like your cooking?" a recent bride was asked by a friend who has much, much more crust than Pa Newc. "Well," the reply came, "he hasn't picked up courage enough yet to say yes or no. But I am looking him over carefully to see if he is losing weight."

Soon it will be Thanksgiving, and then Christmas. Pa Newc has noticed the advent of the holiday sea-

New Castle Man May Lower Mark For Long Jaunt

Goes Through Conneaut Lake At Noon; Expects To Finish In Erie

AHEAD OF TIME SET AT NOON HOUR

Stops Momentarily To Change Shoes, But Eats While On Run

Earl Dilks, New Castle derby runner, who left New Castle at 5 o'clock this morning on a race from this city to Erie in an effort to lower the world's record for the hundred mile run, was still going strong according to word from Garfield Davis, this afternoon. Telephoning from Meadville at 1 o'clock Mr. Davis said that Dilks had passed through Conneaut Lake at 12 o'clock and was well on his way to Meadville at that time.

"Dilks is in good shape and expects to complete the run" said Davis.

Ahead of Schedule.

At Greenville where Dilks went through at 9:45 there was quite a crowd of spectators out to see him and all along the route there have been many spectators Davis reports.

Dilks stopped momentarily a couple of times to change shoes but otherwise has made no stop in the long grind. He eats as he runs.

At Conneaut Lake Dilks was 20 minutes ahead of his schedule said Davis.

When the run was started from New Castle this morning it was raining slightly. The rain ceased in a short time however and weather conditions were good until Conneaut Lake was reached, when it started to rain again. This did not seem to hinder Dilks' progress however.

Starts From City.

Governor Smith Speeding On Way To Mississippi

Defeated Democratic Presidential Candidate Plans Extended Stay In South

MAY PAY VISIT TO ROOSEVELT

(International News Service)

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 16.—Speeding toward the balmy Gulf Coast, where he will spend an extended vacation, Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, and his party travelled by rail today the trail blazed by Ponce De Leon centuries ago.

The defeated Democratic candidate for the presidency, left early today aboard the private car of Wm. F. Kenney, a close friend. The Governor let it be clearly understood he was taking a "real" vacation, and that formality and public appearances were taboo.

The Governor is scheduled to arrive at Biloxi at 4:10 this afternoon.

It was understood that while in the Mississippi coast country he will stay a few days at the home of J. M. Dickinson, Jr., of Pass Christian. Dickinson is the son of Judge Dickinson, former secretary of war.

While Governor Smith did not stop over at Warm Springs, Ga., to see Franklin D. Roosevelt, New York's Governor-elect, it was expected a stop would be made there on Smith's return trip.

CITY POLICE WOMAN BEING IMPERSONATED BY SCANDAL SEEKER

Every day, according to Mrs. Minnie McKibben, city police woman some person calls her and informs her of calls made to them in which the person calling, has stated that it is Mrs. McKibben.

In every instance these persons impersonating Mrs. McKibben have been seeking information concerning the habits of neighbors which would be of an incriminating nature or have been threatening the person called with exposure, if they did not divulge over the telephone some of their alleged misbehavior.

Mrs. McKibben has become tired of others attempting to impersonate her and cast reflection on her duties which often make it necessary for her to inquire into the private life of others and stated to a representative of The News that if this practice of impersonating her did not cease that plans had been made which it is believed would result in the apprehension of the person, evidently a woman, who has been playing this game, apparently just to gratify a desire for scandal.

Mrs. McKibben stated that it is not her custom to seek information of this character over the telephone or to threaten people in order to obtain needed information. For this reason those receiving the calls should inform her but never give information of this kind to a telephone inquirer. Her information is secured through personal contact and in a private personal manner.

Contractors Promise To Speed Completion Of New Junior High

Assign Various Reasons For Delay In Work At George Washington

All Promise To Push Their Share Of Work Yet To Be Done

Following a conference of an hour between the New Castle school board and the contractors who have been building the George Washington Junior High school at the East street building last night, the contractors agreed that they should press the work to a finish, and set February 1 as the date when they thought the building would be entirely finished.

To quote Director A. C. Hyde, the conference developed considerable "busk passing". The various contractors charged that they were being held up on account of delays in other departments, charged that the school board was partly responsible for the condition, and promised to have more men on the job. The cafeteria is promised within a few days, the swimming pool will be rushed to completion and the lockers will be installed as quickly as possible. These three things were the ones complained about the most.

Architect Explains Position

Principal B. K. Thacker was first heard and said that there were a number of small jobs unfinished, minor in themselves, but delaying the school work. Architect A. L. Thayer was called and said that he had been after the contractors continually to get the work done. "Everybody said yes," said Mr. Thayer, "but apparently little heed was paid. It doesn't seem as if we can impress upon them the necessity of getting it done. I thought if they came in to the board perhaps some arrangements could be made whereby the work could be speeded up."

Director Roy W. Hazen said that the board was not disposed to ask the impossible, but that they did want some co-operation to get the work done. He then asked the general contractor, J. Clyde Gilfillan, to

Pacific Storm Hampers Voyage Of Byrd Vessel

Byrd Expedition Ship Hopes To Outride South Pacific Storm Safely

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Nov., 16.—The Eleanor Bolling, one of Commander Byrd's ships enroute to the South Pole is encountering heavy weather in the South Pacific, according to radio messages picked up last night by Bert Pucket, amateur operator, here.

Within 310 miles of the New Zealand coast, the ship encountered such heavy gales that she listed 30 degrees and shipped water, the operator said. She expects to land at Vunverin, New Zealand, Sunday. The crew asked for the latest news concerning the Vestris disaster, Pucket said.

Intensive Hunt Is Started For Missing Pastor

Dissension In Church Circles Believed Cause For Pastor's Strange Leaving

(International News Service)

BERKLEY, Mich., Nov. 16.—An intensive 40-hour search failed to reveal a trace of the Rev. Orin C. Van Loon, pastor of the Berkley Community church, who fell from sight during a recital at the church Wednesday night.

While Berkley is stirred to a higher pitch than it has been since the unexplained 11-day disappearance of the pastor four years ago, the new hunt for him today assumed state-wide proportions.

Berkley police after exhausting every possible clue in their feverish search admitted they were baffled.

Van Loon's first disappearance kept the community in suspense 11 days until he was found wandering in a dazed condition in Battle Creek with a brand of the letters "K. K. K." on his shoulder. He has never explained this disappearance.

Attends Recital.

He disappeared Wednesday night from a milling crowd at a recital given in his church by the pupils of Harold F. Koch, director of music in the Berkley high school. After spending half an hour in the church he could not be found. He did not return to the parsonage.

Two theories are advanced by neighbors and friends: that he has met

Butler County Woman Meets Death In Engine Operating Oil Wells

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 16.—Funeral arrangements were made today for Mrs. Ellen Buckley O'Donnel, 58, who was crushed to death late yesterday at North Oakland, near here, when her clothing was caught in the engine that was operating a string of oil wells on the O'Donnell farm.

Mrs. O'Donnell had been accustomed to running the engine which pumped oil on her own lease. She is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Hoover Confident No Extra Session Will Be Required

FARM SUPPORTER VISITS HOOVER

Hoover Of Opinion That Farmers Should Have Hand In Relief Plans

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 16.—President-elect Hoover today completed preparations for his South American good-will tour, confident that no extra session of congress would be necessary in March.

The meeting of the National Grange in Washington which has declared against the principle of the equalization fee, has presented to Mr. Hoover again the question of a conference of farm leaders on agricultural policies.

Since his acceptance speech Mr. Hoover has recommended a program in which "the farmers themselves should have a part."

Following his conference with Representative William E. Hull of Illinois, a member of the house rivers and harbors committee, Mr. Hoover gave attention to the agricultural problem today for the first time since his election.

Farmers Divided.

Representative Hull expressed the opinion after his talk wit the president-elect on San Juan Hill, that the results of the presidential election would affect that "farm-relief" completion of the short session as well as the new congress.

"How can you have farm relief when the farmers themselves are divided on the program?" Representative Hull said in response to a question touching upon the probabilities of an extra session immediately after March 4.

Six stenographers were added to the Hoover staff today to assist in answering the heaps of congratulatory letters and telegrams which have flooded in upon the president-elect since last Wednesday. Mr. Hoover has decided that every mesage shall be answered before he leaves Palo Alto next Sunday night.

Thirty-seven people will make up the Hoover party.

Stories Of Crew Will Be Probed

U. S. Officials Investigate Reports That Departure Was Debated

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle who is conducting the Federal investigation into the responsibility of the sinking of the Lamport and Holt steamer Vestris announced today that he would "go to the bottom" of stories told by members of the crew that the ship was in such a condition at sailing time "that there was some discussion as to whether to sail or not." He said, too, that he would obtain all radio messages that were exchanged between the captain of the ship and officials of the line.

To Fix Blame

"I am after all the facts," Tuttle declared. "I am confident we can fix the blame. I have called on the entire criminal division of my staff for assistance."

Shown an International News Service dispatch from Norfolk, Va., quoting Commander G. W. Simpson, executive officer of the S. S. Wyoming, one of the rescue ships, to the effect that stokers aboard the Vestris blamed a cracked sea valve in the fire room as causing the list of the ill-fated liner, Tuttle immediately took steps to obtain sworn information bearing upon that point.

"I will communicate at once with the U. S. attorney at Norfolk and have him take in affidavit form the stories of the survivors who were landed there by the Wyoming," said Tuttle. "I think they are important. If that cannot be done I will send some of my assistants to Norfolk to get the stories.

"I also want from Washington any official reports bearing on the disaster that have been made to the Navy Department."

Five Women Tell Harrowing Tales Of Rescue At Sea

ARE CONFINED TO NAVAL HOSPITAL

Three Of Women Were Widowed By Shipwreck; Two Saw Husbands Perish

(International News Service)

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 16—There have been many heart-rending tales floating up from the wreckage of the Vestris, but it remained for the last survivors of that fearsome tragedy to bring into port the most harrowing tale of suffering and grief.

In the naval hospital at Portsmouth today were five women bordering on collapse. Three of them were widowed by the tragedy. Two of the trio went through the agony of seeing their husbands die in their arms.

Three of Crew Heroic.

The five women were brought to this port aboard the battleship Wyoming, Mrs. Terukio Inouye, wife of the Japanese consul at Buenos Aires; Mrs. Norman K. Batten, wife of the well-known automobile driver; Mrs. Mary Ulrich of New York, Mrs. Elvira Rua of New Bedford, Mass., and Mrs. Dolores Dorll of Brooklyn.

With them were three West Indian negro members of the crew, Joseph Boxil, Gerald Burton and John Morris, to whom the women owe their lives. These negro stokers performed in accordance with the best traditions of the sea, whatever charges may be brought against the conduct of the other members of the Vestris crew.

See Husbands Die.

Mrs. Inouye and Mrs. Batten went through the horror of seeing their husbands die by their sides. Mrs. Rua was torn from her husband's side in the confusion of the disaster, and although he went down she escaped the horror of seeing it.

Mrs. Inouye was carried from the Wyoming on a stretcher. She was

U. S. Inspectors Who Passed Ship Are Under Fire

EXAMINED UNDER AMERICAN LAWS

Inspection Required As To Seaworthiness Before Leaving Port

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
(Copyright 1928 by International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The independent investigation which the United States Steamboat Inspecion Service has launched into the Vestris disaster is aimed solely at determining whether the American inspectors, who pa'd the ship's departure from New York last Saturday did their duty.

This fact, and the additional fact that the Vestris was inspected under American laws, not British laws, was disclosed to International News Service today by Dickerson N. Hoover, inspector general of the United States steamboat inspection service.

Under U. S. Laws

The Vestris, although of British registry, did not carry a British certificate, Hoover said, because she plied principally between American and South and Central American ports, rarely touching British ports. Consequently she was examined under American laws.

"The Vestris was inspected as to her seaworthiness," said Hoover. "The inspectors peresumably made a thorough inspection of the hull, the life saving facilities, the fire fighting equipment, and the boilers—all to determine whether the vessel was sea-

Truck Driver Meets Death As Aftermath To Train Derailing

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 16.—As an aftermath of a minor accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad here, Frank Jackson, truck driver, lost his life today.

An engine was derailed near a crossing. A wrecking crew, trying to put the engine back on the tracks, had strung a wire cable across the street in front of the crossing. Jackson evidently failing to see the cable, drove his truck into the taut wire, striking with such force that he was catapulted from his seat to the ground. He suffered a fractured skull and died shortly after the accident.

Locomotive Hits Coal Truck On Private Crossing At Dixmont

William N. Gore, aged 35, of 105 East Clayton street, this city, fireman on a Pittsburgh-Sharon passenger train of the Pennsylvania railroad, died in the Sewickley Valley hospital at 4:44 o'clock this morning as a result of injuries sustained when he leaped from his locomotive as the train plowed into a coal truck at Dixmont station late on Thursday afternoon.

According to a telephone report reaching E. & A. division headquarters here, Gore sustained a compound fracture of the ankle, scalp wounds and probably a fractured skull when he leaped from his cab. He was rushed to the hospital, where death occurred early today.

The train struck just as the truck reached a private crossing at the Dixmont hospital power house. At the impact the local fireman leaped free of the locomotive, but in so doing sustained fatal injuries.

Driver Unhurt

Reports say that Howard Davidson of Clinton, driver of the truck, owned by A. L. McCartney of Carnot station, escaped uninjured, but the truck was demolished and the

Husband And Two Small Children Escape; But Mother Is Burned To Death

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—Lying half-suffocated under a bed, Mrs. Margaret Dugan, 23, mother of two small children, was burned to death early today while her husband and children escaped.

An over-heated oil stove set fire to their two-story dwelling. Dugan searched for his wife but was unable to find her and believing she had escaped, tossed his children to neighbors waiting in the street below and jumped to safety. Firemen extinguished the flames and found the young wife, her body scorched beyond recognition, under a bed.

Now gone are the days of the cotton hose, and the days of the stocking of lisle, for milady refuses to wear such things, the answer is they are not style. And the hose they are wearing are nothing but silk, sheer nothing it seems that they wear, and brother look out when they get in your car, for these silk things will easily tear. Just a tick at the top and runner begins and the stocking is ruined you know, and you're probably stuck for another new pair, and they cost you a plenty of dough. Oh bring back the days when the lisle hose was worn, for if lisle stockings snagged now and then, you could easily fix things by buying some new, and you got them in some five and ten. But these silk hose are flimsy and tear with a glance, and the smart thing to do is to pay, but they cost plenty cash for a pair you may know, its warm, sixty-seven today.

New Report On Sinking Cause

Cracked Sea Valve In Fire Room Is Explanation Of Stokers

DELAYED S. O. S. IS BLAMED FOR DEATHS

(International News Service)

NOFOLK, Va., Nov. 16.—The mystery of what caused the list of the Lamport and Holt liner Vestris soon after she sailed from New York on her tragic voyage was partially cleared up today by stories told naval officers aboard the battleship Wyoming.

It was a cracked sea valve in the fire room, according to stokers aboard the Vestris. This valve was cracked when the Vestris sailed from New York, according to the stokers, and it burst soon after the vessel cleared, allowing the sea to flood the hold. This caused the list, and with the list, which constantly became greater, the cargo began to shift and this great sliding weight merely hastened the inevitable.

"The ship started to list badly early Sunday morning, according to what the stokers told me," said Commander Simpson, executive officer of the Wyoming. "They said the valve was cracked when they left New York, and that as a matter of fact there was some discussion as to whether to sail or not."

Undoubtedly, the Wyoming's officers said, if Capt. William F. Carey had sent out his call for help early Sunday morning when the list became pronounced, it would have resulted in the saving of many more, perhaps all, the lives aboard the Vestris.

The broken valve, through which the sea poured steadily, caused the starboard coal hatch to give way, another of the stokers told the naval officers, and this also hastened the end.

As early as Sunday morning, it was reported, one of the passengers became alarmed and went to Capt. Carey, but could get no satisfaction.

"One of the women told me her husband begged the ship's officers to do something," said Commander Simpson, "but nothing was done."

Contractor Explains

"We shouldn't be blamed for the locker condition," said Mr. Gilfillan. "The unions raised the question of the installation of them, claiming that it was work for the sheet metal workers. I asked the unions to furnish me with men, but they couldn't, and I finally got one man. The lockers will be finished this week.

"The rail that goes around the swimming pool has a special finish which is hard to get. After we did get the rail there had to be some changes made.

"We have some complaint against the school board," continued Mr. Gilfillan. "You have held me up three months on the elevator and my terazza man has been here three times and has had to leave. He will have to come back again before we can get finished. The cafeteria is ready as far as our work goes. In the matter of decorating the auditorium, you are spending $4,000 of the taxpayers' money for it and you want a good job done. It would be foolish to decorate before the plastering is thoroughly dried out. It is 10 weeks since we finished plastering the auditorium, but you have never furnished heat. Someone is to blame and I am working for you and look to you for such things. As to the swimming pool, our work has been finished there for six weeks. I am as much interested in the building as you and I want to see it completed in a creditable manner."

Heating To Be Pushed

W. M. Clark, in charge of the heating for the building, was the next contractor. He said: "I have no alibi to offer for my part in the delay. The thing that I want to do is get the job done. Most of our work must wait on the other contractors and we can't hurry the work by putting on more men. The radiators will be installed by Friday and we will get the fan in the auditorium as quickly as we can."

Earl Young represented the Ochiltree Electric Company. "In our work," said Mr. Young, "there are only about 10 lights in the building not up. We have had to interrupt classes a very little, and in some cases have given temporary lighting to rooms where it was needed."

Asked by Mr. Duff if it were true that wire had been drawn through conduit that was too small, Mr. Young admitted that it had been done, and said that this work was being torn out. He said that it would take two men about 10 days to rectify the errors of this sort.

Walter E. Withers, president of the R. T. Withers Son Co., said: "We have no alibi to offer. If the rest of the work is slow ours will be slow also, for we follow the other lines. Insofar as we are concerned the cafeteria will be finished Friday. In the swimming pool we are through. The chlorine tank has not been installed yet, but will be soon. All our work should be through in about two weeks."

Following the last speaker the contractors left and the board discussed the matters somewhat. Mr. Duff said he thought the heating contractor was a little more to blame than the rest of them and said that the work should be speeded.

A little later the matter of paying the contractors part of their money came up. J. Herb McIlvenny moved to lay the estimates over for a month and Hyde seconded it. This would have held up payment for at least a month. Mr. Hyde argued that this was probably the only way to get the contractors to speed up the work. Some argument ensued, some of the board feeling that this might tend to slow the work up even more. On the vote Douthett, Duff, Hazen and Ligo voted not to lay the estimates over, Hyde and McIlvenny voted to lay them over and Mrs. Nothdurft did not vote.

A motion was then offered to pay the contractors their money, and on this vote Douthett, Duff, Hazen and Ligo voted in the affirmative, Hyde and McIlvenny in the negative, and Mrs. Nothdurft did not vote. The vote being four affirmative and two negative, Solicitor William J. Moffatt was asked for an opinion. He ruled that the vote on a matter of this kind need be but a majority of those present and the warrants were ordered drawn.

WILLIAM N. GORE DIES EARLY TODAY AFTER ACCIDENT

locomotive damaged to some extent.

According to divisional offices here, Gore had been employed by the Pennsylvania railroad since 1920. At one time during the early part of the summer Gore had been given a furlough, and it was but last July that he had returned to Pennsylvania service.

After the impact with the truck, reports say that the locomotive did not leave the rails. C. R. Riley of Linesville, the engineer, who remained in the cab when the collision was evident, was not injured.

Send Word to Wife

It was stated at E. & A. offices that word has been sent to Mr. Gore's wife and that arrangements are being made for the transfer of the body. Mrs. Gore was in Akron at the time of the accident.

W. N. Gore and wife, Nora P. Lanning Gore, had been residents of the seventh ward about six years. Last spring Mr. and Mrs. Gore and three children, Eileen, four; Harold, three, and William, one, left here and went to Hendersonville, near Nashville, Tenn., to make their home. In July Mr. Gore, who had been an employee of the Pennsylvania railroad as fireman, was called back to work here. Mr. Gore returned here and has been working since and roomed in the ward.

Mrs. Gore and children remained in Tennessee until about a month ago, when they came this way to visit. Last week they spent in the ward, leaving here last Saturday to visit with Mrs. Gore's sister at Akron, O., planning to visit there and at Philadelphia and then go on to Tennessee. Mr. and Mrs. Gore were planning to make their home in Tennessee. Mrs. Gore was reached at her sister's home at Akron, O., and last evening while en route to the Sewickley hospital stopped in the city and was here a short time.

Surviving Mr. Gore are his wife, the three children, his father and several brothers and sisters.

utterly broken. The others were able to walk with assistance.

Lifeboat No. 8 was the centre of one of the real tragedies of the disaster. Major Inouye and his wife, and Norman Batten and his wife all made this boat, along with Mrs. Ulrich and Mrs. Rua. Bailing would not suffice, and over the boat went in the heavy sea. Half a dozen times, the survivors said, they succeeded in righting the boat, only to have another wave capsize it again.

Finally all were exhausted, and at the end of 15 hours, most of the time spent struggling in the water, the Japanese officer's head rolled to one side and he died while his wife struggled to keep his head clear of the water.

The death of Batten, the race driver, was similar.

Naval officers said the women survived because they had not struggled so fiercely against the heavy odds and worn themselves out. It was during the struggle with the overturned boat that the negroes came along, clinging to an improvised raft, fashioned with broken boxes and timbers. They kept the boat afloat and kept up the spirits of the women.

One woman, unidentified, died before the Wyoming hove into view. Her body slipped from the side of the boat and went down.

Mrs. Batten said she had endeavored to get into one of the lifeboats that passed near her as she struggled in the water but that somebody shoved an oar in her face and thrust her off.

with foul play, or that he wandered off mentally deranged, by a highly nervous temperament.

Dissension has been rife in Van Loon's congregation for many weeks, members of the church say. The principal cause of this was the ousting of John J. Thompson, superintendent of the Sunday school in the church, as choir director.

Affairs, it is said, had reached a point where it became apparent either Thompson or Van Loon would have to leave the church. Feeling was tempered somewhat by Van Loon's recent announcement that he intended to go on an evangelistic tour in the spring.

Thompson, as police commissioner on the Berkley village commission, now is directing the hunt for the "disappearing pastor."

That spectacular upward leap in stocks yesterday showed that the financial interests of the country placed the stamp of approval on the nation's choice.

HAVE A HEART

THERE are not so many shopping days before Christmas as there were when first you were asked to do your Christmas buying early, and there is no hope that the number is going to increase between now and midnight of the twenty-fourth. Nor will prices be reduced; nor will the quality of the goods now on the shelves increase. So why linger and delay?

Perhaps there are those who believe that "Do your Christmas shopping early" is a slogan devised by merchants who thought they would sell more goods if people bought early, and then took thought, and discovered that there was more buying they ought to do. But while that doubtless occurred to the merchants, it was not by any means the controlling motive that inspired the shop-early propaganda which greets us annually.

The fact is, the request for early Christmas shopping came, first, chiefly from the post offices, the express companies, the railroads and the sales and delivery people, all of whom found themselves swamped by a tidal wave that hit them suddenly and left them devastated. Some way had to be found for controlling this tide, for distributing its volume. So an attempt was made to educate the public into buying early and shipping early.

The merchant, desiring to serve his public well, asks the public to help him to do so by distributing Christmas buying over as long a period as possible.

So it behooves the public, since it wants good service, to remember that the chief element in that service is the human element and that the human machine breaks under undue strain just like any piece of machinery. And because there is a human element involved, and because Christmas is a time for special charity to all humans, it is only reasonable that shoppers and shippers be considerate of the store clerk, the postal employe and the servants of the express companies and railways. They want to enjoy Christmas, too. Why make the Yuletide hateful to them? Have a heart. Do your Christmas shopping early.

THE OBSTRUCTIONIST

SINCE the beginning of human history, recorded and unrecorded, there have been members of every community who have stood in the way of progress, some for selfish reasons, others because of lack of vision. Their part in life seems to be throwing the wrench into the machinery.

All great builders, whether of empire, magnificent cities or large institutions, have had to overcome obstacles created by the visionless. Railroads, steamships, automobiles, airplanes, telephones and all the other gifts of inventive and industrial genius to man were depreciated and retarded by these four-wheel brakes of progress.

Obstructionists and reactionaries play havoc with community progress. Given the opportunity, they tear down faster than others can build. They resist every forward step, often just for the sake of going on record as being an objector. Though they are ignored by the knowing, the harm they do is considerable and too often underestimated.

That man is not a good citizen who opposes a necessary public improvement because it does not directly increase the value of his property. That man is not a good citizen who prefers only to aid out-of-town business and industry. That man is not an asset to his home town who is blind to all but its blemishes.

There is no room in New Castle for the obstructionist.

A DISTANT CONSTITUENCY

The unusual interest taken by so many foreign nations in Mr. Hoover's election reminds Americans that for the first time in the history of the United States a man has been chosen for a first term as president who before his nomination had any considerable world fame. Washington was the name of a Revolutionary leader, known by only a few beyond the western borders of Europe. Lafayette heard it in Metz. Jefferson's renown reached as far as Paris. After these none save the names of Jackson and Grant had traveled far, and they were doubtless not heard at all till much later out in the Orient. In the case of Mr. Hoover, there are probably as many millions outside of the United States to whom his name and service are known as voted for him in last Tuesday's election.

There must still be living a few thousand at least whom he protected and fed in Tientsin during the days and nights of the Boxer rebellion, when he had his first experience in caring for helpless refugees. A few thousand more in another part of China must still remember with some degree of gratitude a young American engineer. Here and there all the way from the Far East across the Urals back to Mexico, there are scattered groups to whom the campaign posters, if they could be seen, would also bring back some memory of the sturdy figure that has stood before great audiences in the last few weeks. There were other thousands who remember his help at the beginning of the war.

The thousands were multiplied into 10,000,000 when he began the provisioning of the Belgian people. And there must be 2,000,000 children, some now approaching young manhood and womanhood, in Belgium who cherish the name of the man who saw to it that they had an extra ration daily during those years of hardship. With them are millions more in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, Poland, Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, many of whom would have perished but for the relief which was gathered and administered under his direction. Add to these the millions of parents concerned for the fate of these children and the 12,000,000 persons to whom food was systematically distributed in Russia, and the number mounts even beyond that of our election returns.

While he would claim but little of the credit for all this for himself, Mr. Hoover's name is lastingly associated with every item of this greatest relief effort the world has ever known. A traveller recalls seeing in Odessa in 1923, when the A. R. A. was leaving Russia, a sign stretched all the way across the front of a hospital bearing in Russian letters the name of Herbert Hoover. That is but suggestive of the grateful affection with which that name is cherished from the North Sea to the Black Sea, and even beyond. There is a great constituency over the seas bound to America by that name and the service associated with it.—New York Times.

Good Soup, Good Service.
Wall St. In Wonderland.
National City, Flying.
Ford In England.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Chefs of many hotels competed in New York to see which could make the best soup. Six wise men, including Clarence H. Mackay's French chef, Combes, allotted first prize to E. Alliot.

That competition means more to human welfare than the average man realizes, more, for instance, than any Olympic competition.

Soups contain vitamines and other valuable nourishment and stimulate the flow of digestive fluids. To manufacture good soup and sell a great deal of it is to render public service.

Usual Wall street doings Wednesday, with a touch of heart failure in the last hour. "The boys," their exchange seats worth $500,000 and going up, and stocks going Heaven knows where, with more orders than they can fill, feel like "Alice in Wonderland."

Occasionally they pinch themselves to make sure they are awake. Then stocks waver a minute.

Don't gamble, and, above all, don't sell short.

"Big Steel," producing more iron and steel than any European nation, goes climbing up. It went above 170 Wednesday.

Some time before he died, the late Judge Elbert Gary said to this writer, "Tel our friend Nathan Straus, to buy plenty of steel stock and keep it for his grandchildren." Steel was selling then at about 80. With the 40 per cent stock dividend, a thousand shares of Steel that could then be bought for $80,000 would have been worth yesterday $238,000.

Get something good in the United States, real estate or securities. Take care of it, and it will take care of you.

Col. Deeds, of Dayton, important supporter of aviation in words and in deeds, is made a director of the National City Bank.

This means that Charles E. Mitchell's gigantic institution, biggest financial unit in the world, takes a serious interest in aviation—a good thing for aviation and the country.

Henry Ford, still branching out, purchases a site on the Thames in England, a mile deep, and establishes enormous show rooms in the heart of London.

Mr. Ford makes a separate company of his Canadian business in which stock can be bought, the present price being $610. It was about half that a year or so ago.

Mr. Ford may start a separate British company for the British Ford business. Use your judgment about buying some stock in that concern, if you can get any.

British labor rejoices. On construction work, alone, Ford's new plant will employ thousands of men for the next three years, and when finished, provide jobs for 10,000. And they will get wages that Britain hasn't known thus far.

Ford expects to turn out in the beginning 200,000 a year in his British plant, about double the total number of automobiles produced in England now.

That will help the British to understand why the United States is prosperous.

Somebody asked: "What would Europe do if we were in difficulties and needed help?"

"Will Rogers replies: "Europe would hold a celebration."

Of many European countries including all the big countries, that would be literally true.

The deep sorrow that a dragoman on the Nile feels when a rival boat runs on the mud would be duplicated in Europe's capitals if this country "ran on the mud." But, fortunately, it won't do that.

There is nothing in that to make us bitter, but there is everything to make us cautious and keep us PREPARED.

Walter Olson, 21-year-old farmer in Illinois, wins the national corn husking championship, averaging 40 to 44 ears a minute, picking up 26.62 bushels in 80 minutes.

There are few Olsons, and farmers should investigate a machine in which this writer, also a farmer, has recently invested.

It grinds cornstalks, husks, stalks, corn and all to fine powder, and saves husking. You stack the stalks near the barn, grind them as needed. No part of the stalk is wasted. Ask your dealer, get the machine on trial if you can.

Some European statesmen foresee "danger of a race in armaments between the United States and European countries."

So far as this country is concerned there need be no race. In any case, there will be no DANGER.

We need enough airplanes, submarines and fast cruisers, first to defend the United States; second, to punish, in exemplary fashion, anybody foolish enough to attack the United States.

To have what we need, it is only necessary to invest in armaments one of the billions that we send each year in loans to Europe.

The expense means nothing to this country. Uncle Sam competing with Europe, is like Standard Oil competing with an individual gas station owner.

It appears certain that Mars is not inhabited. Any lady on being addressed as "the big-eared woman" certainly would have something to say in reply.—The Seattle Daily Times.

IN VIRGINIA

Writing from Virginia Beach, Virginia, where he is attending a publishers convention, to J. F. Rentz, Fred L. Rentz, president of The News, company tells of interesting sights:

Sunday evening, 9:30, Nov. 11, 1928.
Dear Jake:

Got to Washington, D. C. at 8:50 Sunday morning. Hired an automobile like all rubes do and we happened to be at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery when President and Mrs. Coolidge placed the wreath on the Tomb. Every branch of the army and navy was represented there by a company of men. The Marine band was there. Not three hundred people were present outside the soldiers. As the President and his party approached through guarded lanes of troops the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner." It was a grand and spectacular event as we stood there in the bright sunshine. It was an event never to be forgotten by those seeing it. The President and his wife were surrounded at all times with soldiers and a few distinguished looking men wearing high hats. Jake I would not want to be President. It has too much being watched with it. He has not as much privacy as a gold fish.

We left Washington at 12:01 for Virginia Beach which lies about 20 miles from Norfolk. We are at the Cavalier Hotel. It was dark when we got here and we have not seen the outside of it yet. I hear the ocean roaring as I write this.

The foliage on the trees along the railroad was ravishingly beautiful. Many of the trees are still green and the setting with the green and many other colors are beyond description. We saw thousands of acres of peanuts. They are shocked up in the fields. A stake is set in the ground and the vines are piled up four or five feet high around the stake. The nuts are left on the vines so they will dry. I had never seen anything like these shocks before and naturally displayed my ignorance by asking what the peculiar looking shocks were. I will find out how they get the crop ready for market after being stacked up.

Newspaper publishers are here from all over the United States. Some of the Southerners are sore because Smith was not elected. The South is a good place for Republicans to say little so my policy will be to keep away from talking politics.

We are both fine.

Lovingly,
DAD.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

POOR ROADS—POOR ECONOMY.

Road builders of Iowa are wiping out dirt roads at the rate of six miles a day, according to the Iowa State Highway Commission. With 600 miles of first-class pavement completed by August 31, it is believed that the state will have added 700 more miles of pavements to the primary system when the current road building season is finished. This will exceed the best previous year's achievement by 375 miles.

All states are not eliminating dirt roads at the pace of Iowa, and only few are at present equalling or bettering the state's progress. However, changes and improvements in methods of road financing and planning are being instituted that bid fair to bring duplication of the spirit of Iowa. Heavily traveled dirt and gravel roads must go for they constitute an expensive non-luxury gnawing at the taxpayer-motorists's pocketbook.

A traffic of 500 vehicles a day, according to N. M. Isabella, Wisconsin maintenance engineer, will wear away at least an inch of gravel in the course of a year. The yearly loss per mile of 18-foot gravel road is 400 cubic yards of material, which at $2 a yards, brings the total yearly loss to around $800 a mile.

Maintenance cost of inferior highways often runs much higher than this. Consequently, the placement of hard pavement eliminates a fixed lost-material charge, which is replaced by an almost negligible surface repair charge. Iowa reports that 940 miles of hard pavement primary road system were maintained at an average cost of only $247 a mile.

Ancient And Modern Linked In Hirohito's Enthronement

Occidental World Marvels At Unique Combination Of Twentieth Century Progress With Formalities Five Thousand Years Old

Japan's unique intermingling of the ultra-modern in actual progress with its ancient traditions of government and ceremony never was more strikingly impressed upon the occidental world than by the awesome formalities attending the enthronement of Emperor Hirohito.

The ceremony is described in the Columbia State as "unquestionably the grandest, most glamorous and resplendent in all history" and that paper says of its significance: "The Japanese are careful to distinguish this great rite from what the West calls a 'coronation', the placing of a crown upon royal brows. It is, indeed, something far more immense and impressive than any western coronations, and the significance is vaster and profounder. Here is crowned no mere human being, no mere successful military leader or conquistador, no mere scion of a transient dynasty. These personages are exalted, half-gods, soon to be full gods of the Shinto heavens, and in the long procession of 'Imperial Ancestors', chief deities of the Japanese pantheon. They are condescending to be enthroned in the seat of their imperial fathers who have ruled and owned Yamato from its creation—at least, even in the strict historical sense, for generations and millenniums more remote than any dynasty or royal family or even people of Europe."

"Though the emperor still governs by divine sanction," the Chicago Daily News says "the nation of which he is sovereign has been democratizing itself and adopting ways called western with astonishing rapidity and effectiveness," and adds: "Japanese thinkers say frankly that they see no virtue in misty distinctions between occidentalism and orientalism. They adopt sound ideas wherever found provided these can be applied with benefit to conditions in their own country. They believe that civilization is monistic, not pluralistic and that justice, good will and progress mean exactly the same things all over the world. They wish to be judged by universal and permanent standards, as well as by the fruits of their diplomacy and their internal policies. This is a legitimate demand. The western nations are learning to respect it."

"Seldom", remarks the Washington Star, "do contemporary humans have the privileve of standing by at so romantic a blending of 20th century environment with rites rooted in the sacred customs of 2,700 years. Nowhere but in Nippon would such a spectacle be possible. * * * It is difficult for Occidentals to appreciate in its full magnitude the idolatrous devotion of the Japanese to their imperial house and its hoary traditions. Patriotism in no land mounts to nobler heights. * * * America wishes Hirohito and his consort well. Our relations with their realm are cordial and mutually remunerative. Truly silken ties unite Japan and the United States. Our imports of her raw silk constitute almost the bedrock of Japanese national prosperity."

"In its mingling of the ultra-modern with a tradition drawn from prehistoric antiquity," states the Springfield Republican, "Japan is unique among the nations, and the ferment which has been going on for two generations is likely to be intensified under the reign of Hirohito. Amid the splendor of the enthronement it might be possible to imagine that nothing had changed, but the spectators emerged after the spectacle into a real world where everything changes in spite of edicts against 'dangerous thought'. Even the position of the emperor is not what it used to be, although it is doubtless to some extent what personal quality makes of it, and Hirohito has already shown that he is not to be a mere figurehead."

Pointing out that Hirohito has been regent during the several years of his father's illness, the San Antonio Express lauds his progressive spirit. Of the relations between Japan and the United States the Texas paper observes: "Japan greatly depends on its exports to the United States, which average 400 million dollars a year and run from 40 to 45 per cent of all Japanese sales abroad. Between 1922 and 1927 this country bought more goods from the Mikado's realm than did all the peoples in Asia and Japan is an excellent customer here. This profitable business for both countries is a potent factor in maintaining peace."

Special qualifications of the new ruler are described by the Philadelphia Record, which finds as to his preparation: "Hirohito is well versed in foreign affairs. He is the first ruler of Japan to have visited the western world, having made a tour of Europe in 1914. Since he came to manhood he has made a close study of international affairs and is said to be in sympathy with western methods and western political ideas. His friendly attitude toward the United States has been demonstrated on more than one occasion. This country can do no less than salute the new Emperor and wish him peace and prosperity in his time."

The expenditure of millions of dollars on the ceremony is viewed by the Providence Bulletin as evidence of the new monarch's acquaintance with business methods, and also as showing that the people themselves believe they are "getting their money's worth". That paper says of the underlying wisdom: "It wouldn't be at all surprising if the youthful Emperor, who has had his learning abroad and knows a thing or two about modern economics, had calculated this elaborate carnival fully as much in the spirit of good business as of an antique rite. For he must know that prosperity with its radios, automobiles, installment buying and Emperor's expensive robes is after all largely a state of mind."

Importance is seen by the Chattanooga News in the fact that the Emperor "speaks and writes English, German and French, eats foreign food with European silverware, and is in all ways thoroughly modern." And The News continues: "Hirohito faces many problems, prominent among which is the Shantung dispute. The menace to Japan in Manchuria and the breaking of the Chinese boycott must be handled. In the homeland he must attempt to stabilize the yen and rebuild the silk industry. His empire's relations with the occidental world are, happily, cordial, and there are no clouds in the sky."

MAKING A PLEASANTER HOME

The National Retail Furniture association is putting on a campaign to make a better American home—more truly interpreting culture and ideals. Now this is a big thing for big business to do. It is turning practical machinery and a practical program into the service of idealism. Nobody can do more for culture in America than the merchant. He has a tremendous influence on taste.

ICE CREAM

The New York Gazette on May 19, 1788, carried an advertisement for ice cream. It was the first advertisement of its kind in America. In spite of this notice, however, the American people didn't take kindly to ice cream for a hundred years. But when it caught on it caught on to stay. Today we, the people, spend $800,000,000 a year on ice cream. So recently as 1910 we ate only about a gallon per inhabitant. Now it is almost three gallons per capita.

We are an ice cream people and we make no mistake. It is one of the first loves of the healthy and often the last refuge of the dyspeptic.

INSIDE WARS

Tong wars among Chinese residents of this country, mountain feuds, gangster murders, and kindred crimes are evidence that men are far from completely civilized. One reason we have these inside wars is that nations officially have set such a bad example through the centuries. As long as international quarrels and feuds are settled by organized killing we must expect to have private quarrels settled the same way. Inside wars are the outgrowth of outside wars.

CENSORED

Every printed thing in Russia, from the label on a beer bottle to the 450,000 circulation of the principal newspaper in Moscow, is censored. All the newspapers in Russia exist principally for promoting the ideas of the communist government. People may think freely in Russia—if they keep their mouths shut and do not write for the newspapers. In America we have freedom of speech and freedom of the press. Sometimes we get a little critical of both speech and press but this very freedom is one of the fundamental differences between the comfort of the American republic and the wretchedness of the communist form of government.

America long ago began importing good cooks from Europe. American restaurant and hotel proprietors paying good salaries, got the best cooks in Europe. Now they're getting scarce. We won't worry much about that. At least most of us in America have the food to cook.

THE LITTLE BOY WHO WAS LEFT OUT

The little fellow chanced to see
A picture of his Ma and me
And sister Jane within a frame.
'Twas taken long before he came.
He strangely started in to cry.
We gazed at him and wondered why.

"What's wrong," I asked, "that you should bawl
Before that picture on the wall?
Come here, you lovely little chap,
And sit upon your daddy's lap
And tell him why this flood of tears
So very suddenly appears."

"It isn't right, it isn't fair,"
He sobbed. "My picture isn't there,"
And then he started in to shout:
"Why was it that you left me out?"
Nor did it soothe his grief that morn
To tell him that he wasn't born.

"If Jane was born, why wasn't I?"
To that I couldn't make reply.
"You must have known that I'd be late,
I don't see why you didn't wait."
I found it was too great a task
To answer questions he could ask.

Famous English Authors Hauled From Pedestals

reat Writers Being Subjected To Barrage From Young Thinkers

ILGRIMS PROGRESS IS NOW UNDER FIRE

t Heart John Bunyan Was A Tyrant, Says Alfred Noyes, Critic

By J. KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 16.—England's great riters are being subjected to a barage of vehement criticism by modrn British literary intellects.

The latest to be dragged from a pedestal of what was almost destined be immortal glory is John Bunan.

His far-famed "Pilgrim's Progress," classic for nearly three hundred ears, is bitterly attacked by Alfred Noyes, one of the foremost of Britain's present day poets.

Referring to the author as "Caliban-Bunyan," Noyes says of his book:

No Original Thought

"It displays not a single gleam of original thought or insight into the spiritual world. The dominating motive of 'Pilgrim's Progress' is fear. Not that fear of God which is the beginning of wisdom, but the fear of fire and brimstone.

"It is, in fact, one of those piously repulsive books which in former generations were used by well-meaning but foolish adults to fill the minds of little children with hideous ideas of hell fire.

"We can hardly wonder what religion in England has fallen on evil days when the young minds have been led to believe that this stuff is the best that is known and thought in the world."

The only decent men in the book in Noyes belief were Mr. Ignorance, Mr. Talkative, and Mr. Atheism. He refers to "Christian" as despicable, and says that every good turn he did was prompted by fear.

Coming around to Bunyan himself, the poet goes so far as to allege he was mentally unbalanced.

Familiar Signs

"When one looks at poor Caliban-Bunyan there are signs all too familiar to asylum doctors. He wanted to pray to broomsticks, to a bull, and to Satan. He wished to be a toad, because toads have not souls, and he thought he was going to burst asunder like Judas. His astonishingly innocent biographers talk as if these well-known symptoms were a confirmation of his spiritual apostleship.

"Theye merely confirm our horror that the minds of little children should be fed on his hallucinations.

"Bunyan, if he had been granted the power, would have been one of the most abominable tyrants that ever set an ignorant heel on his neighbor's throat."

AGE NO BARRIER TO GREAT POWER OF NEW KONJOLA

Grateful Citizen of New Castle, Age 77, Reports Amazing Results From Three Bottles of New Medicine.

MR. JOHN B. HUNTER.

Years are no barrier to the health-giving powers of Konjola the new medicine, and all over the land young and old, the child and the men or women in the seventies and eighties bread their voices in the praises of this supercompound for ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Just how Konjola can succeed where all else fails; how it triumphs where other medicines and treatments are dismal disappointments, is being explained by the Konjola Man, who is at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 Washington street, New Castle, daily. There he is meeting all who suffer, and who come to know about this wondrous medicine about which everyone is talking. He has a message of hope and cheer for all who suffer; not mere words and glibly spoken promises, but actual facts in the astonishing history of this super-medicine.

The files of Konjola fairly overflow with statements like this one from Mr. John B. Hunter, 309 Crofer street, this city, who said to the Konjola Man a few days ago:

"I thought that at my age, 77, and after trying in vain to find relief from stomach troubles in the end of medicines and treatments, that my case surely must be beyond relief. But this splendid Konjola proved to be the very medicine I had always needed, for it gave the first and only relief I ever had from my distressing condition. For years my indigestion grew worse, and as I got no benefits from the food I could manage to eat, I felt my strength and vitality ebbing fast. I am a mechanic, and my work requires a certain amount of physical strength. I realized that something must be done, but what was it to be? I had tried everything.

"What I read and heard about Konjola impressed me, and I mustered up enough hope and courage to take a chance on another disappointment. But Konjola gave me a real surprise party. No one can imagine my amazement and happiness to find my indigestion gone after I had taken only three bottles of Konjola. I could scarcely believe that I, who had suffered so long, could sit down and eat the foods I had to deny myself for so long. Konjola not only drove my stomach troubles away, but toned my liver, kidneys and bowels, and is now acting on my system as the most wonderful tonic I ever struck. Any medicine that can do this for a man of 77 surely deserves to be known as the Master medicine."

Konjola, though it contains no alcohol, nerve-deadening drugs or heart-depressing chemicals, soothes the nerves, enriches the bloodstream, banishes pain, cleanses the system of poisons, and aid Nature to restore lost health. Results from Konjola come to stay; Konjola is not to give mere temporary relief.

Konjola contains juices from 22 plants—more than other medicines. It is a new compound that works with the sufferer's food, restoring more healthful action to the important organs (stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels) and producing new energy and glorious health in a natural way, thru the entire inner-system.

Law Is Urged To Hold Drug Addicts For Medical Care

New York Congressman Uniform Legislation Throughout United States

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A uniform law throughout the nation which would permit detention of drug addicts while undergoing treatment was urged today at the annual conference of the Narcotic Rehabilitation Association.

Such a law is the greatest need now, said Dr. John J. Kindred, congressman from Queens county, who also urged that such a law provide for proper environment during and after treatment.

At the present time there is no legal means of compelling an addict to go through with treatments once they have begun them, he said.

Dr. Kindred estimated those addicted to drugs as numbering possibly 1,000,000 in the United States.

Assistant District Attorney Todarelli, of New York, declared that eighty-five per cent of all smuggled drugs other than smoking opium entered America at or near the port of New York, and that added narcotic enforcements agents should be provided by the government to stop the evil.

"Devil Trees" Believed Abodes Of Evil Spirits

Primitive People In Tropical Countries Either Fear Or Worship Them

"If you aren't good the devil tree will get you," or words to that effect, may be the warning given to children by mothers of some of the wild native tribes of Africa, Asia, Java, Madagascar and the back country of Australia. Certain trees are believed to be bewitched, the abodes of devils or evil spirits.

Among the trees about which such superstitiitions have been arisen are the silk cottons, a family of many species found in various tropical climes. They are characterized by large leaves which, by a stretch of the imagination such as primitive peoples are capable of, may be considered to resemble human hands, being divided into four, five or six fingers. They have a large, showy flower with five petals, sometimes a brilliant red, and capsular fruits full of cottony or wooly substance which feels like silk to the touch, whence they get their name.

It is these peculiarities which made them feared or worshipped by natives. The trees are of giant size, and from them are obtained a few economic products, such as balsa wood and kapok, the latter often used in manufacturing mattresses, cushions and life preservers.

A wild story about the existence in Madagascar of a "man-eating tree," which was believed even in Europe and America, was recently proven baseless by investigations of Dr. Ralph Linton, leader of the Captain Marshall Field Madagascar Expedition.

But now, to the utility of the PIECES OF 8 set, has been added the modern beauty of LEGACY . . . the span-new pattern, first to reflect the modern art in silverware.

Ship Listed Says Engineer As Probe Started Thursday

Was Convinced For Hours That Vestris Was In Danger; Cries On Stand

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—"The Vestris listed decidedly toward the starboard side for hours before the disaster," Frank W. Pupe, an engineer, testified Thursday afternoon at the opening of the federal investigation of the sinking of the steamship with a loss of more than 100 lives.

The hearing was held before United States Commissioner James O'Neill in the federal building.

Pupe said he was convinced for hours that the ship was in grave danger and that he could tell because he "was familiar with engineering matters."

The witness cried on the witness stand as he gave his story. He had lost his wife and baby in the disaster.

Make Progress On Nurses Home

Floors Being Laid On All Three Stories; Old Mantle Is Installed

Progressing almost as fast as the main building, the Jameson Memorial Nurses Home, connected with the new Jameson Memorial hospital on West Leasure, will be completed at practically the same time as the main building, states Superintendent of Construction James H. Blair.

At the present time the nurses home is in practically the same condition as the hospital. Floors are being laid on all of the three stories of the building, while marble work is being placed in the lavatories. On then outside painters are painting the freshly glazed window sashes, while other workmen are grading the lawn.

One of the features of the nurses home is an old mantle placed in the main living room, which, it is said, is over 100 years old and has been imported from Europe. This is carefully protected now so that the workmen will not injure it.

All of the plastering in the nurses home, with the exception of one small room on the third story, has been completed, and at the present rate of progress floors will be completed throughout the building within a week.

In a short time, Mr. Blair states, steam fitters will set the radiators and connect them with the steam line which is brought through a tunnel from the main building.

Senator Vare's Status Uncertain

Convening Of Congress To Bring Question To Fore Again

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—With the convening of congress only two weeks distant, politicians of the capital city are once more turning to the discusison of the case of Senator-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania. Bets as to Mr. Vare's ability to convince the senate that he should be seated are apparently almost even.

Senator-elect Vare is a Hoover man, of that there can be little doubt. At Kansas City he did much to cause the landslide of committeemen for the commerce secretary.

In fact, for many weeks following the convention, Democrats and other wise men of Washington liked to refer to the campaign as the Hoo-Vare combine.

But whether Senator Vare helped his own cause in supporting Hoover remains a matter of conjecture. It will be the senate which will seat Vare if he is seated. The president can do little.

And it is a recognized fact here that not all of the Republican senators are exactly friendly to Hoover. In fact, many of them are frankly hostile. And because of their hostility to Mr. Hoover and Vare's apparent affection for the president-elect, these same Republicans may join with the Democrats of the senate in a vote of opposition that may bar Mr. Vare from the senate once more and leave Pennsylvania with only one representative and only one vote in the senate chamber.

Peter's Adventures in Animal Land

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A VOTE OF THANKS.

"So am I" cried Peter. "Mrs. Rabbit you have made me ashamed of myself for finding fault with the Bobolinks after they have been so kind to us.

"Let's give them a vote of thanks—they'll hear it, I guess."

"It was sort of mean to find fault with them after they'd been so good to us!" muttered Sonny-Bunny. "There, let's not talk about it any more. The afternoon is still young. How about taking a trip to the cabbage patch mother? I am as hungry as a fox. Perhaps we can find some carrots to take home to dad."

"Two for yourself, my son and one for your father!" laughed gentle Mrs. Gray Rabbit. "However I will go with you if you wish me to. I have quite an appetite myself, come to think of it. Godby boy. Come and visit the Rabbit Hole whenever you are lonely and don't know what else to do; Sonny-Bunny and I will try to make it pleasant for you."

"You bet we will" agreed the little rabbit heartily. "Come on mother some of the folks may have gotten there first and nibbled off all the choice leaves." Pulling at her long ear Sonny-Bunny tried to drag his mother away and seeing how impatient her small son was Mrs. Gray Rabbit went with him.

Peter was left alone with the dozing Bobolinks and there seemed nothing left for him to do but to take a nap himself. Now that he thought about it the sun was warm and the air delicious—in fact it was exactly the sort of an afternon to take a nap. Why had he blamed the Bobolinks!

"GOOD-BY BOY COME and VISIT The RABBIT HOLE WHENEVER YOU ARE LONELY"

Peter stretched himself out on the soft grass, pulled his cap over his eyes for a screen from the sun and any passing insect that might take a notion to alight on his nose and soon was sound asleep.

Violinist Gives College Program

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 16.—Miss Catherine Wade Smith, violinist, entertained members of the Westminster college student body and faculty last evening in a delightful program, the first of the artist course numbers for the year.

Miss Smith, a solo artist with a number of symphony orchestras and an entertainer well known on Chautauqua circuits, pleased her audience with the playing of Weimiawski's "Fantasy Brilliant" and "La Follia" by Corelli-Kreisler. Color-tone in her interpretation of Poldowski's "Tango" was also provocative of much applause.

Miss Smith was assisted by Dean Remick at the piano.

Is Sent To Prison For Double's Crimes

Massachusetts Man Spends Five Days Behind Bars; Finally Freed

(International News Service)

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 16.—Freed after serving five days behind the grim granite walls of Charleston state's prison for hand-bag snatching crimes he did not commit, Benjamin C. Collins said:

"I bear malice toward none."

His release came about through the arrest of his "double," who faces trial for the offenses first laid to the door of Collins.

Five women identifying witnesses, police and the prosecuting attorney had sent Collins to a felon's cell. But when he learned of the miscarriage of justice District Attorney Robert O. Bushnell quickly applied for a writ of habeas corpus and recommended the freedom, which Collins now enjoys.

"It was terrible to sit in the dock and be helpless to protest against the accusations flung at me by the women witnesses," said Collins. "It was hard to shuffle through the gates of Charleston's states prison, spend the first night in solitary confinement and realize that I was doomed to spend from two and a half to three and a half years there for crimes I never committed. I want to thank District Attorney Bushnell for his fairness and I would like to see my 'double' George Hall, now under arrest."

Foreign Crooks Are Not Vicious

Drugs Account For Difference In Temperment, Detective Claims

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 16.—European crooks are not half as vicious as their American colleagues, but drugs account for the difference according to Harry V. Dougherty, famous crook catcher, head of the detective bureau bearing his name, is now in Europe to study how lawbreakers are apprehended and handled on this side of the Atlantic.

"Criminals are criminals whereever you go, but it seems to me that European bandits do not resort to murder except when in the tightest of corners. Neither did ours—before prohibition. Prohibition made drug addicts, and drug addicts make the desperadoes who nowdays shoot down their victims in cold blood," said Mr. Dougherty.

Four out of every thousand Americans are registered dope addicts, and the number of secret narcotic users is probably twice that ration, in the opinion of the detective.

Stamp Collectors Plan District Meet

All Clubs Of This Area Will Be Represented At Meeting November 23

A district philatelist's meeting, which will attract adult stamp collectors from all over this section of the state, as well as parts of Ohio, will take place at the New Castle Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, November 23, at 8 o'clock, says John R. Dunfee, who will act as temporary chairman of the meeting.

Almost 75 collectors are expected to be present. The idea of the meeting is to weld the adult stamp collectors of this area into one unit, which will have conventions twice a year.

Among the cities to be represented at the meeting are Youngstown, New Castle, East Liverpool, O., Warren, O., Beaver Falls, Butler, Sharon, Farrell, as well as collectors from the rural districts.

"All adult stamp collectors in the vicinity of these cities are urged to attend the meeting here in New Castle," says Mr. Dunfee. "They are invited whether they belong to the stamp clubs of the cities or not. This is a big thing for the collectors of the area, and I am sure that each one will feel duty bound to see it through."

Further to discuss plans for the meeting, the New Castle Stamp club will meet Monday evening, November 19, at the New Castle Y. M. C. A.

FROM THE BOOKSHELF

Excerpts From An Essay

By

Alma Thompson Fankhauser

The most interesting things in the world are laughing, loving children and.....books. We all know the fascination of a good book in a leisure hour. The author we may never see—he may live thousands of miles away and yet, through his book, speak to us, arouse us, terrify us, comfort us, inspire us, even open his heart to us as a friend. "A book, I think," says Alexander Meiklejohn, " in its best meaning, is an offer of friendship from him who writes to him who reads."

Sir Francis Bacon said "Some books are to be tasted, others are to be swallowed and some few are to be chewed and digested." We do merely taste the book sometimes—scanning the pages hastily, reading in order to relax or just to be amused and entertained—knowing when we have finished that we have gained no knowledge nor formed an idea. Then, in closing another, we find that it has left us with something to think about—courage, perhaps, to ask ourselves a few honest questions or a memory to sweeten our days. The memory of a good book is like the dawn of early morning or the sunset at close of day. It gives to us the bright red of love and courage; the white of purity and the blue of truth and faithfulness. These blended, will give us an ideal, which, like the stars, we may not touch but whose gleam guide us to safety as surely as the stars guide the sea-faring men into port.

There are, it is said, two kinds of people in the world.....Those who are happy and those who are miserable. Happy folks are those, happy to live, because they have a chance to love, to work to play, and to look up towards Heaven. Unhappy folks are those whose interests are few, whose horizon is limited, and who lack the determination to say 'I will.' Millions of dollars are being spent in the world of medicine and science, seeking to know the cause and cure of the mentally ill. If these unfortunates could only see Nature anew.....enjoy the rolling hills covered with pines and laurels, the beautiful valleys, colorful with wild daisies and myrtle; if they could learn to read, even in a small degree, the greatest book of all, God's Own Book, the Heavens, they would never need to be listless or dull or mentally ill.

It is the happy folk who take time to study the Great Artists and their masterpieces.....the happ folk who love the colorful artistry of a Michael Angelo or a Reuben. An inactive, unhappy mind is incapable of thrilling to the hours of effort, the sacrifices behind each canvas. Addison says in his very beautiful way that "Reading (study) is to the mind what exercise is to the body. As by one, health is preserved, strengthened and invigorated, by the other, virtue, which is the health of the mind, is kept alive, cherished and confirmed."

And what shall we read? Ruskin says "If we read fiction, you cannot read Philosophy." If this be true, then, there are cross roads in one's reading as well as in other decisions in Life.

It is interesting to know that next to our Bible Shakespeare and Dickens are more widely read than any other books printed. Lowell says "There is a sense of security in an old book which time has criticized for us." Who, indeed, would not feel a sense of security, a sense of richness, in owning a first edition of Oliver Twist with Charles Dickens' own autograph in the right hand corner?

And so we ask, 'Breathes there a man with soul so dead' as one who never reads?

Books are more than books, they are the life,
The very heart and core of ages past,
The reason why men lived and worked and died,
The essense and quintessence of their lives.

—Amy Lowell.

Men strive to leave something to posterity and especially to their children.....something of value. Many leave gold but how much greater, finer more lasting the gift of book-love. Had I but one gift to give, I should choose the love of books.

The child never knew the sea at all,
Yet when she spoke about the sea
You heard the great waves rise and fall,
Upon the long coast steadily.....
She never knew the sea but when
She spoke of it, her words were true
And salt lashed down the drowning men
And her sea hunger entered you.
Somewhere behind her there must be,
Women and men who loved the sea.

coal in its most efficient form

Coke burns with a slower, steadier bed of flame, giving off an even uniform heat that keeps the temperature in the home appreciably more uniform. It requires less attention than coal—fewer trips to the furnace, less bother with drafts, and less stoking and shaking down.

Coke is cleaner—it burns without soot or smoke and is free from the grimy dust of coal which sifts through the house and is constantly tracked upstairs.

With coke you have abundant, uniform warmth with less furnace tending labor and a new degree of heating cleanliness. It is the ideal solid fuel for house-heating, as experience will convince you. 'Phone your dealer and order a supply of Youngstown Domestic Coke now.

Sour Stomach Sign of Carelessness

POLITE society frowns on those whose stomachs "grumble." For careful people heed this warning that the contents of the stomach is sour and fermenting. Those who don't, may some day develop gastritis—or even ulcers.

Nine times out of ten indigestion and allied stomach disorders are due to excess stomach acid, which impedes normal digestion and forms sour gases that cause intense pain. To restore good digestion you must eliminate this cause. A tablet of "Pape's Diapepsin" after eating or when pain is felt will instantly neutralize the acidity and banish all digestive trouble and pain.

So, do buy a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today. This not only means instant relief, but by soothing, healing and strengthening your weak and disordered stomach a little "Pape's Diapepsin" keeps your digestive system healthy and helps to prevent various disorders.

Sportsmen Of Northwestern Pennsylvania Will Take Fight To Court Soon

(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Nov. 16.—Efforts will be made today by attorneys for prominent sportsmen and landowners in Northwestern Pennsylvania, in the Dauphin county court at Harrisburg to prevent the state game commission from opening the season December 1 for the killing of does and unanterled deer.

Attorneys from Monroe and Pike counties left here early Thursday for the capitol where they will be joined by representatives from Carbon, Wayne, Northampton and Philadelphia in their fight to secure a restraining injunction against the commissioners. This step was decided upon following a conference here after Judge Samuel E. Shull had granted a preliminary injunction on the county treasurer of Monroe county preventing the sale of licenses here until the suit is settled.

Attorneys Price and Price of Scranton will represent the game commission in the hearing here next Monday.

Attorneys who plan to stage the fight at Harrisburg are: State Representative Chester H. Rhodes, John P. Cope, F. Lynn Lantz, and A. M. Price of Monroe county. Pike county will be represented by Attorneys P. Ruddy and Dorothy Stroh and Philadelphia by Horace Barba.

It would suit many a man if he could dodge responsibility like he does automobiles.

New Orleans Gamblers Get Threats Of Militia

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—The state militia will be sent into New Orleans to stop gambling if the city police fail to act Governor Huey P. Long said here after he had completed raids with the state militia on two establishments in Jefferson parish on the outskirts of the city.

The governor was informed that $23,000 in cash and checks were seized and 40 persons were arrested in the early raids today on Beverly Gardens and Fargo's. A large quantity of gambling equipment also was seized and will be burned sometime today. In making the raid the governor used the same tactics he did last August when he conducted raids by the militia on two fashionable gambling casinos in St. Bernard Parish.

Hoover Lauds South For Jumping Ticket

Never Will Have Cause To Regret, He Says, Predicting Expansion

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Nov. 16.—The people of the south will never have cause to regret that they broke their traditional party lines and voted the Republican ticket, President-elect Hoover said Thursday in a letter published here by the Manufacturers' Record.

The president-elect expressed his gratitude for the south's support, and expressed the opinion that it was a good thing for people to "vote their convictions," rather than be politically bound by the traditions of another generation.

For the south as a whole, the president-elect foresees an era of expanding economic progress.

Jaworski Seeks To Delay Plans For Execution

Arch Slayer To Enter Appeal To State Supreme Court Asking Execution Stay

IS VERY SILENT AWAITING DEATH

Since Brother Samuel Was Convicted Jaworski Has Changed Attitude

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—Paul Jaworski, Pennsylvania's arch bandit and killer, today launched plans to stay his execution by appealing to the Pennsylvania supreme court.

Summoning W. F. Daniels to his cell in county court, Jaworski directed the attorney to prepare an appeal, which if taken, will prevent the execution of the killer of Isaiah Gump, payroll guard, for at least six months and possibly a year.

Jaworski is confined to a cot in county jail, partially paralyzed by bullets which brought about his recent capture in Cleveland after he had killed a policeman.

Jaworski does not entertain any hope that he will escape the electric chair for crimes, according to a source close to the killer.

Daniels did not immediately begin preparation of the appeal, since shortly before Judge J. Frank Graff sentenced Jaworski to death in the chair, the court had appointed Bernard Cohen as counsel. Daniels and Cohen conferred as to the proper procedure.

Jaworski at first asked that no delay be sought after he was sentenced to die. Since his brother Sam was recently sentenced to a long term in prison for aiding Paul's sensational escape from county jail last year, however, Paul has changed his attitude.

Hopes For Delay.

Jaworski hopes, according to a source close to him, to delay his execution as long as possible.

The bravado with which he faced authorities who shot him down in Cleveland has vanished. In its place is a grim silence.

He has since admitted to those close to him that his boast that he had killed "more than 20 men" was made "because they wouldn't believe me anyhow, and I wanted to make it as strong as possible."

Jail attaches say that Jaworski shows no sign of breaking under the strain of waiting for the death ride to Rockview penitentiary. He is characteristicly stolid, and has only short replies to questions.

Up to the time he was advised that his brother Sam had pleaded guilty to charges of aiding him in his escape Paul had shown no interest in any effort to get him a stay of execution. At the time he was sentenced to death, he asked that the procedure be hurried as much as possible.

He indicated by directing that an appeal taken now, however, that his weeks of brooding in solitary confinement have brought him a desire for as much more life as legal loopholes leave open to him.

U. S. INSPECTORS WHO PASSED SHIP ARE UNDER FIRE

worthy, as required under American laws."

Such inspection of vessels of foreign registry are made under reciprocal agreements with a number of foreign governments, including Great Britain. American ships clearing from foreign ports are similarly inspected.

"If a foreign ship carries a valid certificate from the country of its registry," said Hoover, "it is inspected to see if the equipment conforms to the requirements of that country's laws. If it carries no certificate, as was the case with the Vestris, then the inspection is under American laws. The British and other governments do the same for our ships.

"Once a ship has received clearance papers she presumably has met the requirements of the law."

The American government's responsibility in the matter, the inspector general explained, is confined wholly to physical equipment and general seaworthiness—and not, he emphasized, to the operation of the boat.

Duties of Officers

The ship's officers, Hoover said, are supposed to see that the coal doors are battened down upon leaving port, and their's is the responsibility for the conduct of the ship once clearance papers have been granted. In the case of the Vestris, the survivors have charged that there was a cracked sea valve, and that one coal door was only half closed, allowing the sea to pour into the hold.

"Should the investigation disclose," said Hoover, "that there was negligence on the part of the officers or crew, action then must be taken by the British government. American responsibility is wholly whether the vessel was seaworthy on leaving port.

"Should our investigation disclose negligence or inefficiency on the part of the New York inspectors, disciplinary action will be taken immediately."

Hoover expressed the opinion that the present American laws governing steamship inspection "are adequate if they are enforced."

"Are there plenty of inspectors in New York?" he was asked.

"Yes," he said.

Tuttle seemed to attach significance to that part of Commander Simpson's report which quoted the stokers as saying: "The sea valve was cracked when he left New York. As a matter of fact there was some discussion as to whether to sail or not."

"I intend to go into that phase," remarked Tuttle as he pocketed the copy of the dispatch.

Members of the crew were called to take the witness stand at the resumption of the inquiry before Commissioner Frances O'Neill this afternoon. Late yesterday six witnesses took the stand and gave a vivid picture of the disaster. They were passengers. One by one they charged negligence, incompetence, mismanagement and failure on the part of those intrusted with the fate of the 338 men, women and children who sailed on the Vestris last Sunday.

Tuttle has subpoenaed, among others, Frank Thompson, first mate, the officer next in rank to Captain William Carey who went down with his ship. The U. S. attorney expects to draw from Thompson the reason why Carey waited so long to send out an S. O. S. Passengers had testified that they knew hours before the S. O. S. went out that the Vestris was in grave danger.

"I intend to obtain the radio advices that were exchanged between the captain and officials of the line," Tuttle said. "I expect to get them from the Radio Corporation of America and from the officials of the Lamport and Holt line."

Sometimes they rode ahead of the runner and at others behind as naturally the car had to keep in "second" to keep pace with Dilke. During the route he will be given what little food and nourishment he desires which will not be much.

RADIO LEGISLATION PLANNED BY SENATORS

Senators Norris And Brookhart Plan To Introduce New Radio Measures

Think Farmers Are Not Being Treated Fairly By Broadcasters

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The so-called "power trust" under investigation by the federal trade commission, was brought into the complicated radio broadcasting situation today by Senators Brookhart (R) of Iowa and Norris (R) of Nebraska.

Both senators declared that an attempt was being made to deprive the farmer broadcasters of the argicultural belt of their share of radio time by stations owned by the larger interests.

Brookhart asserted that with Norris he has been considering the advisability of new radio legislation to be introduced at the coming session and that possibly he will prepare a bill.

"The public utilities corporations have no business to charge up the cost of their radio broadcasting operations to their consumers" Brookhart declared. "This is now being done. The consumer is actually paying the cost of broadcasting programs."

Favors Legislation.

Brookhart favors legislation that would prohibit the radio commission from allocating channels to the public utilities corporations. He said this could be done and that he may offer a bill to that effect.

Brookhart said that the juet application of the equal distribution feature of the amendment to the radio law at the last session of congress depends entirely upon the personnel of the commission. He apparently had no criticism of the commission except possibly the fact that the "big fellows got the breaks."

Senator Norris believed that the "water power trust'is in control of some stations and is endeavoring to increase their power and broadcasting time at the expense of smaller stations through the mid-west.

At the radio commisison it was said that there is little probability that the broadcasting time of the smaller stations would be cut unless they clearly failed to give real public service.

Federal Attorneys To Follow Up On Liquor Evidence

State Legislator Grenet And Police Lieutenant Are Involved

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—With one of their strongest bits of evidence already on the records, federal prosecuting attorneys today moved to follow up the advantage they gained in the trial of 47 defendants in Pittsburgh's asserted "protected" rum ring trial.

Evidence purporting to show that small north side shopkeepers who ran afoul of the law for bootlegging were referred to State Representative Samuel J. Grenet as the man who passed finally on whether they were to remain in business, was one of the highlights of the case to date. Police Lieut. John J. Lynch was named as the man who referred them to the "boss" in these cases.

With this testimony as a base, Assistant District Attorney Ralph Smith hoped to produce other witnesses in an effort to reveal to the jury the "higher-ups" in the case.

LET HIM OUT.

Tailor—You promised me faithfully yesterday morning that you would come in and settle for that suit last night if it rained cats and dogs.

Customer—Yes, I know; but it didn't rain cats and dogs.

SOME "SCOOP."

Reporter—I've a good piece of news. I found a person who had been confined to one room his entire life.

Editor—Good! Write it up. Who is it?

Reporter—Why, a three-day-old baby down at our house.

Former Ruth Wynne Is Made Bigamist By Decision In Court

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The former Ruth Wynne, daughter of the late Robert J. Wynne, postmaster in President Roosevelt's cabinet, was today made a bigamist in the eyes of the English law by a decision of the British courts.

The divorce court granted a decree to Rosina Smith, divorcing her from Alphonse Smith, on the ground that, at the time of their marriage in 1925, Smith was still legally married to Miss Wynne.

Miss Wynne had obtained a divorce from Smith in the United States in 1922. Last August she was married to Robert H. Everhard of Detroit, Mich. The court upheld Mrs. Smith's contention that such a divorce was invalid in England.

Push Rothstein Murder Case In New York City

Mayor Jimmie Walker Gives Detectives Four Days To Run Down Slayer

ALLEGE ROTHSTEIN BIG "DOPE KING"

Two New Developments To Case Today Give Impetus To Dope Ring Issue

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The police, smarting under a rebuke from Mayor James J. Walker, put fresh impetus today into their search for the murderer of Arnold Rothstein, master gambler and white light millionaire with the general inquiry swinging to the drug ring with which some of Rothstein's associates are alleged to have been identified.

There were two developments which indicated that some of Rothstein's tenderloin "business associates" or friends had been connected with the illicit importation and sale of narcotics.

1—United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle has begun a probe of the whole "Rothstein case" because of his discovery that Sidney Stajer, one of the beneficiaries in the slain gambler's will, had been arrested last July as an international peddler of opium.

2—Sarah Graham Mulhall, former narcotic investigator, revealed to International News Service, that Col. L. G. Nutt, of the U. S. Narcotic Bureau, told her that Rothstein's name had been brought into the inquiry through the arrest or detention of several men who are said to have been business friends of the murdered gaming king.

Stajer, who is 34 years old, is said by the authorities to have used the name of "Samuel Stein" when he was arrested in an up-town hotel last summer. With the exception of Rothstein's valet and the executors, he was the only man mentioned in the Rothstein will. The gambler bequeathed him the income from a trust fund of $75,000 for ten years.

Given Four Days.

Federal and municipal investigators want to learn if there was any connection between Rothstein's activities and the workings of the opium and heroin drug ring whose ramifications are said to extend to many large cities in the United States.

Officials expressed belief that, when Rothstein's safe deposit box is opened papers will be found to reveal or disprove his alleged connection with the international syndicate of dealers in contraband drugs.

Mayor Walker has given the detective bureau four days in which to find the assassin. If he is not in jail by Monday night, the mayor said, he would "decide upon fresh action."

Rothstein was shot in a room in the Park Central hotel on November 4 and died a few days later in the hospital without revealing the name of his assailant. His death was first attributed to his refusal to pay a $300,000 gambling debt. Now the rumor is creeping through the tenderloin that drug ring activities may have played a part in the background of this latest tenderloin mystery.

Three Hundred E. And A. Veterans Are Coming Here

Will Attend Reunion At Cathedral On Saturday; Plans Complete

Everything is in readiness for the eighth annual banquet and program of Erie and Ashtabula division veterans which will occur in the east dining room of The Cathedral at noon Saturday, D. D. Potter, chairman of the committee on arrangements declared today.

"Our plans have been completed and we're expecting a good crowd," said Mr. Potter. "We are waiting for nice weather now."

An attendance of more than 300 veteran division railroaders is anticipated by those in charge. To be eligible to attend an employee must have spent at least 20 years in the service of the division.

The dinner at 12 o'clock will be served by the members of the local Wimodausis, with Mrs. Roy Long directing. Following the banquet a program of entertainment will be given for the veterans.

One of the annual features of the association is the election of officers which will precede the dinner. At this time, officers to succeed present officials who are as follows, will be chosen: President, P. H. Kearns; first vice president, E. M. Fisher; second vice president, F. J. Middleton; third vice president, J. P. Clark; fourth vice president, Joseph Wolf; five vice president, H. A. Moore; secretary, A. E. Sahl and treasurer, D. D. Potter.

C. L. Rose, chairman of the reception committee, has lined up his fellow members and has them prepared to give out a hearty welcome to the veterans when they take over the Cathedral tomorrow.

Cathedral To Have Circus And Frolic

Will Take Place Week Of December 10 Many Fine Performers Are Engaged

Climaxing several months of intensive preparation, Herbert Pearis, manager of The Cathedral, announces a winter circus and frolic, which will take place at The Cathedral beginning Thursday, Dec. 8, and continue throughout the next week.

Final arrangements for the affair were concluded this week. On December 8 the frolic will open a bazar and dancing. The doors will be thrown open to the general public and admission will be free as an introduction to what the week of December 10 has in store. This free admission will continue throughout the week of the frolic.

A circus will also be given in the auditorium of The Cathedral, consisting of some of the biggest and best acts that ever appeared under canvas. In booking the circus Mr. Pearis has been exceedingly careful and has picked material which will appeal to the young folks as well as the grownups, the main idea being to present to the citizens of New Castle something different from the general run of entertainment and something that everyone will enjoy. A small admission charge will be made for entrance to the circus. The entire bill will be changed Thursday, Dec. 13.

Government Rests In Stewart Case

With Jury Excluded, Defense Attorney Asks For Directed Verdict Of Acquittal

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The government rested at 11:10 a. m. today in the perjury trial of Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

The final prosecution witnesses were Senators Nye (R) of North Dakota and Walsh (D) of Montana, who, as members of the Senate Oil committee, put to Stewart the questions upon which the perjury charge was based.

Then, with the jury excluded, Frank Hogan, defense counsel, made a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

Find Big Supply At Bill's Place

When the raiding party consisting of city and county officers and members of the state police force, raided the home of Bill Nasherofski, 312 Mahoning avenue, last night, they found that Bill had been prepared to do a rushing business with beer.

They found eighty bottles of the beer, also eighty gallons, which had not yet been bottled. He was arrested and was charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house and was assessed a fine of $50 with the alternative of thirty days in the county jail. He is making an effort to get the money with which to pay the fine but the indications are that he be compelled to go to jail until the necessary funds are secured.

You can tell about how a boy will turn out if you know what time he turns in.

America Gives Aid To Vienna Cancer Survey

S. Canning Childs Deposits $100,000 In Bank For Project

BUILD HOSPITAL WITH ENDOWMENT

By ALFRED TYRNAUER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, Nov. 16.—An international research institute, connected with a hospital for cancer and blood diseases has been founded in Vienna by the American millionaire, S. Canning Childs, who deposited $100,000 for this purpose with a Vienna bank.

This donation, which is perhaps the most important one ever made by Americans in central Europe, establishes a new world centre of cancer research and therapeutic tests in Vienna.

Establish Hospital.

It will be known as "Canning Childs Hospital for Research of International Diseases and Cancer."

The director of the fundation is Dr. Adolph Edelmann, a Viennese specialist for internal diseases, whose research works in the field of cancer and blood diseases aroused international interest.

He was formerly the head physician of the international section of the Vienna Wilhelminen hospital and was connected with other renowned institutions.

Dr. Edelmann hopes to open the new hospital within three or four months. He has already gathered around him a staff of 18 scientists and he expects to place 20 or 25 more specialists in his institute.

Funds From America.

The capital necessary for the further development and sustenance of the hospital will be raised by the American friends of the founder.

This is not the first medical endowment of Mr. Canning Childs. He has laid the foundation of two hospitals, one in the States and one in England.

For the research institute he has, however, selected Vienna because he believes that this city is at the present the focal point of medical science, and is certainly a meeting place of medical students and patients from all over the world.

American Tourists Spend Over Billion

Americans Spend Three Millions Each Day In Foreign Countries

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 16.—American tourists thus far this year have expended a daily average of $3,000,000 in foreign countries, or at the rate of nearly eleven hundred millions of dollars per year, according to Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

"It is not too much to say that at least half, if not more, of that sum would be expended in our own country if we had an adequate transcontinental system of motoring routes." Hayes declared. "Adding the cost of steamship tickets, many of which are on foreign lines, to the above sum gives us the information that we are exporting dollars at the rate of one and one-half billions each year.

"Every school child knows that Europe can offer nothing to compare with the splendor of our own Grand Canyon; nowhere else in the world can Yellowstone National Park be duplicated, and few mountain ranges on this planet can match the majestic beauty of our Rockies, Ozarks, Alleghenies and Adirondacks.

"Yet large numbers of Americans are more familiar with Eiffel Tower, Piccadilly and Fujiyama than with Mount Ranier, the Mohave Desert or Niagara Falls.

"Lack of adequate highways is costing us a huge sum; creation of sufficient motor routes will keep tourist money within our own boundaries. We need more roads, and, in metropolitain areas, wider roads."

Leipsig Spring Fair Builds New Palaces To House Exhibits

Large Building Will Contain Toy, Musical Instruments And Art Exhibits

(International News Service)

LEIPZIG, Nov. 16.—The great Leipzig "sample fair," the oldest and largest in Europe, assumes steadily much increased proportions that the space available for exhibitors is longer adequate.

The spring fair, beginning on March 3, 1929, will see two new "fair palaces" ready for use.

One the "Peterhof," in the Peterstrasse, will be six stories high and have 11,000 square yards of floor surface. Four stories will be for the toy industry and one each for musical instruments and applied art.

The second building, in the Grimmaischestrasse, will have room for 200 exhibitors of confectionery.

The artificial silk industry plans to build its own fair building on one of Leipzig's main squares.

A prize competition will soon be established for the harmonizing of the buildings of the technical fair, which were constructed at different periods.

These grounds, with a total area of 657,800 square yards, whereof nearly 120,000 square yards are already occupied by exposition halls, are by far the greatest fairgrounds in the world.

From 1024 to 1928 the number of foreign visitors at the Leipzig fair increased from 13,500 to 29,590, and advance orders indicate that the spring fair of 1929 will bring a further increase.

Scoured Worms Make Much Better Baits

Will Live Longer On Hook And Will Take More Fish Is Opinion

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—It probably will come as surprise to many a fisherman who knows that angleworms are an excellent bait, that to get the very best results from worms they should go through a process known as "scouring."

W. R. Walton, of the Department of Agriculture, who has made a serious study of the earthworm in connection with the damage the worms sometimes do to lawns and golf greens, has also shown that the scouring of worms has been well known to some anglers for hundreds of years and was well described by Izaak Walton, patron saint of fishermen in 1653.

Scoured worms, this entomologist says, are much more desirable than those freshly dug. They will live longer on the hook and will take more fish.

Suggests Some Changes In Improvement Plan In Vicinity Of Park

(Communicated)

The people at East New Castle note that The New Castle News on November 14th, 1928, referring to the acute traffic hazard to the Shenango Township School Children, the Park Crowds, and other pedestrians in the vicinity of Cascade Park, reports that the County Commissioners state that if sidewalks are desired it will be up to Shenango Township or the property owners to build them, as it is not within the province of the County to build sidewalks.

It appears however to the people of this district that it is well within the province of the County Commissioners to participate in the planning of the improvements in this vicinity so there will be a space along the highway where sidewalks can be built.

The concrete roadway has now been completed, and the Traction Company is in the act of relocating its car track. On the North side of the highway for a part of the distance there is not room for a sidewalk between the roadway and the bluff. On the South side of the highway the car track has been laid on the only space available for pedestrians on that side of the highway.

Perhaps the highway past the park should be relocated slightly, and the center line of the highway moved a short distance south. The car track should be far enough away from the highway to leave an intervening space for pedestrians. The road way should have been built wider, and with curbs. Certainly the work being done should be planned now so that it will be possible to widen the roadway later.

The Traction Company should not complete its track at the location where it is now laid.

The County Commissioners regarded this situation sufficiently important to go to the expense of legal proceedings to require the B. R. & P. Ry. Co. to build a new highway bridge with a sidewalk across the B. R. & P. track.

They state that next summer they will build a new bridge with a sidewalk across Big Run.

These new bridges, to be built because the present bridges do not have sidewalks, will cost a large sum, a part of which expense will be borne by the County. They will relieve the hazard to pedestrians on the short stretch of highway from the Big Run to beyond the B. R. & P. Ry.

There is an equal hazard of the long stretch of highway from the City Line to Big Run, which can be relieved with comparatively little expense to anybody if the improvements being made are properly planned.

The new concrete roadway just completed, the new bridge across Big Run, the new bridge across the B. R. & P. Ry., and the relocation of the street car track, will cost a large sum, possibly in the aggregate $100,000.00. The County Commissioners have represented that these improvements are on their initiative, that for a long time past they have been endeavoring diligently to bring them about.

It would appear to be well within their province, and to be their responsibility, to provide whatever engineering study is necessary, and to coordinate the plans of the Traction Company, the Park, the State Highway Department, and other interested parties, so that after all this money is spent the desired results will be obtained.

American Legion Committee Reports Drive Is Success

Special Legion Convention Committee Meets Thursday At Legion Home

Members of the special American Legion convention committee in their meeting Thursday evening at the legion home on North Jefferson street who have been canvassing the city for funds to finance a legion gathering here, reported that nearly a sufficient amount had been raised.

Thee committee hopes to have the total amount raised by tomorrow evening when the canvassing will come to a halt. No definite figures can be stated as yet due to the fact that civic organizations who will not meet until after Saturday are unable to name the amounts which they will contribute.

Indications are, states Phil Greer, chairman of the committee, that we will have sufficient funds by the middle of next week, at the very latest.

The money contributed is to be used for entertainment and street decorations. It must also be had prior to the inviting of the state American Legion convention in order to prove to the executive committee that the town will back and be able to support the convention.

The committee plans to go to Philadelphia and extend the invitation from the New Castle American Legion about December 1.

German Society Campaigns For Library Funds

Treasurer Brown Files Statement

Republican Committee Treasurer Collected $2,864 And Expended $2,412

Expense account of W. A. Brown, treasurer of the Republican county committee, has been filed at the prothonotary's office. It shows receipts of $2864 and expenditures of $2412, leaving a balance in the treasury of $451.60. The income was derived from $1500 from the state committee and the balance from candidates, office holders and others. The expenses are mostly for clerical work in preparing the poll books, advertising, transportation of voters and watchers at the polls on election day. The expense must be filed in Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties, owing to the fact that Congressman Swick was running in the three counties, comprising this congressional district.

The only other expense account so far filed is by George T. Weingartner, candidate for state senate. It shows that nothing by way of contributions was received and expenses of $450, of which $150 went to the Lawrence County Republican committee and $300 to the Beaver County Republican committee.

Steamboat Inspection Service On "Carpet" In Recent Ship Disaster

Representative Bloom Of New York Instigates Congressional Probe

Claims Lax Inspection Of Big Liners Endangers Lives And Property

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — The steamboat inspection service of the department of commerce was called on the congressional carpet today and accused of "woeful neglect" in the Vestris disaster.

Rep. Sol Bloom (D) of New York declared that reports indicate that the Vestris never should have been permitted to depart on her fateful voyage.

He asserted that he has in the past protested against lax inspection which has existed for 25 years.

The head of the inspection service, D. N. Hoover, has directed inspectors to take testimony of the survivors of the Vestris.

Bloom pointed out that two years he waged a one-man campaign to improve inspection.

"We should hold responsible the inspector who allowed that ship to go out," said Bloom. Reports indicate that the Vestris would not have passed inspection."

"I do not charge the steamboat inspection service with inefficiency; it seems to be neglect because absence of disaster lulls all to a false sense of security."

Previous Protests.

Bloom said that he first protested alleged lax inspection two years ago when a New Yorker on the anniversary of the General Slocum disaster asked him what steps had been taken to prevent a repetition of the sinking of the excursion boat.

"I called for a report of cases of overloading, defective boilers and defective lifeboats in the last 25 years," said Bloom. "One captain was disciplined in that period in the port of New York. This in itself indicates that the inspection service is not what it should be.

"Congress has given the authority or it has been obtained by reciprocal agreements with other nations and the department of commerce has been able to get all of the money it needs from congress. Responsibility must lie with that service."

Inquiry among senate leaders developed the fact that most of them feel congress has no authority to conduct a probe specifically into the handling of a British ship. They feel that the investigation which U. S. District Attorney Tuttle is now conducting in New York is sufficient to take care of American interests.

The U. S. steamboat inspection service, however, is another matter. This service is wholly an agency of the American government and as such is properly a subject for congressional concern. The service has been under fire before, and while many members of congress are loath to directly tackle the conduct of the Vestris herself, they feel that the situation may warrant congress looking into it thru the indirect route of the inspection service.

No definite steps can be taken until congress meets on December 3. By that time District Attorney Tuttle's investigation in New York may disclose the need or the lack of need for congress to act.

"'Oh,' says Jim, 'I'm going to make my tires do a while longer even though they are worn smooth.'

"These hot days coming along made me feel differently about my tires. I read about Goodyear reducing prices, went down, got a good offer on my old tires and put on new Goodyears.

"He went on to tell how he started on a trip, had a 'flat', missed an appointment, and then had a blowout at night returning on a dark country road.

"He tried to get a lift to town and everybody shot by, thinking he was a hold-up man. He finally woke up a farmer, got a garage to come out and tow him in. He paid them $5, had to stay all night in a bum hotel and buy some tires I never heard of before at an outrageous price.

"He went down today, however, and got his Goodyears but he didn't get as good a trade as I did because he'd lost a lot of the value in the old casings due to the troubles he'd had on the trip."

City To Ask Bids For Small Garage

Question Of Centralization And Storage Is Before City Council

Council today passed a motion introduced by Councilman William Burns to the effect that when specifications are prepared and put in an intelligent form advertisements will be placed and bids asked for the construction of a 40x40 concrete block garage to be built on city land near the incinerating plant. The advertisement will ask a bid on the "contract complete" and another for "material and labor".

Today when council met, Councilman Davies, head of the department of public safety, which includes the health and garbage bureau, presented a motion that the city advertise for bids for a garage to be built on city land near the garbage plant.

Councilman Reeves said the city should build a central garage and storage station in the rear of the S. Jefferson street fire staion, which Davies opposed owing to the fact that improvements are being made across the river by the Carnegie Steel company.

Councilman Tyler declared that the building, estimated to cost about $3,000, can be built cheaper providing the city purchases the material and lets a contract for the labor.

The present building which houses garbage department trucks is ready to collapse, it is said. The city rents the garage.

Councilman Burns finally presented the motion which passed four to one, the negative ballot being cast by Councilman Reeves.

Viaduct Paint Is Flaking, Miller Says

City Engineer Frank Miller today reported to city council that paint is flaking and steel is rusting on the Gardner avenue viaduct and recommended it be painted next spring. The report was made as the result of council's instruction to Miller to inspect the paint.

It is possible that the guard rails may be painted this fall.

Second Coming Is Discussed

Evangelist Erickson Talks On Second Coming Of Christ Thursday

MANY SEEK ALTAR DURING SERVICE

That the Bible was divinely conceived, that it conveys a definite promise of the future life and of the second coming of Christ and that its promises are soon to be realized was the message of Evangelist C. H. Erickson Thursday evening at Everybody's Tabernacle, Division and South Mill streets, to the many hundreds of people gathered there.

At the conclusion of his sermon, which was one of the most powerful pleas yet made in the extended series of evangelist meetings that Evangelist Erickson has been conducting in this city, there were numbers of people from all parts of the big tabernacle, who walked down the sawdust path to the altar, acknowledged their sins and expressed their belief in the Living Christ and his power to save.

Following prayer with those who came forward and expressed a desire to lead a new life, a considerable number of persons, who are seeking restoration of their body from various ills, through prayer and anbinting of the body by the Evangelist, came forward to the platform and were annointed and prayers given in their behalf.

Basing his remarks on the seventh, twelfth and seventeenth verses of the twenty-second and last chapter of the New Testament, Evangelist Erickson said among other things: "There are those who insist that the Bible was written by man, I don't believe man wrote it. But I do believe that man was an instrument used by God in writing it. I believe it to be the infallible word of God. But suppose man did write it. Could man end it?

"The old testament ends with a curse. The new testament is of the new order of things. There is no longer a curse to end it because of the coming of Christ. The whole of the last chapter of Revelations, the last of the New Testament, predominates in the thought and promise of the second coming of Christ.

"In the seventh verse we read "Behold, I come quickly; blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book." Then in the twelfth verse we read "And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be". And finally we read in the seventeenth verse "And the spirit and the bride, say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely."

"Here is the definite promise of the return of Jesus Christ and the reward that awaits them that believe in him. The Holy Spirit wants him to come, and you, the bride, should want him to come. If you want him, he will surely come. He will come to vindicate himself. There will not be those on his second coming, who would dare to crucify him, to mock him, to spit on him, as they did at his first coming. He will return as an all powerful king.

"If you want him to come back, you must be ready for his coming. If you have not that desire, then you have not given yourself to him. Now is the time to come, you who are athirst, for he offers every man and woman the opportunity of drinking from the everlasting fountain of life."

While those responded to the invitation and came to the altar the Alliance Quintet rendered "Come To Our Father's Home", "Coming Home Tonight" and "I Surrender All." The evening service was brought to a close by Evangelist and Mrs. Erickson rendering the selection "Some Day I'll Understand."

The service last evening was opened with the usual song service of familiar hymns of the campaigns of Evangelist Erickson, in which Mrs. Erickson directed the singing. The Alliance Quintet rendered a number of selections, while Mr. and Mrs. Lacey, the former a member of the quintet, rendered "The Devil Will Never Win". The opening part of the services was also featured by the remarks of Ted Jackman of California, an evangelist, who with his wife, is spending a few days with Evangelist and Mrs. C. H. Erickson.

Another special feature of the evening was the solo "Face To Face" rendered by James R. MacKenzie of the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist choir.

Evangelist Erickson announced that the sermon for Friday evening would be of more than usual interest, especially to those interested in healing through faith and prayer. The topic will be "The Use Of Means In Healing. What Part Do They Play?"

On Sunday afternoon, Evangelist Erickson will speak on "How To Receive The Holy Spirit."

Grand Jury Finds 'Blue Law' Is Unfair

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 16.—Revision of New Jersey's century-old "blue" law was urged in a presentment handed to Judge Alfred A. Stein in the Union County Court of Oyer and Terminer by the October grand jury today.

The jury refused to indict a motion picture proprietor and several others held for operating places of amusement on Sunday. "Under existing conditions" the presentment declared "the grand jury does not consider it wise to indict hundreds of citizens and allow others to violate the same statute and go unmolested."

The presentment urged Judge Stein to call upon the legislature to revise the ancient laws now governing Sabbath activities and to readjust the state's legal code to modern conditions."

EXTEND SYMPATHY

Rothstein Was Wanted By Narcotic Bureau

Slain Underworld Character Suspected Of Being In Dope Ring

(International News Service)

NEW YORK., Nov. 16.—Arnold Rothstein, millionaire plunger, and shadowy power in the underworld, was wanted for questioning by Col. L. G. Nutt, in charge of the narcotic bureau of the United States at the time Rothstein was slain by an assassin's bullet.

This was revealed today by Sara Graham Mulhall, famous world leader on the war against drugs, while attending the annual conference here of the Narcotic Rehabilitation Association.

Miss Mulhall told International News Service that she was informed six associates of Rothstein had been arrested in connection with a gigantic "dope ring" conspiracy shortly before the gambler was killed.

Honestly, I didn't think a set as small as this could have so much power, but let me tell you—the man who built the New Model 40 knows his job. I get stations on that Full-Vision Dial that I thought existed only in the papers. And you can't beat it for tone and clarity, a violin sounds like a violin, and an organ sounds like an organ—not like a football game. Football? Sure I'm listening in!

"Maybe I'm not glad to get rid of the batteries. Let the Electric company furnish the power. It's worth the part of a cent an hour it costs just not to have the bother.

Maine Indians Give Monument To Honor Jesuit Missionary

Commemorates Achievement Of Father Sebastian Rale 200 Years Ago

(International News Service)

OLDTOWN, Me., Nov. 16.—Commemorating the achievements of Father Sebastion Rale, Jesuit missionary among the Indian tribes of Maine 200 years ago, a simple yet impressive monument has been erected on the reservation of the Penobscot tribe of the Albanaki Indians here. The reservation is an island in the Penobscot river, opposite Oldtown.

Father Rale entered the missionary field among the Maine Indians in 1694, and from that time until his untimely and tragic death in 1714, spent practically all his time there. He studied their languages and also compiled a dictionary of Abanaki tongue. At Norridgewock, he caused a chapel to be erected and established a settlement, where the work of educating the Indian tribes was begun.

An expedition from Massachusetts visited the colony in 1705 and burned it to the ground. The Indians at the time were away.

The settlement was re-established and grew until 1714, when on August 23 of that year, an expedition under Captain Harmon from Massachusetts again attacked it. Father Rale was shot as he attempted to temporize with the attacking party so that the women and children might have time to escape.

The monument stands on the lawn of the rectory of St. Ann's Church where the Indians worship. It consists of a cement base in the top of which is embedded the cross which for years marked Father Rale's grave at Norridgewock.

This cross, a crude affair, was brought from Norridgewock to Indian Island by the Indians almost two centuries ago when they abandoned the Kenebec River and came to the Penobscot.

A JOY KILLER

"Billie, did you have a good time at the party?"

"How could I have a good time? I had promised mother to behave myself."

"GADGET" AID TO U. S. SEAPLANES

French To Stop College Hazing

Latin Quarter Of Paris Now Free From Student Misdemeanors

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The Latin Quarter must be all brotherly love and kisses from now on, since the Minister of Public Instruction has laid down his veto against hazing in schools and colleges.

The collegians themselves are not inclined to live up to the new edict, however. The time honored practice of hazing younger students is still being observed in violation of the ministerial order that the "abuse be stopped at once."

Only recently a freshman in the Ecole Polytechnique was seriously injured while being made to walk the edge of a deep ditch blindfolded.

Three Eyed Fish Shown In Boston

Freak Haddock Has Three Eyes; Received In Shipment

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 16—One of the most unusual freaks of the finny tribe, a three eyed haddock, was on exhibition here. The freak was found in a consignment received by a local fish concern, and as a result just where it was caught, was not known. Well informed men in the fishing industry here, stated that it was the first time they had ever seen a freak of this sort.

The third eye was perfectly formed and was located on the left side of the fish, about an inch and a half behind the left of the regular pair of eyes. In other respects, the fish appeared to be normal.

Time cures everything, but it takes such a long time.

Nothing Like New Blood Treatment To Knock Out Rheumatic Pains

Name is Alkine and Local Druggist Offers Every Sufferer Chance To Try It On Money Back Plan.

For ten years I have suffered horrible torture from rheumatism that I contracted when in the trenches. I didn't know what a good night's sleep was—and how I lived through the days of agony is beyond me. I couldn't get a bit of help no matter what I tried, but when the announcement was made that Alkine conquered rheumatism pains through the blood—that sounded like sense to me and I tried it. I tell you I'm like a new man—not a sign or twinge of pain. Alkine has opened up a different world to me."

The manager of McKee's Kut Rate Store, local distributors of Alkine, says: "When people make it a point to come in and tell of the wonderful benefits they get from Alkine—I say it's time every man and woman suffering from rheumatism quits standing in his or her own light and gives this really remarkable preparation a trial. In the name of common sense now can they hesitate? If there is any doubt at all in their minds after they use a bottle that it isn't helping them more than anything they ever tried—all they have to do is come in and say so—and every penny they spent for it will be returned.

You'll have to clear the blood of excess acids and poisons if you ever expect to get lasting relief from rheumatism pains and aches. Alkine supplies marvelous elements that act to neutralize and carry off the poisons thru natural means. The relief, the benefit you get even from one bottle, should be enough to convince you. Get it today and remember that McKee will refund your money if you are not absolutely satisfied. Sold at McKee's Kut Rate Store, 21 North Mill street and all good druggists. Get a bottle today.

Canada Has Motor For Each 10 People

Is Next To United States In Ration Of Automobiles To People

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 16.—Canada, with one automobile to every 10.1 persons in 1927, is second only to the United States in the ratio of motor vehicles to the population, according to Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club.

The automotive industry in the dominion, according to Mr. Hayes, is growing at a rapid rate. In 1926 it ranked as the fifth manufacturing activity in the province of Ontario. A total of 179,054 motor vehicles were produced by Canadian factories in 1927. During the same period, 36,630 cars were imported at a cost of $31,542,416, and parts and accessories valued at $31,852,100 were shipped into the dominion.

Last year likewise witnessed a record in Canada for tourist figures, Hayes said. The customs department reported that 2,410,087 cars, mostly from the United States entered the dominion on one-day permits.

Penn. Mother Has Right Idea

For over fifty years, physicians have recommended it and mothers all over the world have recognized this fine old medicine as the standard remedy for those ills of childhood, such as biliousness, sallow, "broken-out" skin, constipation, nervousness, indigestion, feverishness, no appetite or energy, etc. Children love the rich, fruity taste of California Fig Syrup and their whole system benefits from its gentle influence. It quickly purges the child's system of all waste; it regulates the bowels and stomach, and gives these organs tone and strength so they continue to act normally, of their own accord.

A Pennsylvania mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Steinle, 231 South Ithan St., Philadelphia, says: "I never saw anything better than California Fig Syrup for regulating the stomach and bowels of children. I have used it myself and for my children over 20 years. It stopped my little son, John's constipation quickly, strengthened him, gave him a good appetite. I use it with all my children for colds, feverishness, etc., so I am never without it."

Always ask for California Fig Syrup by the full name to protect yourself from imitations. All drug stores have it. Four million bottles used a year shows its popularity.

Hanover-Berlin Lights To Help Winter Flying

Will Make A Berlin-To-London Flight Possible In One Day

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—The completion of the signal lights on the Berlin-Hanover route makes it possible for the first time for the Luft Hansa airplanes to cover the Berlin-Paris and Berlin-Amsterdam-London routes in a single day throughout the winter.

The winter schedule, now in effect, is divided into three parts—"pre-winter," from October 15 to November 3; "high winter," from November 3 to February 4 and "post-winter," from February 4 to the beginning of the regular summer schedule.

During the "high winter" some 4,000 to 5,000 miles will be flown daily; during the "pre-winter" and "post-winter" about twice that distance.

A part of the new administration building on the Tempelhof Field, the biggest airport in the world, has been completed, and work is proceeding rapidly.

Caterpillar Club Now Waits 100th Member

Next Flier To Fall Will Either Crash To Death Or To Fame

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — The Caterpillar Club, that exclusive organization whose members are respected if little envied, now has a membership of ninety and nine—just one man short of the century mark, the Army Air Corps news letter announced.

The next American flier to hurtle down from an airplane in an effort to save his life will fall either to his death or to fame as the hundredth member of those who almost—oh so nearly "went over."

The club got its ninety-ninth member October 21 when Major Floyd E. Evans of the Detroit, Mich., National Guard was forced to jump from 2,000 feet because of the collapse of the wing of his plane.

Less than ten days before Evans dropped in the club Lieutenant H. W. Pennington and Private J. S. Wilson, of Fort Crockett at Galveston, Texas, joined. This pair were flying along above Fresno, Texas, at 7,000 feet, when a terrific storm whirled their plane entirely out of control. They jumped and landed unhurt.

German Railway Thefts Are Less

Now Are Almost Insignificant; Shippers Co-operate With Police

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—Thefts of consignments on the German railroads, already reduced to insignificant numbers, will be still further reduced by making it more difficult to dispose of the stolen goods.

A special department has been created to which shippers of textiles, silks and other fabrics will send samples of goods stolen en route. With these the railroad detectives, will be able to track down the receivers of stolen goods, and, through them, the thieves.

The system has already been tried out in the Cologne division and worked so well that it has now been extended to cover the whole system.

Dedication Is Being Planned

New "Old Main Memorial" Is Near Completion At Westminster

PROGRAM FOR DAY BEING ARRANGED

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 16.—Plans are going forward for the dedication of Old Main Memorial, new main building at Westminster, some time in February. A committee recently appointed by the college faculty is already working out a program of events. This committee, headed by Dean Charles Freeman, includes Dr. Charles A. Dawson, Dr. Gilbert H. Taylor and Dr. W. Charles Wallace, ex-officio.

In all probability presidents of all colleges and universities in the state will be guests of honor at the exercises. Honorary degrees will be conferred upon distinguished men. The program of events will last for a day or two, with special services of various kinds.

If the building is completed by February, and there is every indication that it will be completed even before that time, it will mean that Westminster has been without a building for just two years, Old Main having burned January 24, 1927.

To make a toy moving picture machine, select a medium-sized cardboard box. Cut a peephole in one end of the box, through which one will be able to see the show. Then look through an old magazine and cut out several interesting pictures and mount them on cardboard. Cut a slit near the end of each side of the box and insert one cardboard picture-slide at a time. You may tell a story and have it illustrated by these picture slides, or you may draw slides yourself that tell a story. Question: Where do flies go in winter?

Answer: Most kinds of flies live their lives in spring and summer, then die. Some of them are fortunate enough to find a place where they can hide and obtain warmth to keep alive. They hide in quiet places about the house, in outbuildings, in fields and stables, where we should never dream of looking for them. They do not feed. They simply lie quietly, sleeping as a squirrel in his nest, or a bear in his den, or a tortoise in his shell, sleeps the cold days away. But an unexpected warm day in winter comes. The fly feels the extra warmth. It wakes him, makes him hungry and sends him forth to seek food. The warm day passes, and he may get back to safe hiding; but most likely he will not. Probably the cold will return and kill him. Very few flies manage to get through the winter. If they are not worn out and ready to die at the end of the summer, many of them are killed by a fungus which, floating in the air, settles on their bodies, drives roots into their sides, and destroys them. Those we see dead on the window pane, swollen, with a little halo on the glass about them, have been killed in this way.

POEMS EVERY CHILD SHOULD READ

The Squirrel's Arithmetic.
By Annie Douglas Bell.

High on the branch of a walnut-tree
A bright-eyed squirrel sat.
Why was he thinking so earnestly?
And what was he looking at?

The forest was green around him,
The sky all over his head;
His nest was in a hollow limb,
And his children snug in bed.

He was doing a problem o'er and o'er,
Busily thinking was he:
How many nuts for this winter's store
Could he hide in the hollow tree?

He sat so still on the swaying bough,
You might have thought him asleep.
Oh, no; he was trying to reckon now
The nuts the babies could eat.

Then suddenly he frisked about,
And down the tree he ran.
"The best way to do, without a doubt,
Is to gather all I can."

WORTH-WHILE DEEDS OF YOUNG FOLKS

Sunny California boasts that she has a champion milkmaid in her state in the form of pretty 17-year-old Ina Leslie. In this day and age when machinery is taking the place of human skill, it is refreshing to find a little milkmaid really interested in her job rather than the more frivolous pastimes of the other 17-year-old lassies about her. Ina became a milkmaid at the age of eight and now she boasts that no farm hand is able to compete with her in this task of providing invalids and little babies with that nourishing food, milk. Miss Leslie is usually an honored guest at all county fairs held throughout the state.

A DELICIOUS RECIPE FOR LITTLE COOKS TO TRY

Peanut Butter Cookies.

Three-eighths cup peanut butter.
One-half cup sugar.
One egg.
Three-eighths teaspoon soda.
Three-fourths tablespoon hot water.
Three-fourths cup flour.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Three-eighths teaspoon cinnamon.

Work peanut butter until creamy, add sugar gradually, egg well beaten, soda dissolved in hot water and flour sifted with salt and cinnamon. Chill, roll thin, cut in fancy shapes and bake in a moderate oven, or at 350 degrees F.

A REGULAR FELLOW

After school was over and the children had gone, Miss Lucy set about putting her books away with a sigh. She had always dreamed of teaching a schoolroom full of bright little kiddies who loved her and whom she loved in return. To come here with this picture in mind and then to receive nothing but dislike and scorn was discouraging, to say the least. After she had locked the little school house door and started on her way home, she realized that it was because they thought she was the kind of a teacher that might squeal at the sight of a mouse, that the class of sturdy little farmers and farmerettes refused to obey her. Of course there was no way of their knowing that she had brought her college athletic honors in rowing and basketball. There was also no way of their knowing, as yet, that the little teacher's arms were strong and wiry and had plenty of force in them when it was needed.

Bye-and-bye, Miss Lucy passed a large field where a group of boys were holding baseball practice. Miss Lucy adored baseball and so she stopped to watch them in their game. Suddenly a fly hit was knocked high in her direction. It was too good a ball to miss and she couldn't resist hte temptation to step under it and catch it with her bare hands. The sting of the ball thrilled her and she shot it back to the home plate with all her force. Straight and true it sped until it hit the catcher's glove with a whirring thud! The boys all stared in amazement at the little figure on the path such a distance from them. "Jingo! she sure can throw a ball!" they thought. And then Herb Perotti in the pitcher's box recognized the gray dress she was wearing and shouted in astonishment, "Why that's our teacher!"

Escorted by the boys, Miss Lucy was conducted to the pitcher's box herself. She seemed to know more about baseball than any of the lads and her high balls and low balls and curves and straight balls were what Bill termed "whizzes." "Golly, fellers," said Bill, "if she pitched in the game we're to play with Riverville, we'd win for sure!"

And then an idea presented itself to Miss Lucy. "I'll tell you what, boys," she said, "I won't pitch the game myself, but if you promise to help me all you can in school by being courteous and helpful young gentlemen, I'll promise to coach you in all the little tricks I've learned about baseball. Is it a bargain?"

I am glad to say that the boys beat Riverville by a wide margin and kept their promise to Miss Lucy very faithfully. And if anyone dared to say a word about Miss Lucy that was not complimentary, he was in danger of being "tarred and feathered", for as John said, she was a "regular fellow" and "regular fellows" were always protected by the rest of the "gang".

Goodbye until next Friday, boys and girls.

Girls Form Sports Club At Franklin

Officers For Organization Are Selected; Plan For Winter's Activity

The Sports club is a new organization for the girls of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school. At a recent meeting the members elected their officers and decided to devote coming meetings to basketball, baseball, tennis and track and field events.

It is the purpose of the organization, according to Miss Muriel Findlay, supervisor, to take up the different sports as they come into season. At the first meeting soccer was the subject and at least four teams competed. The next two meetings were given over to a tournament in volley ball.

Membership was limited to 20 seventh graders, 29 eighth graders and 25 ninth graders. However each group more than filled its quota so that now a waiting list exists for each class.

Officers who head the club are Katie Mescainarri, president; Edith Sherbine, vice president; Evelyn Jewell, secretary and treasurer. All officers are students in the ninth grade. At the present time it is announced, plans are under way for a Thanksgiving party for the members.

BANKS OF ONE-TIME WORTHLESS CULM ARE PLACED UNDER GUARD

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 16.—The banks of waste coal of culm so numerous throughout the anthracite district have been placed under guard.

Until recently the hundreds of thousands of tons of coal in these banks was considered worthless, but the growing demand for smaller sizes of coal has caused companies to start work reclaiming the fuel.

Now the companies are placing armed guards around the banks after the discovery that enterprising robbers were hauling away the fuel by the truckloads.

It is said that the thieves then peddled the stolen coal from door to door in the poorer sections of the anthracite district.

The guards also have stopped the practice of many poor families who obtained their fuel in basketload lots from the piles.

It is estimated that the average man uses 100 buttons per year, which gives no idea of the importance of the one that is lost."—The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Work Progresses On New Hospital

BUILDING PLEASES COMPANY INSPECTORS

Confident that they will have the job finished even before the first of the new year, over 100 workmen are now entering the last stages of building the new Jameson Memorial hospital, located on West Leasure avenue, which is to be a permanent memorial to the late David Jameson.

The exterior of the new hospital is practically completed, and when the grading and outside concrete work are finished, it will present even a more imposing appearance to the vistor than it does today.

"This is perhaps the finest job that I have ever supervised," declares James H. Blair, superintendent of construction for the Boldt company. "Every piece of material that went into the construction of the hospital is the finest that can be obtained at any price. It is a hospital of which New Castle should be proud, and I am sure that the people of New Castle, as well as Lawrence county, are proud of the hospital, and feel nothing but respect and gratitude to the man who made it possible. It is one of the finest buildings in the city."

Mr. Blair explains that now that the exterior of the hospital is finished, the work does not look to be progressing fast, but in reality, the structure is progressing at a remarkably rapid pace.

"When it was started, the company thought that it would take two years before the building was completed. But now they all agree that we will have finished the building, as well as the adjoining nurses home, before the first day of January. So, since the actual work on the building started in August, 1927, we shall have done two year's work in less than a year and one-half."

On the top four floors of the hospital, the terazzo men have practically completed work. As yet, the floors are in a rough condition, for if they were to be finished, they would be easily marred by workmen. Almost the last thing which will be done to the building will be finishing the terazzo floorings.

Elevator men are installing two high speed elevators in the shafts today, and it is expected that early next week, these will be in perfect running order.

With all glass in outside windows installed, painters are giving the sashes a coat of white paint. On the inside of the building, more painters are staining and varnishing all interior doors. As yet, no woodwork other than some doors, has been installed on the inside of the building.

A large steam shovel is grading the grounds which surround the hospital, while two concrete mixers are working, pouring drives and sidewalks, which should be completed, says Mr. Blair, by Saturday. The grading will also be completed at an early date.

On the rear porch of the hospital iron balustrades have been placed, while on the roof of the building, the roof wards and the solarium have been completed. In lavatories plumbing fixtures are being installed, while steam fitters are now setting radiators. Some radiators have already been set, and are being heated by the giant boiler which is now in operation.

"After the construction company is through with the building late in December, there will be nothing more to do except to move in the furniture and patients," concludes Mr. Blair. "We will have the hospital completely outfitted, except for these items."

Inspectors from the home office of the company were at the hospital Thursday morning, and expressed themselves as pleased at the rapid progress which is being made on the building. "Johnny" Walker, supervising engineer for the owners, while out of the city at the present time, is also pleased with the hospital job, reports Mr. Blair.

Greenville Members To Present Program

Will Be In Charge Of Consistory Dinner At Cathedral November 23

Members of the New Castle Consistory of Greenville, Pa., will have charge of the entertainment program for the next Consistory dinner which is to be held at the Cathedral Friday evening, November 23.

Hon. W. E. Porter has charge of the program and has arranged with the Greenville members to take care of the entertainment after the dinner and they promise something novel and entertaining. This part of the program will be most interesting.

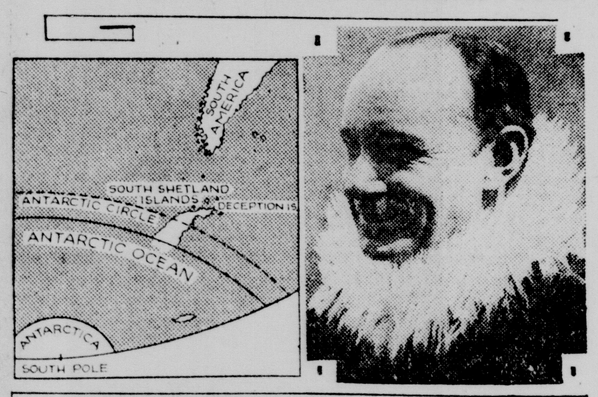
The dinner promises to be in keeping with former events given by the dinner club and Commander in Chief W. H. Dunlap is looking forward to a large gathering. The committee calls attention to the fact that the dinners are for members of the Consistory, the members of their families and out of town guests. This rule had to be established on account of the large number present at former affairs held by the Dinner club who were not members of the organization and not even members of any Masonic lodge.

Any member of the New Castle Consistory who has an out of town house guest is invited to bring such guests to the dinner but this is not to be construed as to New Castle people who might be called house guests for this occasion only. Of course any member not married is expected to bring his lady friend.

An excellent orchestra will be present for the dance feature and as usual W. O. (Red) Williams will have charge of the pep singing.

The dinners are proving most popular and are always looked forward to by the members of the Consistory. General Chairman Wm. H. Moffatt is more than pleased with the events held in the past and is of the opinion that the affairs of the future will be more popular and entertaining.

READY TO HOP INTO ANTARCTICA



Preparing to make the first airplane flight in history into the frigid regions of the South Pole, Capt. Sir George Hubert Wilkins and his party have reached Deception island, Antarctica. Plans call for the establishment of a base 60 miles south of the island, whence they will attempt several flights into the heart of the Antarctic in the Lockheed-Vega monoplane, shown above, the same in which Wilkins flew over the North Pole. Photos also show Wilkins, upper right, and Lieutenant Eielson, his right-hand man, lower left.

California Court To Hear Appeals In Mellus Murder

Leo Pat Kelly, Butcher Boy, Slayer Of Society Matron Granted Stay

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Leo Pat Kelly, "butcher boy" slayer of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus, his society matron sweetheart, will not hang on November 23, it was announced today.

The state supreme court has vacated the order for Kelly's execution on that date pending arguments on an appeal.

S. S. Hahn, attorney for Kelly, appeared yesterday before the grand jury and demanded an inquiry into the conduct of Kelly's trial by the district attorney's office. Hahn, in his appeal, cites about 80 reasons why a new trial should be granted Kelly.

Arguments on the appeal will be heard by the state supreme court at a special session on December 3.

New Streamline Trolley Car Endorsed By Railway Engineers

By BURL A. ELY
International News Service Special Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—"The New Birney" car—the latest streetcar invention of that facile inventor, C. O. Birneq, who during the last fifteen years has proffered to the strap-hanging public numerous improvements in street railway practice—has just recently been completed in the shops of the St. Louis Car Company.

The new car, as radically different from the standard car which is now known to the public as would be the helicopter were it suddenly offered in a perfected state to the airplane industry, has been taken to Cleveland, according to officials of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company here, where for the first time, it has been revealed to the public at the American Electric Railway Association Convention being held there.

The radical differences pointed out by officials of the electric company are: the "New Birney" car has the ability to accelerate from a standing start to 20 miles per hour in five seconds; live rubber separating the steel flanges from the core of the wheels to absorb vibration and reduce noise; rubber insulation at the points of contact between car body and driving units; drive carried from the motor through a propeller shaft, universal joint and differential to each pair of wheels; and a weight less than half of that of the ordinary type of street car.

Because of its comparatively light weight, claver balance and roller bearings on the axles, it has been demonstrated that a man of ordinary strength can push the car along a level track.

Within this new car, which according to the specimen which was taken to the Cleveland convention can seat 39 passengers, there is an air of luxury that is to be found on the stylishly equipped Pullman cars. All wood is mahogany finished. Sheet rubber, with mosaic pattern covers the floor and all seats in the car are of the deep spring design, covered with hand-buffed hyaline leather.

The car is the one-man type and has full safety equipment. The motorman must have either his foot or his hand on the controls of the car while it is in motion or it is automatically stopped.

This latest masterpiece of the inventor Birney, it is predicted will have a revolutionary effect upon the street car industry. It is said that he has solved many of the major problems confronting those now operating electric railways.

Both the driving mechanism and the design of the street car have undergone radical changes in Birney's masterpiece. It is completely streamlined, front and back. The car steps—which are operated on a treadle control for opening and closing—are only 13 inches from the street level, giving a low hung body appearance which necessitates wheel housings within the car. These, however, are cleverly concealed under the seats.

The eighteen windows in the car are shatter-proof and a visor, something similar to the type used on automotive sedan bodies, cover the front and back of the car to keep out the sun glare.

A FORM OF CRITICISM

That the Metropolitan police is "the finest in the world" there is little doubt. But take it from this irritated observer, the police of one of the precincts are pretty slow. About 5:45 a. m., Friday, a plate-glass window of an apartment on a certain street was completely shattered, and a second later a distressed woman's horrible screams aroused the sector. "Help, police, murder, help, help, save me, save me!" screamed the woman.

Some one had the presence of mind to blow a police whistle. Others whistled lustily by placing their fingers in their mouths, and cries of help were yelled by folk who peered out of their windows. But no help arrived. We instructed a bellboy to phone for police. The bellboy informed us that he had checked up on the disturbance and discovered that it was "stew stuff" on the ninth floor, a husband was beating his wife, etc.

But it might have been a murder, and the officers arrived on the scene thirty minutes after they were summoned.

Denver Army Doctor Removes Own Tonsils

Cures Deafness Over Period Of Years By Tonsil Operations

(International News Service)

DENVER, Nov. 16.—Capt. F. N. Stiles, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist at Fitzsimmons Army Hospital here has gone into the annals of surgical history as one who took out his own tonsils.

The Captain performed the throat operation at two different times. One tonsil was removed eight years ago because of deafness in his left ear. The deafness was corrected, he declares. The other was removed five years ago because of acute tonsilitis and rheumatism, and this ailment was cured.

The publicity given Dr. Robert Meals of Hollywood, when he removed his own appendix recently prompted Capt. Stiles to reveal that he also had performed such a feat. The officer said he made his own diagnosis, then by using a mirror he brought into use every tool ordinarily used in a tonsil operation.

Mrs. Sharpe made her election contingent upon the removal of state headquarters of the council from Philadelphia to Harrisburg. The change will be made as soon as the board of directors has selected a site.

A resolution urging that jail sentences be imposed upon dry law violators was passed at the closing session of the convention today. A copy of the resolution will be sent to every judge in the state.

Now, we hope, everybody on both sides will quit throwing bricks and start laying a few.—The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

MANIAC SEIZES SIGNAL TOWER, UPSETS TRAFFIC

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 16.—Seizing control of a signal tower at the intersection of the Southern Pacific and International and Great Northern railroad tracks here a mad man turned rail traffic topsy turvey by throwing block signals with all the recklessness of a boy experimenting with a Christmas toy.

Luckinly there were no collisions but it took some time for dispatchers to untangle the scramble of passenger and freight trains after the self-appointed traffic director had been relieved of his job by two policemen.

Mounting the tower with a pistol in one hand the maniac threatened L. R. Cotton the tower man who fled. Then he took charge pulling levers in rapid order with no regard for traffic rules or the lives of the crews and passengers depending on the block signals.

Lights and semaphores up and down the tracks began to play crazily changing every few seconds which warned trainmen that something was amiss. Trains were halted, steam spouting from the locomotives and irate exclamations from the puzzled crews.

26 Bushels In 80 Minutes Wins Corn Husking Crown

FOWLER, Ind., Nov. 16.—Walter Olson, 26-year-old farmer of Knox county, Ill., tonight reigned over the nation's corn huskers. He won the national corn husking championship today in a contest with the champions and runners-up of seven states. Olson tossed from 40 to 44 ears a minute picking 26.62 bushels in the 80 minutes allotted. The contest was held on the William Strasburger farm in Knox county near here. Elmer Williams of Stark county, Ill., who was runner-up to Olson in the Illinois state contest and who holds the corn husking record placed second today with 25.31 bushels. Williams set the world's record of 35.8 bushels in 1925.

Olson received a gold medal and $100 as first prize.

Weather conditions were ideal but Olson said after the contest that a frost in September had made the corn "chaffy and hard to break precluding any possibility of breaking the world's record.

Active People want and need sugar
The "Fuel of Preference" in the body

AN EMINENT food authority recently stated that any person who has a very active body is likely to be always on the edge of the sugar reserve in his body (glycogen). "That is why," he said, "the soldier and athlete wants and needs sugar. That is why the active child wants and needs sugar." He went on to explain that sugar is the fuel of preference in the body, that sugar can be more easily and quickly converted into energy than any other food. He emphasized the fact that sugar should form a part of the regular diet of every family and that any reducing diet, as well as any other diet, should contain sugar.

The best way for sugar to be eaten is as a flavorer of other foods. In that way, it serves the double purpose of furnishing energy to the body and also of adding appetizing delight to other healthful foods. Sugar added to healthful grain cereals makes them welcome and enjoyable to growing children. Think of how many health-giving fruits are objectionable to the taste without sugar. Scientists tell us that we need the daily roughage of salads as well as cooked fruits and vegetables. Any good cook knows that adding sugar makes all of these welcome and pleasant to the palate. In addition to being the best and cheapest fuel for the body, sugar is nature's perfect flavor. It makes nearly all other foods more enjoyable. For health and enjoyment, there is no substitute for sugar. The Sugar Institute.

PAPER 114 YEARS OLD CARRIES ADVERTISEMENT OF PROPERTY IN TOWN OF HARMONY AND ENVIRONS

William Campbell of Butler Star route has purchased from an eastern collector a copy of the Philadelphia Aurora, dated June 27, 1814, containing an advertisement by George Rapp offering to sell the town of Harmony, Butler county, Pa., "with all its improvements, and about 9,000 acres of land adjoining; on which are three villages, in the tenure of George Rapp and associates."

The villages referred to as adjacent to Harmony are stated in the early colonial newspaper to be Ramsdale, "half a mile north, containing about 20 log buildings," Edenau, one mile and a half east, and Oilbronu, two miles north, "having 8 or 10 houses."

Harmony is described as possessing "about 130 buildings and lots of ground, a number of which are brick, some frame and the rest log."

The buildings are carefully itemized and specify a frame granary, two distilleries, two grist mills, a fulling mill, oil mill, hemp mill, two saw mills, tanyard, brick yard, potash factory, rope walk, brewery, a smith shop, and "buildings suited to almost every branch of mechanism."

"There is in the town of Harmony," the notice continues, "four large barns with stables underneath, and on the premises seven large sheep stables, that will hold 3,000 sheep."

"The man of capital who may wish to purchase, will, upon viewing Harmony and its improvements, at once discover that he cannot be better suited for the purpose of farming, manufacturing and every branch of mechanism."

"Should no person or persons be inclined to purchase the whole property on or before the 1st day of Oct. next, it will then be divided and sold in such lots and parcels as may suit purchasers."

As a sequel to this advertisement, chronicles of history show, the colony succeeded in finding a buyer in Abraham Ziegler, who purchased it for $100,000.

In 1815 the Harmonites then removed to a new location on the Wabash river, in Posey county, Indiana, but returned to Pennsylvania in 1824, locating in Beaver county where they founded the towns of Economy and Harmony on the east bank of the Ohio river, 17 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

Here George Rapp died, Aug. 7, 1847, being almost 90 years of age. Rapp, founder of the association, was born in Germany in 1757 and came to America in 1803. He purchased 5,000 acres in the Connoquenessing valley, with 24 acres in the village of Zelienople, from Dr. Detmar Basse in 1804. The founding of the village of Harmony followed and the following year homes were ready for the members of the new colony, numbering about 300, who sailed from Amsterdam. Other contingents joined later.

The Harmony society was organized in 1805 on a purely communal basis. Money and goods all went into a common fund. A distinctive and uniform style of dress was adopted; there were no rich and no poor; the houses of all were nearly alike; and the new society sought, in its public worship and lives of its individual members, to conform as nearly as possible to what they conceived to be the practices and the usages of the early Christians. All worked together in concord and harmony, each line of work being under the superintendence of a foreman, and all under the direction of George Rapp.

On February 15, 1894, the Harmony society celebrated its 89th anniversary at Economy. Lying at rest in the cemetery at Harmony today are more than 100 of their members, around which a stone wall was built in 1869.

Seven Pittsburgh Firemen Injured

Two Are Seriously Hurt; Five Others Slightly Hurt In Battling Blaze

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—Two firemen are reported in a serious condition at the Mercy hospital here today and five others are suffering injuries received when fighting fire which swept the basement of the Pennsylvania Electrical Repair company building last night when the contents of a 100-gallon varnish tank ignited.

The blaze caused damages estimated today at $15,000 by Fire Chief Frank Loxterman.

William Rea, 30, of Engine Company No. 19 and Victor Modjeski, 28, of Engine Company No. 1 are reported in a serious condition. Other firemen who were overcome by smoke are: William Brophy, 45; Arthur Robinson, 34; Joseph Horne, 32; William McClelland, 28 and Jacob Hummellton, 35.

An electric motor armature falling upon the varnish tank and puncturing it, caused the blaze, Fire Chief Loxterman reported. As the varnish flowed from the tank it was ignited by a gas burner beneath a water heater.

Because of the acrid fumes of the burning varnish, the firemen were forced to don gas masks.

Twenty persons were in the building when the fire broke out. All were forced into the street.

Marketing Expense Half Of Food Cost

Fifteen Cents Of Consumer's Dollar Goes Into Advertising Wares

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 16.—Nearly 50 per cent of the price which the consumer pays for food goes to meet the expenses of putting the product on the market. This is the astounding statement made in a report just published by the bureau of business research of Harvard university.

According to the report, about 15 cents of the customer's dollar is required for the expenses of selling, advertising, warehousing and transportation. Another 20 cents is expended by the retailer to meet his expenses and approximately nine cents is required to meet the expenses of the wholesaler. This makes a total of approximately 44 cents of the consumer's dollar taken for the expenses of putting the product in his hands.

This study was based on reports from 72 manufacturers with an aggregate volume of sales of over $690,000,000.

Greeks Observe Visit Of Prelate

Greek Orthodox Church Expects Archbishop Alexander Here Saturday

Plan Special Services And Open Meeting During Stay Of Churchman

Saturday afternoon members of the Greek Orthodox church of New Castle are expecting Archbishop Alexander of New York City, who is head of the church in the entire western hemisphere, to arrive in this city. Extensive plans have been made by the local church for the entertainment of the noted archbishop and there will also be special mass services Sunday morning at the church on Howard way.

Archbishop Alexander, quite a noted prelate, and the highest figure in Greek Orthodox circles in both North and South America, is making his first visit to New Castle when he arrives here tomorrow. As his coming has already been heralded by the local church, a great number of Greek Orthodox members from neighboring cities are expected here Sunday.

Saturday evening, following the arrival of the archbishop, there will be a special mass in the church at 6 o'clock. This is the first of the church program which will take palce during the churchman's stay here.

Saturday evening, Rev. Gregorios Tsigourakos, pastor of the church here, will give a luncheon in honor of the archbishop at which there will be some 15 men present who are actively engaged in the work of the local church.

Sunday morning at 8 o'clock sharp, mass will begin at the church on Howard way. At 9 o'clock Bishop Alexander will conduct the srevices which will continue until 12:30 p. m.

At this time there will be a lull in the program until 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Through the kindness of Speer Marousis and Charles Freeman the Penn theatre was obtained for the afternoon and there will be an open meeting for the benefit of the Greeks at that place.

There will be shown on the screen pictures depicting Greece and also the welcomes received by the members of the excursion of the Aehepa association on their good will trip to Greece from the various officials. This trip was made by the Aehepa during the past summer, a great number going to Greece on a good will journey.

There will also be another picture shown in colors of the history of the American flag. Archbishop Alexander will speak during the showing of the picture of the Aehepa excursion and will explain the various scenes as well as interpolate it with numerous remarks.

Archbishop Alexander will reside at The Castleton while in the city. Pastors of other churches wishing to meet him may do so at that place.

Holiday Reminders For Local Mailers

Watch Where Addresses Go; Use "Special" For Speed

Post Office authorities in New Castle today said that three timely reminders regarding postal holiday suggestions need be impressed on the mailing public at this season of the year. When these ever-arising and important details are adhered to, postal employes can work and dispatch matters much quicker than when they are not complied with.

The three reminders given especial stress by officials are presented as follows:

"Addresses on Christmas packages, greeting cards, letters and such matters should be complete with the house number and the name of the street, post office box or rural route number, typed or plainly written in ink," it is advised. "The return address should be placed in the upper left hand corner of every piece of mail."

"If a tag is used in case of parcels, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if the tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be inclosed inside the parcel.

"Use of the special delivery stamp will assure delivery on Christmas Day if mailed at the proper time. Parcels bearing this class of stamp will receive the same expeditious service on the holiday as always," it is reminded.

Life Without Labor Holds No Charms

Clemenceau Confesses Passionate Love For Work To Newshawks

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Without work life holds no charms, says Georges Clemenceau, the "Tiger". Despite his age, Clemenceau, who will soon be 90, confesses to a passionate love for work.

"I get up every morning at five o'clock, and sometimes earlier," says the old statesman, "and I feel fine. Better than ever, in fact." His looks and appearance do not belie the statement. They have not changed much in the last decade. Bushy, white eyebrows, drooping white mustache, a grey suit, a cap of the legionnaire variety and felt slippers.

"Since I am writing, I consider you newspapermen as my fellow colleagues, but just the same I do not give out any interviews," ruled the "Tiger".

"What about moving pictures? They showed you an American feature on your birthday. Do you like the movies?" he was asked.

"No, I do not. And about that picture—I had seen it before."

Says New Medicine, Ten Herbs, Relieved Stomach Trouble and Nervousness

"Ten Herbs has benefitted me so much that I have no doubt that your medicine would be a boon to many others," was the recent statement of Mr. Caleb Kelley, 324 1-2 South Jefferson Street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this new natural medicine to crowds of men and women.

MR. CALEB KELLEY

"I suffered with my stomach for a long time," continued Mr. Kelley, who is a tin worker. "My digestion was very poor. Food soured in my stomach, filling me with gas. I was troubled with constipation, and my body was full of aches and pains. The pains were very intense in my hips and knees, so that after walking a short distance I would be "all in" and have to stop and rest before going farther.

"I read in the papers how Ten Herbs had benefitted persons whom I knew, so I bought a bottle for a trial. I am surprised at the results. Gas no longer forms in my stomach and it is now a pleasure to eat. My nerves are quiet, and my general health has been greatly improved. Pains gradually left my hips and knees, so that I can walk without suffering like I used to. I feel much better than I have for some time. I shall continue using Ten Herbs a while longer, for I feel sure it will soon restore me to normal health. I heartily recommend your medicine to other sufferers."

Do not experiment with medicines! Use Ten Herbs, the famous herbal compound that is creating a sensation throughout this section, because it is giving astonishing results in cases of stomach, liver and bowel disorders. Ten Herbs also benefits the kidneys, and its wonderful natural ingredients cleanse the entire system, eliminating poisonous waste matter and impurities.

River Patrol Now Uses Water Skiis

Danube River Patrols Are First In World To Use New Devices

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Nov. 16.—The latest military invention, recently introduced in the small Austrian army, is the "water ski", which enables the Danube river patrols to "walk on the water."

The water-ski are a type of float (made of rubber or of wood) are fixed on water proof boots. A double-bladed paddle completes the equipment, which is used both for propulsion and balancing.

The Austrian river patrols, which are very proud of this innovation, are thus the first military troops in the world which are navigating at a foot pace when on duty.

Artificial Leg Plant Employes Are Lame

Cripples Take Pride In Their Product, Says Company President

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 16.—There are no employes of the McLain Artificial Limb corporation here who have not lost one or both legs or maybe an arm or a hand.

"Men who have lost their own limbs take a certain pride in turning out fine craft," Oscar F. McLain, company president said, in explanation of his unique personnel policy.

Employes of the factory can dance, skate and drive a car without great difficulty, according to McLain.

AUTOS DON'T EAT HAY, SO HAY GOES ON BARGAIN LIST

EDINBORO, Pa., Nov. 16.—A buyer is offering $6 and $7 a ton for hay among the farmers at Edinboro. This figure will be paid in the mow, and the buyer bales the hay. This hay will bring twice this figure in the market. However baling costs are greater than twenty five years ago when there was a steady demand for hay all the year through. The farm meadow has given way to the gasoline pump and Erie does not afford a market for one ton of hay compared to 25 years ago, 100 tons. Motor vehicles have deprived the farms of a source of income, and farmers themselves are using both trucks and tractors to the exclusion of horses.

Entire Land Purchase Program Will Be Completed By End Of Year

HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Officials of the department of forests and waters expect that the entire land purchase program authorized by the last legislature will be completed by the end of the present year.

The department already has purchased 111,747 acres of forest land at a cost of $305,303.60. The average price paid per acre for the entire 54 tracts was $2.73.

Title work is now in progress on 46,192 acres, and it is expected that this work will be completed by December 1.

Stolen Seedlings Proving Costly

Automobile Parties Get $50 Fine For Stealing Forest Trees

HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Two automobile parties stopped recently near the Statler Hill observation tower in Somerset county and removed some forest tree seedlings which had been planted around the forest fire observation tower. The automobile license numbers were noted by which the owners of the automobiles were identified. Later, in a summary procedure case, the holders of the license numbers, residents of Pittsburgh, were fined the sum of $50, and the costs incurred in the suit, amounting to $27, were also levied upon the defendants.

168 Business 'Rackets' Are Listed In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—There are 168 rackets—organized criminal attacks on business—listed in a report of the Employers' association of Chicago, prepared for State's Attorney-elect John A. Swanson.

Of the total outlaw schemes to destroy legitimate business, 79 are active at present, the report states. It mentions 101 "business bombs", exclusive of other kinds, that have been thrown this year. Judge Swanson, in his campaign, pledged to rid Cook county and Chicago of racketeering activities. The Employers' association has estimated that the cost of crime to Chicago—not including bootlegging—has been $100,000,000 annually, or $35 a year for each man, woman and child.

Immigrant Visas Now Sell For $500

Fake Visas For United States Find Many Takers Among Italians

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Five hundred dollars is the latest Paris quotation on a fake immigrant visa for the United States. Ferraro, Casi and Politelli, three Italians, found plenty of takers at that figure, principally among their own countrymen.

Business was brisk until reports began to come back of customers detained at Ellis Island. Soon after the customers themselves came back. The police closed the visa factory and put the manufacturers behind bars.

JUDGE SAYS TOO MANY TRIVIAL LIQUOR CASES

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 16.—Apparently taking a rap at the district attorney's office on orders from which county detectives have been particularly active in their liquor raids, Judge Charles E. Whitten issued a stiff charge to the constables of the county. The judge's charge was interpreted as a rebuke to the county law enforcement officers, through whose activities the courts have been cluttered with many trivial liquor cases.

Gets Bail In Slaying Of Faithless Husband

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 16.—Helen C. Matlock, who shot and killed her husband, Charles Matlock, an automobile salesman, as he walked into an apartment where he had established a model and night club entertainer as another "Mrs. Matlock", has been released on $25,000 bond following reduction of the charge against her from first to second degree murder.

The murder warrant and the bail hold her for grand jury which will decide whether to indict her for first or second degree murder.

Detroit Parachute Jumper To Risk His Life At Grid Game

Sergeant Joe Crane, Dare-Devil Airman, Plans Leap Onto Franklin Field

New Castle Booster Day Ceremonies Planned At New Castle-Beaver Falls Game

Sergeant Joe Crane of Detroit, professional parachute jumper and dare-devil airman, will make a leap here on Saturday afternoon at the New Castle-Beaver Falls football game, it is announced by the committee. Crane will land on Franklin field about 2:20 o'clock, according to schedule.

The Detroit jumper was secured for the New Castle booster day program by D. Roy Bradford, owner of the New Castle Aircraft, Inc., and he will make his sensational jump from one of the Bradford planes as it soars over the local stadium, it is stated.

It seems that Crane is used to this sort of thing and has toured the entire country, making leaps from fast moving airplanes and landing in a given space. His most recent jumps in this section were at Latrobe and Youngstown. He is scheduled to arrive in New Castle tomorrow morning.

To add a little attractiveness to the leap Crane will be arrayed in a football uniform of red and black colors. In his arms he will carry a football which will be delivered to the officials of the game, according to announcement. The airplane will also be gaily decorated for the occasion.

Boosters to Boost.

According to word from "Bill" Connery, chairman of the New Castle Booster Day ceremonies, everything is set for a big time tomorrow at Franklin field.

The program will start about 2 o'clock with a concert by the New Castle high and Beaver Falls high uniformed bands. At 2:10 o'clock the flag raising exercises will take place with the Boy Scouts of New Castle and the high school bands participating.

At 2:20 or 2:25 o'clock the parachute jumper is scheduled to appear over Franklin field and cause heart throbs and vibrations to the big crowd with a leap from the air.

The big game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock with the New Castle and Beaver Falls teams lined up in battle formation.

To Dedicate Tablet.

Between halves tomorrow the bronze tablet of the class of 1923 will be dedicated and placed in the stadium. It is planned to have Dr. C. C. Green, city superintendent of schools, make the principal speech of dedication and to have Attorney Charles H. Young, president of the New Castle school board, also make a brief address.

The New Castle boosters will wear the school colors and are asked to make as much noise as possible. It was said today that a few aerial bombs would be fired to lend a little noise to the occasion.

The New Castle senior high band will be benefited through the booster day game. A part of the proceeds of the game will be donated to the High School Athletic association for payment on the new uniforms that were recently purchased.

The following committee has arranged the New Castle booster day exercises: Chairman, "Bill" Connery; Dr. J. G. McConahy, Edward O. Raney, James K. Lamoree, Alec Samuels, Eddie Connery, Ralph H. Gardner and Charles "Bugs" Walther.

College Girls Are Praised By German

"American College Students Co-operate," Says Educationalist

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—"Your college students are very strange. The men beat one another in their fraternity houses and yet they respect and co-operate with one another. In fact, I have never seen such co-operation as that displayed by American student groups."

Dr. Ludwig Mueller, German educator, who has arrived at Northwestern University as an exchange professor in order to study American collegiate customs and thoughts made the foregoing remarks.

Whatever criticism may be levelled at the present day American co-ed, she is a good scholar and research technician, Dr. Mueller found. She may seem flighty and wear short skirts and powder her nose but that doesn't cut down her attainments, Dr. Mueller believes.

The German professor said he believed the American college girl was fully the equal of the girls in this country and in some cases far more advanced.

"The American girl is so intent and so concentrated on whatever she is doing," he said. "Every one of your universities seems so crowded with activities. I do not see how the average student can do so many things in a single day."

Ham And Bacon War Starts Next Year

Denmark And America To Fight For Control Of English Market

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 16. — A ham and bacon war, with Great Britain as the battlefield and Denmark and the United States as belligerents, is expected early next year.

The authority for this prediction is F. Edison White, president of the Armour Packing Company of Chicago, who is now on holiday in Britain.

He revealed that American firms will use a new process for curing bacon and ham next season, in the expectation of capturing the palate of the English, who prefer a milder cured bacon than that provided by American hogs.

Denmark already virtually holds the bacon monopoly in Britain, and no doubt will make a long fight to retain such a profitable market.

"More hogs will be produced in the United States next year," White said, "for the corn crop has been exceptionally good.

"American bacon heretofore has been too highly cured, but the new process will give us a product similar to the Danish. I think therefore that America will therefore come back into the trade in a large way."

Zeppelin Lands 80 Years After Liner

First German Liner Preceeded Graf Zeppelin By 80 Years

(International News Service)

HAMBURG, Nov. 16.—Precisely 80 years to the day before the "Graf Zeppelin" landed in Lakehurst the first German trans-atlantic line was inaugurated by the departure from Hamburg of the Hamburg-American Line's "Deutschland."

This was a sailing ship of proportion that appear almost lilliputian when compared with the great ocean ships of today.

The "Deutschland" was of but 700 tons, only 131 feet long and 33 feet in the beam.

It had accommodations for 200 cabin and steerage passengers and the latter slept, lived and ate in one room.

Today the Hamburg-American has a fleet of 169 ocean going ships with an aggregate tonnage of 1,057,810.

Soviet To Pension Priests Who Quit Robes And Church

Those Who Leave Church And Do Not Want To Work Will Be Supported

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Nov. 16.—Good jobs and pensions for priests if they cast off their robes and quit the church are offered by the central committee of the Communist party in the Ivanovo-Voznesensk district.

"Without priests there will be no services, and without services there will be no churches," reads a resolution adopted by the committee to spur on a more violent anti-religious propaganda in the region which is the heart of the Soviet textile industry. The plan is not exactly in line with the party's attitude toward the church. It seeks to wean people away from the church by education and propaganda so that priests and religious services will vanish automatically.

The Ivanovo-Vosnesensk district committee, however, adopted new tactics. Priests who qualify for administrative jobs in the government or industry are offered good pay. Those who leave the church and either can't or don't want to work will be supported for the rest of their lives out of the public treasury.

REASON ENOUGH.

The teacher was giving her class their lesson in fractions. An object lesson seemed desirable. "Helen," she said, "if a mince pie were on your dinner table and your mother asked you if you would have a third or a fourth, what would say?"

"A fourth," said Helen.

Some of the children tittered, and the teacher asked. 'Why would you have a fourth?"

"Because," said Helen, "I don't like mince pie."

New England Boosts Recreational Center

Sees Great Income From Playgrounds Especially For Farmers

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Maine, Nov. 16.—Merchandising New England's recreational sources, and added prosperity for the New England farmers through more scientific marketing of their products, will be two of the more important subjects generally discussed at the Fourth Conference of the New England Council to be held here November 15 and 16.

The Council's farm marketing program calls for the producing and marketing of farm products under state grades and state supervision and bearing a standardized New England label. The program has already gone into effect widely throughout the New England states.

With an estimated annual income of $500,000,000, the recreational industry has been recognized as of tremendous importance to New England and discussion will be held to further stimulate and develop this business.

"I remember her when she was beautiful"

"IT WASN'T so long ago either. Her complexion was the envy of every girl and woman. Her radiant manner was felt the instant she entered the room. How her eyes did sparkle as she talked! . . . But now you'd hardly know she was the same person. Her animation is gone—her clear skin is sallow and her eyes dull. She's always tired—often irritable. . . ."

Here's what has been said about countless women all over the country. And while friends and relatives deplore the facts, no one is more unhappy than the woman who has lost her health and beauty.

Yet, all this could have been prevented. The cause, often constipation, is so easily removed by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Happily, thousands of women have made this discovery. By regular eating of ALL-BRAN they have regained all that they lost. In beauty. In radiance. In health. In joy of living.

But you need ALL-BRAN—not "part-bran"

It is the "bulk" in bran that relieves constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has a large amount of bulk. This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the digestive system. Gently distending the intestines—exercising them, purifying, eliminating poisonous wastes. In a part-bran product there is seldom enough bulk to do this work. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran—and brings 100% results. Results no part-bran product can hope to equal!

How different from dangerous pills

How much better than habit-forming drugs and laxatives! Which become useless unless the dose is constantly increased—and sometimes injure the system. How much pleasanter than sickening medicines! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a delicious cereal. Serve it with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey if desired. Let it soak a few moments in the milk to bring out all its nutlike flavor. Use it in cooking too. Try the appetizing recipes on every package. Serve it in soups. Mix it with other cereals—for health! Just eat two tablespoonfuls in some form daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Keep ALL-BRAN always on hand—a package of health. But be sure it is genuine Kellogg's — the original ALL-BRAN. Don't risk part-bran substitutes. At best, they can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at all hotels and restaurants. On dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Guaranteed!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

Paul's Final Visit To Jerusalem

Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Paul's last visit to Jerusalem was on his part a mission of love, for he came bearing the gifts of loving sacrifice which he had gathered from the Macedonians and others of far off Greece to relieve the sufferings of their famine stricken brethren in the church at Jerusalem.

Scarcely a week after his arrival with gifts of love, as he was completing certain ceremonies incident to a religious vow he had assumed, Paul was recognized among the worshippers in the temple by some of his old antagonists from the neighborhood of Ephesus, who immediately stirred up the multitude into a furious mob, demanding that Paul be put to death. "And all the city was moved and the people ran together: and they took Paul and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut." It was good for Paul that his assailants were so scrupulous about taking him outside of the sacred precincts to put him to death, for while they were doing this the Roman guard had time to discover and quell the outbreak and rescue Paul from their hands. "As they went about to kill him, tidings came to the chief captain of the band, who immediately took soldiers and centurions and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers they left beating of Paul."

Reasoning With a Mob.

Although Paul had scarcely escaped with his life, he begged of the chief captain the privilege of addressing the mob from which he had just been rescued. Granted this privilege, he spoke to them in their own language of his early life and religious zeal and of his conversion and subsequent ministry to the gentiles to whom he was given a specific and definite commission by the Lord. Instead of placating the mob these things only infuriated them the more and aroused the cry, "Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that he should live."

Paul Escapes the "Third Degree."

Following his second outbreak the captain ordered Paul taken into the military castle "to be examined by scourging that he might know wherefore they cried so against him." But as they were binding Paul preparatory to putting him through this "third degree" of that time he calmly asked the Roman centurion this significant question, "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman and uncondemned?" Immediately the word is rushed to the chief captain who comes personally to apologize for this threatened indignity to a Roman citizen, nad as the high official confides to Paul how he had purchased his own citizenship, saying, "With a great sum obtained I this freedom," Paul, with pardonable pride goes him one better by saying, "But I was free born."

Man Proposes—God Disposes.

The entire incident shows how two entirely independent streams of influence, viz., the religious intolerance of Paul's enemies and the imperialism of Rome which was utterly indifferent both to Paul's religion and to that of his adversaries, converge into one stream which in the providence of God is to sweep Paul on to Rome to fulfill Christ's promise to Paul here in Jerusalem: "Be of good cheer, Paul, for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome."

(The international uniform lesson for Nov. 18 is Acts 21:17 to 23:35, the subject being "Paul's Experiences in Jerusalem," and the Golden Text, Ephesians 6:10: "Be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his might.")

Suggested daily Bible readings for next week's family worship—Monday, Eph. 3:14-21; Tuesday, Col. 1:9-13; Wed., I Tim. 2:1-8; Thurs., Matt. 15:21-28; Fri., Luke 18:1-12; Sat., John 17:9-20; Sun., Ps. 34:1-8.

Guelph Treasure Of Gold Vessels Offered For Sale

Amounts To $10,000,000; American Already Offers That Price

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 16. — The "Guelph treasure" consisting of ancient golden vessels and other costly objects dating from the crusades is for sale.

The present owner of the treasure, Duke Ernest August of Braunschweig, husband of the former kaiser's only daughter, announces he is forced to sell because he needs money.

The treasure is valued at $10,000,000 and this amount is supposed to have already been offered by an American.

The prize piece of the treasure is a wardrobe closet which Duke Henry the Lion, who accompanied Emperor Frederick Barbarossa on a crusade, brought back from the Orient.

The possible purchase of the treasure by Americans has aroused the whole German press and it is expected that the government will intervene possibly purchase the treasure itself if necessary to save it for Germany.

Duke Ernest August says he must choose between selling the treasure or cutting off the pensions of his former officials.

John J. Marco, R. D. No. 1, reported to the police Thursday that he was driving west on Washington street when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 909-616, going in the same direction, ran into and damaged his car.

J. J. Daniels, 133 Laurel avenue, reported Thursday that he was en route west on Laurel avenue at Carlisle street when a machine bearing Pennsylvania license A11-984, going south on Carlisle street, hit the rear of his car, doing considerable damage to both machines. Mr. Daniels was almost across the Carlisle street intersection of Laurel avenue when the accident occurred.

Health Insurance Makes Much Work

Doctors Do Much Health Insurance Work In Great Britain; Are Capable

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 16. — Nearly 13,000 doctors in England received more than $30,000,000 in 1927-1928 for attendance on 13,700,000 insured people and there were only 48 cases where the doctors were reported for unsatisfactory service under the Health Insurance scheme.

The total amount of remuneration deducted on this account was $1,855. Only six of the complaints were cases of neglect; the remainder were technical offences such as failure to keep proper records.

The drugs used in prescribing are tested periodically and 4,000 tests were made during the year. In 96 per cent of the tests there was either complete accuracy or so little inaccuracy that no complaint was justified.

The scope of national health insurance is growing slightly with the increase of population. In 1918 there were 13,426,000 people entitled to benefit. Last year the number was 13,699,000.

THERE'S A REASON.

"That fellow Jones is rich, isn't he? I guess he was born with a gold spoon in his mouth."

"Well maybe. But I'll bet it had the name of some restaurant on it."—Life

Young Farmer Returns Home

(BULLETIN 2 P. M.)
(International News Service)

LATROBE, Pa., Nov. 16.—The sudden disappearance last night of Charles Linemus, 23, Derry township farmer, who was believed kidnaped or slain, was solved today when he returned home. He said he had been at the home of neighbors overnight.

Linemus, his mother and Charles Johns were waiting in the barn last night for return of thieves who had stolen eight hogs recently. Mrs. Linemus returned to the house. Shortly afterward several men drove up to the barn in an automobile. A shot was fired in the darkness and Linemus disappeared, Johns related. Posses of state police and farmers were called off when Linemus returned.

TWO ROBBERIES ARE REPORTED

Hennon's Store Is Entered And $11 Taken; Garage Broken Into

Two robberies and a number of attempted robberies were reported to the police last night and this morning.

Store of Hennon Brothers, Florists, located at 28 North Mill street, was broken into some time during the night. Entrance was gained by breaking a side window. Change in the cash register amounting to about $11 was taken, also a screw driver. Nothing else of value has been found missing.

Detective John Young and Officer Lynch made the investigation in this case.

L. D. Garrett of 211 North Mulberry street, reported this morning that his garage had been broken into during the night and radio tubes, one Temple dynamic speaker, also an air chrome speaker, had been taken from his machine.

Detective Young and Officer Lynch on making their investigation this morning, found that this garage as well as four others in the same row at this place, had been broken into some time after midnight. Locks on all the garages had been broken. Nothing was missing but the radio parts.

At least two places in the Seventh ward were also the scene of attempts to rob during the night. The officers on investigation found that entrance had not been gained.

MAN BEING HELD FOR NEW YORK

Barney Kleeblat, arrested by Detective J. Young and Officer Thompson on a warrant issued in New York city and charging him with the abandonment of minor children, is being held here for the New York officers, who were notified immediately following his apprehension.

Kleeblat has secured an attorney, who insists that immediate action be taken or his client released, owing to the fact that he has been held here by the police more than 24 hours.

When arrested Kleeblat waived his extradition rights, stating he would go. Owing to the delay in sending for him, he may change his decision.

WITHOUT DRIVERS LICENSE

Robert Chamberlain arrested last night by Officers Criswell and Hanna, while driving his machine without a drivers' license, was taken before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton, where a charge of driving a motor vehicle without a drivers' license was made against him. He paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Police Captain Is Discharged

Civil Service Commission In Philadelphia Orders Discharge Of Officer

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—Police Captain James Ellison was ordered discharged by the civil service commission today when he failed to appear for a hearing on charges he was "unfit to hold public office" preferred by the special grand jury.

Ill-health was given as the reason for the bluecoat's refusal to appear. Ellison collapsed twice as a result of being examined regarding his wealth by the grand jury.

Captain James Gill, another police official who was wanted for questioning by the grand jury, has apparently left the city, investigators told the commission. His case was postponed indefinitely.

The case of Capt. Frank Souders was postponed until next Friday.

Fire Companies Respond To Alarm

Smoke Scare Calls Three Companies Out; No Action Is Taken

A smoke scare is thought to be the cause of the fire alarm originating at Box 25 at 7:30 Thursday evening which called members of Fire companies No. 1, No. 2, No. 6 and the Pirsch fire apparatus to the home of O. Sollars, 126 North Cochran way.

Mrs. Sollars saw smoke coming from about the stove pipe according to Assistant Fire Chief Claire Stockman and concluded there was a fire. When the companies arrived it was ascertained that no action was necessary. The companies were back in service within 15 minutes.

White To Define Power Of City

Tyler Asks If City Can Have Street Car Company Improve Streets

Councilman Walter V. Tyler today during council sesion presented a motion which passed instructing Solicitor Robert White to present an opinion to council relative to the city and Pennsylvania-Ohio Railway company.

Tyler asked in the motion if the city can compel the company to "raise tracks in streets where street car operations have been abandoned and also whether the city can force the company to restore the streets to the condition when the tracks were first laid.

STOLEN CAR FOUND.

Oldsmobile brougham of George and Blanch Kelso, 630 Raymond St., stolen from the public square on the evening of November 13, has been found in the Rick-Overland garage, it was stated at the police station today.

Sure—"Showers Bring Flowers"—Often Lilies!

GEORGE is just about to put the finishing touches on his morning shower—and he'll tell the world he's feeling fine! All he needs now is a little more light—and then the good old fuzzy bath-towel.

George may get his light, in the form of a flock of brilliant comets. He doesn't realize the danger of handling electric fixtures while standing in water. He has done the stunt a hundred times, he will tell you, and nary a shock.

This may be his unlucky day, however, and he may get a jolt he will remember for some time to come. The National Safety Council points out that this practice is a most dangerous one, often resulting in fatalities.

Yes, April showers bring May flowers—and often they come in wreaths.

HEROES OF GREAT OCEAN TRAGEDY

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

One of the Dramatic Rescues

This photo taken from the S. S. Berlin shows a woman encircled by life preserver being maneuvered alongside ship preparatory to being taken aboard. Note the choppiness of the sea which made rescue work perilous for all concerned.

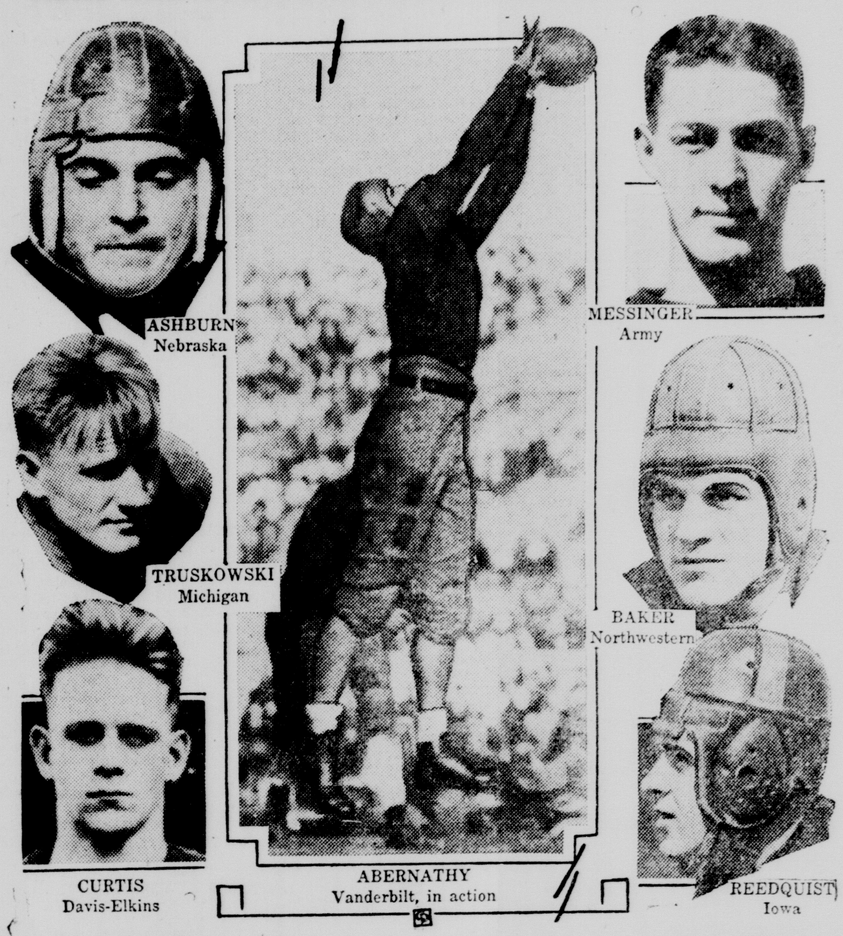
Two Pluckiest Being Saved

For 18 hours Mrs. Clara Ball, plucky stewardess, and P. A. Dana, passenger aboard the Vestris, shown being picked up, battled choppy, shark-infested water and kept up their spirits despite the terror all about them. Capt. Cummings, master of rescue ship American Shipper, described them as two of the gamest people I ever met. Inset, close-up of the two.
(International Newsreel)

HERE ARE A FEW ENDS WHO'VE SHOWN ON 1928 GRID



Not odds, but good ends of the 1928 football season. These lads have "done their stuff" in fine fashion in football games to date and will get consideration when experts pick their "all" teams at the close of the season.

He Went Down With His Ship

Accused of delaying the SOS which might have saved lives of everyone aboard the Lamport & Holt liner Vestris; of failing to enforce proper discipline in his crew, and with neglecting to enforce the company rule having to do with keeping lifeboats provisioned for an emergency, Captain William Carey (above), veteran of 40 years at sea, impatiently waved aside a life belt just before his vessel took her final plunge. He was seen for an instant after the ship sank, then he disappeared under the angry waves.

Noncommittal

Capt. Schuyler Cummings (above), whose masterly handling of the S. S. American Shipper at scene of the Vestris disaster, is credited with saving many lives, had no comment to make on handling of the ill-fated liner. He paid a tribute to officers and men of his own ship for their part in the rescue.
(International Newsreel)

Caught Vestris' S.O.S.

Arthur Jensen (above), chief radio operator of S. S. American Shipper, picked ill-fated Vestris' radio plea out of the ether and directed rescue vessel's course. He stayed at his 'phones for a day and a night.
(International Newsreel)

Mate Prey of Shark

Sharks swam in the water and tore viciously at arms and legs of Vestris victims, Mrs. Earl Devore (above), wife of the noted racing driver, told newspapermen. She blamed dull cowardice of her lifeboat crew for loss of her husband's life as well as several other passengers, including a baby.
(International Newsreel)

Battered Bulldog Stars

Minus the services of a star back, Johnny Garvey, Yale, sees doleful prospects of winning its game with Princeton. Captain Mike Eddy, left, is leading a badly mangled set of football players into the first of the former big three games. Crile, upper right, end, hasn't had much chance to prove himself this year, but Johnny Hoben, lower right, has been handling the quarterback assignment with his customary aplomb.
(International Newsreel)

The American Shipper Standing By

From the deck of the S. S. Berlin an officer snapped this exclusive picture of the American Shipper passing over the spot where the Lamport & Holt liner Vestris went down. The lifeboat alongside had been picked up shortly before some distance to the westward.

Passengers Aboard Liner Vestris

Major Yashio Inouye, of the Japanese army, and Mme. Inouye, who were passengers aboard ill-fated liner Vestris en route from New York to South America. They are believed to be among the saved.
(International Newsreel)

Saved 23 Survivors

Masterly maneuvering of S. S Berlin, Capt. H. Von Thulen, master (above) is credited with preventing further loss of life of Vestris survivors. He brought 23 victims of the disaster into port.
(International Newsreel)

WORLD WAR VET IS 98 YEARS OLD

Robert Patrick O'Neil, age 98, who fought in the World war, is "resting up" for his next big adventure. O'Neil fought in the Civil, Boer and Spanish-American and managed to get to the front, somehow, in the World war. "The only way to live peaceably is to fight," he says.

Hero of Disaster

Out of the ugly welter of charges and counter charges in connection with the Vestris disaster, Albert Duncan (above), second steward of the liner, comes in the shining raiment of a hero. Save for Captain William Carey he was the last man to leave the sinking ship, and it was due to his gallantry that many of the women and children were found places in the boats.

Dope Smuggling Is Termed Big Menace, More Agents Needed

Sara Graham-Mulhall, World Famous Dope Fighter, Makes Statement

Urges As Many Narcotic Agents As Prohibition Men In Government Service

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Dope addiction, spreading like a black weed, is an infinitely greater peril to American civilization than the use of alcohol and demands at least an equality in suppression measures with the prohibition law. Sara Graham-Mulhall, world famous leader in the war on drugs, declared today in an interview with International News Service.

"I believe the army and navy should be called out to patrol our 27,000 miles of coastline and stop the smuggling of misery and degradation into our country," said Miss Mulhall.

"There are approximately 5,000 prohibition agents compared with 300 narcotic agents. The government has appropriated $20,000,000 for prohibition enforcement against $1,000,000 for halting the drug traffic.

Children Lured

"Meanwhile American children are being lured into addiction, the scandal of narcotic indulgence among young college boys is being suppressed because of the shame that publicity would inflict on reputable colleges, and our young women are being exploited in a new form of white slavery, which begins and ends with the power of opium.

The record of 500 suicides in one year among American youth was cited by Miss Mulhall. She said that 214 were boys averaging only 16 years of age and 293 girls averaging 15 years of age. She said that the proportion of drug addicts among this grim procession could not be accurately discovered.

Miss Mulhall told of how school children were slyly taught the use of heroin by drug peddlers. Poppy seeds are put in candy, she said, and the children are also urged to try "some headache powders" to help them in examination time.

Is On Increase

Drug addiction is also on the increase in 'society," said Miss Mulhall.

"The wealthy or intellectual addict is the more serious menace to society," Miss Mulhall pointed out. "He spreads vice in a more subtle way with the ease with which he can get the drug through family influence or through his wealth."

The outstanding centers of drug traffic are New York, Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco, St. Louis, New Orleans and certain parts of Kentucky, Miss Mulhall said.

"We must have as many narcotic agents as prohibition agents," said Miss Mulhall. "Even with the scant 300 narcotic agents they have made relatively more arrests and seizures and more progress than the thousands of prohibition officers. And the government has received more revenue in fines and seizures in connection with enforcing the drug laws than they have appropriated."

Miss Mulhall is attending the annual conference of the narcotic rehabilitation association here. She said that a resolution calling upon congress for nearer equality in anti-drug appropriations with the prohibition department would be put before the conference.

Plays In College Musical Comedy

Margaret Reed Of Butler, Will Appear In Westminster Presentation

MARGARET REED

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 16.—Among the co-eds at Westminster who will take important roles in the Y. W. C. A. presentation of "My Spanish Sweetheart," musical comedy, next month is Miss Margaret Reed of Butler. Miss Reed will play the part of Mrs. Pemberton Smythe.

Miss Reed, a junior, is active in musical and journalistic organizations at Westminster and is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The monthly roaming with the school board was on last night and roaming with those folks means peregrinating through a lot of figures and reports, statements and requisitions. Buildings, repairs, salaries, teachers, principals, students, all the work of the schools boiled down into a couple of hours and handled by the board.

Wotta life. The school board meets and works for hours on end and gets nothing but the satisfaction of a job well done. Plus the growls of the disgruntled and the silent approval of people who know what they are doing. But the disgruntled are never silent.

Booster Day Saturday at Franklin Field and try and be out. This game with Beaver Falls is nobody's push-over and the home team needs our support. Get out and do a little rooting. Not some ladylike handclapping but some old fashioned lung tickling rooting that booms out over the field like a tidal wave.

And here is a good place to offer a suggestion or two. Take it or leave it but here it is. Beaver Falls is quite excited about its team. Naturally. They have not lost a game this season and in the minds of the Beaver Falls fans their team is the best in the district.

It is to be expected that they will root vociferously for their team, just as we will, but remember they are visitors, guests if you please and they are entitled to a modicum of courtesy at least.

It's just a football game after all, and whoever wins will hardly disturb the movements of the planets, or the price of pickled tripe. Root as hard as you can at the game, but let's have no ill feelings.

There have been incidents in the past, both down the Beaver Valley and at New Castle that were anything but good sportsmanship. Its so unnecessary. You can't root a team into winning unless the team itself is out to win, but you can show your sportsmanship. Neither can you root your team out of a fifteen yard penalty. All the hoots in the western hemisphere never made a yard for a football team.

Let's send this Beaver Falls delegation back down the valley with the idea that New Castle is synonomous with good sportsmanship. Let's show them rooting that will surprise them, a team that will overwhelm them, but withal, a sportsmanship that will satisfy them.

'Nuther dinner tomorrow. The Pennsylvania Railroaders hold their annual nose bag party in the Cathedral, and that means turkey, cranberry sauce, and enough trimmings to satisfy a couple of section hands.

Many Applicants For Citizenship Are To Be Heard

Preliminary And Final Examinations To Be Held Together This Month

Naturalization court, which will be held at the courthouse on November 26, 27 and 28, will be an unusually busy session.

There are about 140 new applications and about 30 held over from last court.

Heretofore it has been the custom to hold preliminary examinations and then another examination for final papers. Owing to a lack of funds, both examinations will be held at the same time this month. There will be more than 50 examinations each day. The applicants will be notified from Pittsburgh on what day to appear. They must be accompanied by their witnesses.

The cases held over from last naturalization court are those in which the applicants failed to answer all of the questions satisfactorily. They were given additional time to study up on the different branches of government. Applicants represent several nationalities, with the Italian predominating.

M. A. Bickett Heads Local Committee To Work With Wampum Aggregation On Opening

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 16.—Although a definite date for the opening of the Wampum viaduct is not set, it is expected that the ceremonies will take place early in December.

"NO MORE GETTING UP NIGHTS, KIDNEYS FEEL FINE!" SAYS McCLOSKEY

"Matamel Was Just Right For My Case," He Exclaims. "Kidneys Were in Bad Shape."

FEELS 100% STRONGER

Looking hale and hearty once more, Mr. W. G. McCloskey, popular salesman, made a statement here today which should be read by everyone of our readers troubled with certain forms of rheumatism, kidney or bladder disorder.

"Until I discovered Matamel, I was forced to get up four and five times a night, due to faulty kidney action. My limbs ached miserably and I just felt like 80 years old. I was always tired, had no appetite and suffered with indigestion. My back pained me something terrible."

Case Amazes Medical World

"I tried medicine after medicine, but nothing gave me the results I wanted. Then I read about Matamel—how it contains the fresh sap of the Mexican Maguey Plant—how it has helped people I myself know. I am truly amazed at the fine results secured in my own case. I feel as though a load has been lifted off my shoulders—I sleep all night— wake up feeling strong and ready for a good day's work. I do not tire as easily as I did previously. My appetite is fine—bowels work regularly. I am glad to lend my name to such a remarkable health-product as Matamel."

"Legs, Feet Were Stiff and Swollen—Always Tired Out."

Start Search For Night Club Owners In Philadelphia

Discharged Waiter Spills Dope Concerning Famous Picadilly Night Club

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—Search was started today for Charles Schwartz and Samuel Lazar, associates of Max "Boo Boo" Hoff, who with Hoff are alleged to be the real proprietors of the Picadilly Cafe, a night club here, the latest establishment to figure in the grand jury probe of Philadelphia's racketeers.

The nation-wide search was instituted after a hearing before Judge Edwin O. Lewis when waiters at the cafe testified liquor was sold freely to patrons. Testimony also was brought out regarding several liquor parties in the basement of the night club, at which Hoff, Congressman Benjamin Golder and Magistrate Edward Carney were reported to have been present. Hoff is alleged to have paid for most of the parties.

William Smith, manager and a former assistant prohibition administrator here; Henry Webber, head waiter, and William "Reds" Crowley, Hoff's secretary, were held in $5,000 bail each as a result of the revelations concerning the night life of the cafe.

Testimony linking Schwartz, Lazar and Hoff to the ownership of the cafe was given by Frank J. Donohue, a discharged waiter.

New Swindle Game Halted By Police

Men Show Letters Written By Noted Senators And Establish Credit

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—What authorities here claim is a new type of swindle was revealed in police court here today when two men were held for postal authorities.

The men, authorities declared, used letters written to United States senators in a scheme to swindle hotels throughout the country. The letters were exhibited to the hotel management to establish credit, detectives said, and the duo then cashed bogus checks and disappeared.

The two had a "sucker list" of 1,600 of the leading hotels of the country, they were "working" hotels here when apprehended. Hotel organizations have been complaining of the "racket" for the last six months.

The pair, police declared, showed copies of letters they had allegedly written to Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania and Senator Charles S. Deneen of Illinois. Police said they had in their possession a letter to them purportedly signed by Senator Deneen.

The men told authorities they are John F. Rourke, 34, of New Haven, Conn., and Ralph Harrison, 40, of Monticello, N. J.

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Cal., Nov. 16.—A Zenith-Albatross monoplane, piloted by John Guglielmetti, airmail aviator, took off from the dry bed of Rosemund lake near here today, in an attempt to shatter the world's record for sustained flight. Lee Shoenhair, Los Angeles airman, was in the cockpit of the plane as relief pilot.

The craft is of a new design and single-motored. Its pilots hope to keep it aloft longer than 65 hours and 25 minutes, the present endurance record.

COAST-TO-COAST BUS IS WRECKED; THREE INJURED

Three other passengers in the bus were shaken up. The trio injured all of Pittsburgh were treated at a hospital and then permitted to go home.

Bulls Victorious In Stock Exchange

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Caught and crushed in the wildest jam in the course of the "Hoover Stock Market" the bears in Wall street begged for mercy today as prices of the active speculative shares were pushed up 2 to 10 points in a sensational overnight market coup by the exultant bulls.

It was one of the most successful and brilliant bullish victories ever recorded in the big financial district.

The bears had made their own trap by selling short in the expectation of an enormous increase in brokers' loans to be shown at the close of yesterday's market by the reserve board. Instead of $100,000,000 increase the board showed an expansion of only $1,000,000.

This meant only one thing; that the buyers of stock were not borrowing from the banks, or from any one else. They were using their own money to pick up their favorite shares and displaying the utmost confidence in the present scale of stock prices, though it is up 100 to 500 per cent. over a year or two ago.

Locate Skeleton Of Big Indian In Harrisburg, Penna.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—A steam shovel excavating for a filling station today disturbed the bones of a Shawnee warrior who more than two centuries ago had taken the long trail with his faithful dog at his side.

Operators of the shovel notified Frederic A. Godcharles director of the state museum as soon as the first bones were uncovered. Accompanied by Dr. George P. Donehoo former director and an authority in Indiana lode, Godcharles hurried to the location near Harrisburg to direct removal of the skeleton.

The bones were in a good state of preservation and those of a man apparently more than six feet in height. Close by his side was found a skeleton of a small dog. A stone scraping instrument and stone hoe also were found.

The skeleton was removed to the state museum where it will be set up.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—Pittsburgh's police department was thrown into the spotlight today in the Northside rum conspiracy trial when Mrs. Anna Haskovic claimed she was slugged, harassed and "framed" by police when she refused to handle moonshine in her little confectionery store.

Mrs. Haskovic, who was the government's "star witness" today, accused police officers of delivering a five-gallon can of liquor to her confectionery, and when she refused to sell it, staged a "fake" raid and arrested her.

She testified that her place was raided by Lieut. John Loebig and added that her husband had seen the officer take money from other storekeepers in the district.

D. ROY BRADFORD, President

Sayings Of A President-elect, Taken From Campaign Talks, Form Collection Of Hooverisms

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

HERBERT HOOVER

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 16.—Of the millions of words already written about Herbert Hoover, and the countless numbers that are now being spun, the finest summation of the man comes in the president elect's own line:

"I don't waste my energies running around in circles—I go fishing."

For in these twelve words, lie to the outstanding marks of his success — directness, and a keen sense of proportion, sparkled with delightful humor.

This element of levity doesn't mark often his utterances on the subjects usually termed "weighty." His formal conversations do not show much signs of the humorist. For directness prompts that there be no confusion as to meaning.

Yet his views, when expressed informally—talking to friends, before small groups of intimates, or even before societies of specific interest—cover the range of every-day-every-man affairs, with expression light and cryptic.

Look at these slants, culled from quotations made by Mr. Hoover at divers times since he entered the world spotlight:

PUBLIC OFFICE: Frequently — I may almost say generally—those in public office, city, state and national are damned if they do and damned if they don't."

SMALL TOWNS: "It is time of common emergency that the spirit of the small town ascends to superlative heights. If this be Babbitry, then let us have more of it."

CHILD WELFARE: "I believe that the attitude of a nation toward child welfare soon will become the test of civilization."

HUMAN MISERY: "We may count food in calories, but we have no way to measure human misery."

CHARACTER: "National character cannot be built by law. It is the sum of the moral fiber of its individuals."

INTEREST: "I know how to make money and it no longer interests me. I don't fully know how government may best serve human beings. That does interest me."

FISHING: "There are lots of people who committed crimes during the year who would not have done so if they had been fishing, and I assure you that the increase of crime is due to a lack of those qualities which impregnate the soul of every fisherman —except those who get no bites."

YOUTH: "We have heard much about jazziness, the frivolity, the irresponsibility of the modern youth. Youth today is pulling at the traces as never before, it is true, but it is also willing to pull a load. Its eagerness contains more eager desire than ever before to be of service."

TEACHING: "I am less interested in the facts that you put into young folks' head than in what you put into their spirits. The best teaching is not done out of a book, but out of a life."

WORK: "The first duty is work. This is not a cheerless outlook. It presupposes congenial effort."

CONVICTION: "The time has gone by when conviction can be carried by noisy phrases, quips and demagogic half-truths buttered with emotion. Emotion has its proper place in public speaking, but today the spread of education and the critical character of the radio audience demand solid preparation and sound reasoning if it shall appeal."

STATISTICS: "Solemn statistics are the best antidote to the poison of speculation and profiteering.

CAREER: "Deliberately planning and shaping a career? No. The career might come, but it's a result, not a goal."

AMERICA: "America must remain American—youthful, eager, unfettered."

VISION: "We no longer have the right to think in terms of our own generation."

And so it goes, with expressions, clear-cut and wise, on almost any subject of every-day interest. If the trick calendar printers, who mark each day with some pearl of wisdom, get wise to themselves, they may tap new founts which should lead to fortune—in culling Mr. Hoover's utterances.

Kiddies drink milk willingly when it's served with our Cup Cakes.

Deliciously Different.

Accident Prevention Is Taught In Vienna

How To Become A Proficient Pedestrian Is Latest School Study

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Nov. 16.—How to be a pedestrian, is the latest school subject in Vienna. The growing number of street accidents induced the authorities to make of the laws of the traffic and the street a separate branch of education.

The Viennese kids will be taught by practical illustrations during the hours dedicated to gymnastics, excursions and visits to public buildings, how to walk, cross the streets and how to avoid the dangers of modern traffic.

About a year ago swimming was introduced as an obligatory subject in the Vienna schools. Education is becoming practical indeed in the Austrian capital.

KILLS HIS WIFE FOR BURGLAR

STEUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 16.—Edward Dennis, 56, who fatally shot his wife when he mistook her for a burglar in their room, was released from custody late Thursday. Prosecutor Roy Merryman and police were continuing a formal investigation of the case today, however, they announced.

Dennis' wife, in a dying statement, said that her husband was not to blame. She declared she had thought she heard a bell attached to the door of their adjoining store ring and that she jumped up, arousing her husband.

He saw her form and shot with a revolver that he kept under his pillow. He declared he had armed himself because of a number of robberies and hold-ups in the city in recent weeks.

CONSIDER NEW SCHOOL PLAN

Centralized School Project Is Discussed At New Wilmington; Other News

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 16. — Discussion on the subject of a centralized school for New Wilmington and Wilmington township in both Mercer and Lawrence counties was started at the recent rotary meeting held here. School directors from the three sections were present at the meeting.

For some time it has been evident that the secondary school situation here has not been satisfactory in that more space and equipment is needed. It is thought that the discussion now started will bring about some kind of action.

Hoping to go throughout the season with no defeats, the New Wilmington high school football team will endeavor to top West Middlesex in the grid game to be played at West Middlesex tomorrow afternoon.

This will be the last game of the season for the local team and Coach Olsen's eleven is anxious to extend its win column to five games. New Wilmington has played two tie games this year.

After travelling for four weeks through Kansas and Nebraska by automobile, George Biddle, Mrs. J. C. Barrett, and C. C. Erwin have returned here. It took the local travellers three days to reach Kansas and they spent four days on the return trip.

While in the Middle West, the local people visited relatives whom they had not seen for many years.

The aim of the organization is to further the interests of the student publications on the campus. Two year's work on the weekly newspaper staff or a department editorship on the yearbook staff makes a co-ed eligible for election.

Within the next two weeks, the organization will pledge a number of new members on the basis of work done on college publications last year.

Egypt Bluffed Allenby To Win Independence

Demands Are Immediately Granted By British Foreign Office

DARWAT PASHA IS FINE STATESMAN

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Lord Allenby was bluffed into giving Egypt her independence, according to J. E. Marshall, former judge of Egyptian court of appeals.

According to Marshall, in his book "The Egyptian Enigma," Sarwat Pasha, the then prime minister, in January, 1922, finding—as all his predecessors—that his position was impossible, as between the British residency on the one hand and the violent anti-British majority in the Egyptian parliament on the other, yet not wishing to resign his post, determined to present Lord Allenby with a series of absolutely impossible demands in order that resignation might be forced upon himself.

Blunt Demands.

He therefore asked bluntly for the independence of Egypt—and leaned back wearily but contentedly in his office chair waiting for the inevitable reply. It was no job being prime minister of Egypt in those days—Sarwat was one of the few occupants of the post whose life had never yet been attempted.

Then came the great surprise. To his amazement and consternation (for Sarwat was a practical man of affairs) his demands were immediately granted by the British foreign office, and were later embodied in the famous declartion of independence, dated February 18, 1922.

According to Judge Marshall, it was all the fault of Lord Allenby, who had "infected Lord Curzon (the foreign secretary) with his timidity"—a curious word to apply to the conqueror of Jerusalem.

Is a Statesman.

Sarwat Pasha, added Judge Marshall, is the only living Egyptian politician who shows a vestige of that quality which the west calls "statesmanship". "It is a pity that men of his calibre and vision have not had the courage to force their opinions on their more ignorant and somewhat fanatical countrymen."

Famous Explorer To Lecture On Orient

Dr. William Montgomery McGovern Accepts Post At Northwestern

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 16.—Appointment of Dr. William Montgomery McGovern, widely known traveler and explorer, to a lectureship in contemporary oriental civilization in Northwestern university, has been announced by President Walter Dill Scott.

Dr. McGovern is one of the few white men who have succeeded in entering the sacred city of Lhasa. In the disguise of a Tibetan coolie he reached the forbidden city after months of hardships. There the dalai lama, the supreme Buddhist pontiff, and a man of liberality and intelligence, had him confined for weeks as a prisoner of state in order to protect him from the monks. Later the lama provided him with a guard who escorted him back to India in safety. He has told of his experiences in Tibet in "To Lhasa in Disguise."

Following this expedition into Tibet, Dr. McGovern explored the unknown jungle of the Upper Amazon accompanied by one white man and three natives.

Dr. McGovern is a graduate of Oxford university. He is assistant curator of South American ethnology in the Field Museum of Natural History and is a member of the board of oriental studies and examiner in the University of London. He has spent a great part of his life in the Orient and is regarded as one of the foremost authorities on the civilization of Japan, China and India. In addition to his travel books he is the author of "Colloquial Japanese," "Modern Japan," "Introduction to Mahayana Buddhims" and "Manual of Buddhist Philosophy."

Dr. McGovern will give courses in contemporary oriental civilizations on the Evanston campus the next semester.

Airplane Brings Supplies To Isle

Ice, Fresh Bread And Canned Goods, Dropped In Canal Zone Island

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Aviation has brought ice, fresh bread and canned goods—hitherto practically unobtainable — to Largo Remo Island in the Panama Canal Zone.

A United States air squadron stationed there as target detail is using an amphibian to ferry supplies from France Field, Panama Canal Zone, over to the island, the Air Corps news letter, issued today, declared.

Due to excessive humidity on the island soft bread molds over night there, the letter said, and the ever present salt spray corrodes tin cans and makes it practically impossible to keep a week's supply of rations in camp. In the amphibian just enough supplies fresh and cool, are brought over to last one day.

BIRD HOUSE IS BEING BUILT FOR SING SING PETS

OSSINING, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Sing Sing prison has so many tamed birds that the attendants disclosed today that George Starin Cowles, imprisoned architect, is supervising the construction of a circular birdhouse of stucco and wood to care for 100 pets looked after by Charles E. Chapin, former New York editor.

The birds belong to the institution and there are many good singers and some handsome ones among them. There are several parrots. Provision will will be made to accommodate 1,000 birds.

The birdhouse is near 40 feet in diameter. Cowles, who is directing the work, was an architect in Yonkers until he was convicted of forgery in connection with the will of his uncle, Edwin A. Oliver.

ENGLISH AS IT IS "SPOKE" BY STUDENTS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 16.—And all the brains aren't in college.

At least the interpretation of English words by engineering students at the University of Wisconsin astonished officials and scored one point in favor of stricter classes in English.

Here are interpretations of some English words that a few juniors at the college offered: "Gubernatorial"—pertaining to the power of eating; "Pseudo"—Mexican coin; "albino"—an animal similar to a mule; "agrarian"—grass eating; "sextant"—a person in church who rings the bell; "epithet"—a missile.

CAUSTIC CRITICISM OF PRESENT-DAY MOTHERS

"We may talk all we choose about how the world has changed, how civilization has advanced, and so on, but the fact remains that the fundamentals have not changed one whit," declared Bishop Beatty in an address.

"Today, just as it has been throughout the ages, the future of the race depends upon the mothers of the present. I fear for the future because of these present-day mothers. They leave the children too much to themselves and the lack of proper guidance is developing deplorable conditions.

"Too many mothers are like Mrs. Blank of Park avenue, who called her maid to her one day and said:

"'Fifi, look out the window. Is that child mine or does it belong to some neighbor? It's been hanging around here all day!'"

Name Teams For Legion Drive

W. R. Allen In Charge Of Campaign For Members This Year

EXPECT LARGE CROWD AT MEETING TONIGHT

Annual drive of Perry S. Gaston post No. 343, American Legion, for members will get under way this evening at the regular meeting of the post held at 8 o'clock in the legion home. Every present member of the post is expected to be on hand to assist in putting the drive across.

At this time W. Russell Allen, chairman of the membership drive, will instruct the various team captains and team members in regard to the manner that will put the drive across. The goal of the drive is at least 350, which should be comparatively easy, if those eligible for membership will take the interest expected.

Chairman Allen has provided a special entertainment as a means of instructing the captains and team members in the things that must be overcome in trying to persuade former World war veterans to become affiliated with the legion.

One of the features of this entertainment will be a dialogue between Attorney W. Walter Braham and Major Guy Wadlinger. This will not only prove instructive but very entertaining.

Nick Speed, chairman of the social committee, according to Commander Ivor Davis, will have one of his very special lunches, which should prove appetizing to those in attendance.

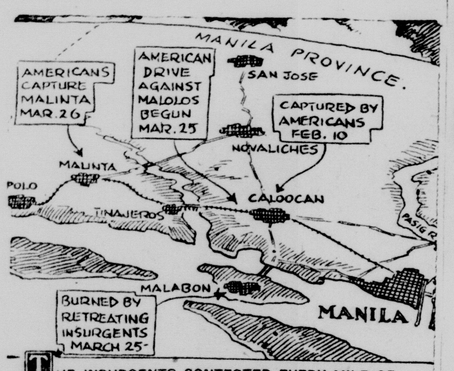
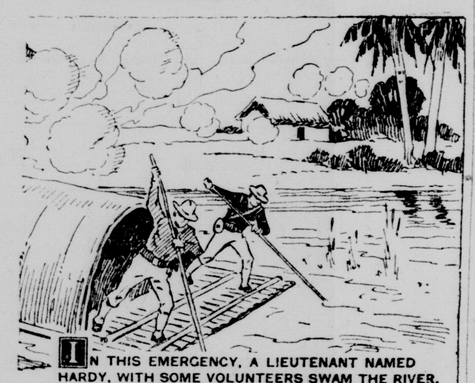
SCENE OF THE DRIVE OF MACARTHURS DIVISION UP THE RAILWAY TO MALOLOS

DURING THE LAST WEEK OF MARCH, 1899, GENERAL MACARTHUR'S DIVISION FORGED NORTHWARD ALONG THE LINE OF THE MANILA-DAGUPAN RAILWAY TOWARD MALOLOS, THE FILIPINO INSURGENT CAPITAL.



THE INSURGENTS CONTESTED EVERY MILE OF THE WAY, BUT FAILED TO CHECK THE ADVANCE OF THE AMERICANS, AND FELL BACK, ABANDONING AND BURNING TOWN AFTER TOWN, TEARING UP THE RAILROAD TRACKS, DESTROYING BRIDGES AND OBSTRUCTING THE ROADS TO IMPEDE THE PROGRESS OF OUR TROOPS.

THIS CAMPAIGN WAS MARKED BY MANY EXPLOITS OF THE AMERICAN FIGHTING MEN. ON MARCH 27 (1899), MACARTHUR'S MEN FOUND THEMSELVES ON THE BANK OF THE MARILAO, EXPOSED TO THE FIRE OF THE INSURGENTS. THE AMERICANS BLAZED AWAY AND DROVE THE ENEMY BACK, BUT WERE UNABLE TO CROSS BECAUSE OF THE WIDTH AND DEPTH OF THE RIVER.



IN THIS EMERGENCY, A LIEUTENANT NAMED HARDY, WITH SOME VOLUNTEERS SWAM THE RIVER, SEIZED A LARGE RAFT THAT WAS MOORED TO THE OPPOSITE BANK, TOWED IT BACK TO THE WAITING AMERICANS, AND THUS SECURED A MEANS OF TRANSPORTING THE COLUMN TO THE OTHER SIDE.

New Castle-Beaver Falls Ready For Game

Schoolboy Elevens Are On Edge Today

New Castle High School Football Team Gets Acid Test Tomorrow; Beaver Falls Sending Clever Undefeated Team To Franklin Field; Locals Hope For Dry Field; Both Elevens Well Coached; New Castle Boosters To Be Out En Masse; Game Starts At 2:30 O'clock

By "BUGS" WALTHER

A LEAN, hungry, snarling Tiger paces his lair in the confines of Beaver Falls. Eleven stalwart New Castle High school football players in the "pink of condition" for battle. Thousands of gridiron fans ready to make "whoopee".

Thus the setting reveals itself today, 24 hours before New Castle High school gridders are called upon to face the undefeated and untied Beaver Falls High pigskin cohorts at Franklin field, this city, on Saturday afternoon. The game takes on the aspect of a big-time attraction.

At 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon two of the finest schoolboy football machines in western Pennsylvania will take their places upon the greensward of the local stadium to battle in what has been termed a "natural".

Four years have elapsed since Coach Heckathorne prepared a Beaver Falls team for a game in the Lawrence county seat. With one of the best teams that has represented the orange and black for many years Heckathorne hopes to escape the ignominy of the crushing steam roller that has characterized the New Castle attack in their own bailiwick.

A fighting New Castle team awaits the contest. Not afraid of being engulfed in the sweep of the Beaver Falls crew, the locals will be out there trying to do what six other teams have failed to do this year, cross the goal line of the "Tigers". Regardless of the outcome of the conflict, the fans can rest assured that they will be witnesses to a football game that has all the earmarks of a first-class encounter.

To Plunge All

New Castle High will plunge their all tomorrow to drag the Tigers down from their perch among the leading contenders for the schoolboy toga of Western Pennsylvania. Unreserved as to attack, the locals will seek to outsmart a clever invading football team.

Both coaches, Bridenbaugh and Heckathorne are "foxy". Both men have turned out praiseworthy grid elevens. Defeat is foreign to each of them.

A victory for Beaver Falls High on the "morrow" will prove conclusively to the W. P. I. A. L. committee that they must recognize the Valley team when it comes time to settle the question of supremacy. New Castle High with a record that stands with the best of them, seven victories and one deadlock, will be out to topple the Valleyites, and thus get back within the good graces of the fathers of the league. They can hardly keep the Bridenbaugh team out of the limelight if they upset the Tigers.

All-Scholastics To Show

As said before by the writer, there has not been a game this year that has brought together more All-Scholastic material in a single afternoon. Down in Beaver Falls Coach Heckathorne is nursing Garda, Walton and Hendrickson along like a mother bear watches over her offspring. Coach Heckathorne honestly believes that if New Castle is to be scuttled on Saturday that his "Three Horsemen" will be the most prominent and outstanding in the process.

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh has three or four players that would look good on any mythical eleven, Ostrosky, Mooney, Ciccone and Harper. At the present writing there is a likelihood that Ostrosky and Mooney may not see a lot of action tomorrow. Injuries are playing havoc with the New Castle team and although Bridenbaugh is blessed with very fine reserve material this year, the popular mentor hopes to have all his regulars in shape for what he terms the most severe test of the schedule. Ciccone is complaining of an injured side, Ostrosky has a bone out of place in his shoulder. Mooney has an injured knee.

Of the list of all-scholastic possibilities to see action tomorrow "Tommy" Harper looks to be the only player in tip top shape. Harper was brilliant at Greensburg last week. It was the hard-driving New Castle fullback who helped to demoralize the Westmoreland county eleven in the first half of the game by swishing his way to two touchdowns, and then to turn an afternoon of fine gridiron work into the spotlight by a dash of 80 yards through the Greensburg team on the kickoff of the second half.

Harper Is Threat

Beaver Falls will do well to devise some method of stopping Harper. New Castle can not overlook the fact that Nick Garda and "Horse" Hendrickson have been the mainstays of the Tiger backfield, and a synopsis of the season to date shows four touchdowns for Garda and five for Hendrickson.

Another Valley gridder sure to be a thorn in the side of the red and black team is "Fat" Walton, giant tackle. Captain Walton has developed into one of the best linemen that ever graced a Beaver Falls High gridiron and is a tower of strength to the left side of the forward wall. Dunn the right tackle is another youngster that needs to be exploited. With Walton and Dunn handling all plays that come their way, and flashing speed and power on the offensive drive the Beaver Falls opponents have cause to worry.

New Castle is very fortunate in having Bruce Alexander back at a tackle position tomorrow. Alexander, a 185-pound lineman was forced out of the Greensburg game by a death in the family, but will be back at his old post for the Beaver Falls game. Paul Cuba another youth who tips the beams past the 180 mark will take care of the other tackle post, and unless the writer has missed another one, there is to be some fun when Cuba and Alexander tackle Walton and Dunn.

In the signal barking department, more commonly known as the quarterback job, the New Castle team will have a slight edge over their rivals. Either Sillman or Shaffer at the helm of the local team makes a good choice. Shaffer is a real triple threat man, being a good punter, fine passer and a fairly good ball-carrier. Sillman has had the most experience at running the team, and may get the call to start the game. Sillman is fast developing a capable man on smashing the line and at end runs. Robbins will likely direct the Beaver Falls team and is considered an excellent field-general, but lacks the polish of either of the two New Castle men.

Teams Train Hard

The gridders of both teams have undergone plenty of hard work this week. Bridenbaugh has given the New Castle team several stiff scrimmages at Franklin field, and concluded his training on Thursday afternoon, with a two-hour workout. Friday afternoon the team went through signals and called it "quits" until game time Saturday.

Coach Heckathorne has put the big Tiger eleven through a series of intensive sessions this week, and feels confident that they will be at their best against the Lawrence Countians.

Locals Look Best

On paper the New Castle High team looks to be the most impressive. The Red and Black team has played the toughest schedule as far as schedules go. New Castle has piled up 215 points in eight games, and have been scored upon for 21 points. Beaver Falls has amassed 75 points in six games and have never had their goal-line crossed.

New Castle gets the edge in ranking by virtue of having met a class of teams superior to the opponents of the Beaver Falls team. The only game in which the valley team showed any outburst of scoring was against Ellwood City, the score being 26 to 0. Aliquippa held the Tigers to a 6 to 0 score in the opening game. Monaca and Rochester yielded 13 and 12 points respectively in their meeting with the Heckathorne machine. Butler High nearly eked out a dead-

Two Big Games On Saturday

Carnegie Tech Plays Notre Dame And Iowa Meets Wisconsin

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—That rugged athlete of olden days who went out to bag the golden fleece in the face of obstacles almost too difficult to even imagine, will have his thrilling story retold in modern style tomorrow and his counterpart will live and breathe in the persons of Bert Ingwersen, football coach of the University of Iowa and Knute K. Rockne, Notre Dame mentor.

Iowa, undefeated this season in the Big Ten Conference, plays the tied but unbeaten University of Wisconsin eleven at Iowa City and down in Indiana at South Bend the Rockmen tangle with undefeated and quite formidable Carnegie Tech.

Notre Dame, after its bad start against Wisconsin in the season opener, has redeemed itself with wins over Army and Navy and will be out battling every foot of turf for further glory at the hands of Carnegie.

From South Bend word is passed that Coach Rockne has framed a complete defense against the accurate passing arms of Harpster and Moorehead, Cernegie stars. Rockne built a defense against Cagle of the Army last week and the Mid-West is backing him to repeat tomorrow against the Eastern invaders.

Carideo, Brady, Chevigny, Niemiec and Collins are fit and ready to lead the Irish assault and with these five ground-gainers Notre Dame is figured in a fair way to avenge the defeat by Carnegie in 1926—a defeat that deprived the Irish of national championship honors.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 16.—Carnegie Tech's football team, which plays Notre Dame here tomorrow in one of the day's most important contests, will be met here upon their arrival this afternoon by a delegation from local school. Cernegie will motor out to Elkton, where they will hold a practice session on the high school field.

Berlin Motor Cars Are Showing Increase

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—The number of motor vehicles in Berlin increased by 17,500 in the twelve months from October 1, 1927 to October 1, 1928, as against an increase of but 13,200 in the preceding year.

The total amount on the last named date was 81,300 as compared with 62,800 on October, 1927 and only 49,500 on October 1, 1926.

Glick-Gans To Fight Tonight

Joe Glick And Baby Joe Gans Will Battle Tonight In Madison Square Garden

JACK DEMPSEY TO WITNESS BATTLE

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Two of the season's outstanding lightweights collide tonight at Madison Square Garden when Joe Glick, the pride of Williamsburg, and Baby Joe Gans, California negro, answer the bell that starts a ten round shindy.

The fact that Sammy Mandell has promised the winner a shot at the lightweight title next February insures heavy patronage. The show was almost a sell-out yesterday.

Glick is the best of the new crop of lightweights starting as a featherweight and battling up through the junior lightweight ranks he is now an experienced, resourceful campaigner.

Gans has won 48 of his last 49 bouts. The only decision that went against him in New York was captured by Manuel Quintero last summer. He fought Quintero in one of the preliminaries to the Mandell-McLarnin title affair at the Polo Grounds, and, after a slow start, won as many rounds as Quintero, but was declared the loser.

Jack Dempsey is one of Baby Joe's best boosters, and will be rooting for him at the ringside tonight. It was reported last week that Dempsey had acquired an interest in the colored battler.

Gans, has been installed at a 7 to 5 favorite in the betting.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Rather than take a chance on sustaining a gash above an eye or a fractured knuckle, Johnny McCoy and Happy Atherton, who box here Monday night have advised Promoter Bill Jolly that rigorous training will end Saturday. Atherton will come from Indianapolis Sunday night and McCoy will arrive earlier in the day.

At Jolly bowl, Carl Cavelli who meets Jackie Powers and Romeo Pacelli who battles Tony Azzari, train together. The local boys are in good condition for their six round bouts. Powers will be boxing the best boy he has ever met in Savelli while Romeo, if he wins from Azzari, will go against Mickie Dugan later.

Roy Minteer, the redhead from the South Side keeps in shape by hard work and training. He will tackle Jimmie Engle, a Hebrew from Youngstown. They have fought several times and the verdicts have shifted to and fro. However, they always put up a good bout and will furnish plenty of action Monday.

It is generally agreed that new faces are appreciated and when Johnny Jennings, a southpaw steps out a second time here he will box Buster Brown, a colored boy. Frankie Ross, who handles Elmo the Mighty says that he expects the two four round boys to keep the fans excited from bell to bell.

Talking about boxing, it would not surprise us were the Jolly bowl filled to overflowing Monday night when Johnny McCoy and Happy Atherton enter the ring. They are flyweights and if ever there were an opportunity for ladies to see what boxing really is, the opportunity has arrived.

It is peculiar but nevertheless true, that feminists who attend boxing matches in other cities like the heavyweights but in New Castle the feminists who attend the flyweight bouts are more numerous than those who go to see the heavier men box. The 112 pound boxers are clever, graceful and generally make better showings.

Speaking about the ladies at the boxing bouts. There are some who simply rave, stand up and yell and again there is the element which does not grow nervous but sits back and watches the proceedings without as much as applauding. The only thing that really annoys them is the presentation of the "boo". That will be missing Monday, we hope. Fans are fair and now that they see it is hurting the game they will abandon the practice.

Little fellows do not hit as hard as the larger men and consequently there are not so many knockdowns. However, they are faster, brainier, it would seem and some of the foot movements would do justice to dance celebrities but then it must be recalled that fighters seldom succeed unless they keep up on the balls of their feet.

We are a disrespectful people, and most audiences snicker at a joke that is hoary with age.

Bessemer And Union Battling For Honors

Two undefeated class B high school grid elevens will do battle this afternoon at three o'clock, when the Union High team invades Bessemer for a game with that town's high school team.

Neither team has tasted defeat so far this season and a good game is in prospect. One of the teams will probably be eliminated, as Union, Bessemer and New Wilmington are deadlocked for the championship. Union tied New Wilmington and not so long ago the Bessemer team sprang a surprise by holding the same grid team to a tie. On paper it looks like the winner of this game will probably be crowned "champs" of Lawrence county.

Both coaches have been drilling their teams all week for the gruelling conflict. Coaches Burnham and Fredericks are confident that their teams will be on top when the final whistle blows.

Two members of the Union team which are expected to cause the Bessemer team trouble are Schiek and Chill. Both boys have proven troublesome for other opponents they have played against this season. Schiek, the husky halfback, according to those who have seen him in action, is reputed as being very fast, and many acclaim him as a comer in the football world. Bessemer will also have two boys who they expect will match the Union backfields in Grist and Aquaro. Both have shown their ability in practically every game they have participated in. Grist is very fast and has been a menace to opponents.

A large delegation is expected to attend the game from both schools. The officials for the game will be Sam Richards, umpire, and Ray Nolte, referee. Both are from New Castle.

The probable line-up for tonight is as follows:

Union		Bessemer
Lanigan	L. E.	Ruehle
Morrison	L. T.	Engle
Stockman	L. G.	D. McCurdy
Clark	C.	Ulah
Pattison	R. G.	Davidson
Augustine	R. T.	Cappezuto
McConaghy	R. E.	Mack
Thompson	Q. B.	Shrefler
Chill	L. H.	Grist
Schiek	R. H.	Aquaro
Rech	F. B.	W. McCurdy

Westminster Ready For Waynesburg

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 16.—Enthusiasm and optimism were rampant on the collge field here Wednesday and yesterday as the Westminster football team rehearsed new plays for the Waynesburg game to be played here tomorrow.

Beede was pleased with the spirit shown by the men, and if he gets his wish for a dry field, the United Presbyterians should give a good account of themselves. Members of the team are satisfied that they will be outweighed for the eighth time this season, but to date even the heaviest teams have been unable to do much with the United Presbyterian line.

In all probability, Dible will be in shape to play tomorrow. The Verona flash was injured in the Thiel game and has not seen any action since. With Dible, Palmer, Lauder, Havrilla, Frack, Campbell, Hall, Michaels, McQuiston, and Holzapfel all available for use in the backfield, a running attack worth seeing may be expected, provided, of course, that the United Presbyterians are blessed with a dry field.

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald is making plans to accommodate a large crowd at the contest.

Football Olympians — By Feg Murray

That Football and Track mix is a statement that cannot be denied by any one who has followed both sports, even casually, for a few years. There have been too many cases of men like Bowman of Syracuse, Locke of Nebraska, Craig of Michigan—speed boys on both cinderpath and gridiron—and Hills of Princeton, Anderson of the University of Southern California, Leib of Notre Dame—weight-throwers who performed in the line with distinction as well. Jim Thorpe, of course, was the greatest track star who ever became an Olympic hero.

But, to get down to the business at hand, the 1928 Olympic team had either as track and field athletes, coaches, members of the crews, or boxing, wrestling, and lacrosse teams, at least a dozen varsity football players. True, there were no Jim Thorpes, but there was an abundant supply of talent nevertheless, and quite a snappy football team would be picked from the array that sailed on board the S. S. "President Roosevelt" last July.

For your line you would have John Anderson of Cornell, Tim Clark of Harvard, Herm Brix of Washington Jim Corson of the Olympic Club, and Ray Van Orman, old-time Cornell star who coached the Johns Hopkins Lacrosse team. In the backfield there is an abundant supply of speed and power, with ball carriers such as Barbuti of Syracuse, Snider of Auburn Churchill of Oklahoma, Cuhel of Iowa and Rothert of Stanford. Dink Templeton, assistant to Coach Lawson Robertson, could probably out-punt the rest of them, while the all-around boys, Berlinger of Penn and Stewart of U. S. C. would come in handy as reserve material.

Notre Dame Holds Slight Edge Over Carnegie Tech In South Bend Contest

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Hatfields and the Tollivers of intercollegiate football, feudists these many years by circumstance, by environment and by choice, will have at it tomorrow in a game which, to the principals, won't mean any more than an ordinary windpipe. Locked in the death throes of these eternal vendettas will be die-hards like Yale and Princeton; Vanderbilt and Tennessee; Georgia Tech and Alabama; Illinois and Chicago; Syracuse and Colgate; Baylor and Southern Methodist; Kansas and Oklahoma; Texas Christian and Texas; Oregon and Oregon Aggies and Tulane and Sewanee.

Fight! These outfits regard history with amused tolerance. In 1812, John Paul Jones publicly admitted that he had begun to fight. The ball teams involved above have been fighting ever since. This virtue is about all that is left to some of them now, at that, all-that-is-left should prove to be a great plenty. It will make for a lot of legalized Brannigans tomorrow.

Meantime, national significance will be served on other through slightly less personal fronts. Iowa and Wisconsin will go to bat for the western conference championship. Pittsburgh will see twhat it can do, if anything, about the Nebraska stampede. Notre Dame, at the top of its stride following the Army victory, will attempt to beat another contender, Carnegie Tech, out of its title claims. These, with the Yale-Princeton, Tech-Alabama and Vanderbilt-Tennessee meetings, constitute the large moments of a rather large afternoon. The results of the last two named will do something toward training the southern title down to championship weight.

Irish Favored.

Meantime, the ninety-eight percent wrong club, which could do no better than an average of twenty-five percent wrong last week, has met in executive session and has arranged the following results:

Notre Dame to give Carnegie Tech its first defeat, a tough one to call, either way. Princeton to win from Yale, purely by comparative performances. Iowa to win the Big Ten title, beating Wisconsin. The latter is good but it is too difficult to see an Iowa team losing that can tip over one big time rival by a point and, after being tied by another, fight back to score the winning touchdown. It is hard to beat a team like that and I don't think Wisconsin will.

Nebraska to win an ultra-close one from Pitt. Georgia Tech to do likewise with Alabama. The latter seems to be coming back but there is one great virtue to Southern football. The team that looks the best usually proves it on the field. Tech is the stand out. Vanderbilt to present Tennessee with its initial defeat after a great fight. This is another one that shouldn't be called. But back where I came from, I'm known as fearless Fred.

Are Hard To Pick.

There are two, however, that I won't call because I can't. There is no choice between a couple like Lafayette and Penn State, while in the case of Detroit and Fordham, there isn't the slightest basis of comparison. All that you can say is that, if Detroit is as good as it is fancied to be, it will win. And I can only seem to get nowhere with marked success in considering Georgia against Louisiana State and Texas against Texas Christian. If the captain of the firing squad should question me closely about it at daybreak, I probably would say Georgia and Texas and pray for divine guidance.

Another tough one is Oregon against Oregon Aggies. I like the former, probably for reasons best known to a couple of other fellows. However, Stanford and California figure to win from Washington and Nevada respectively and U. S. C. should take Washington State. The latter may be lying back with a skull-cracker, at that.

Illinois looks the part of a 3 to 1 bet against Chicago, Kansas ought to have something on Oklahoma and Syracuse seems to be a jump ahead of Colgate. I like Missouri over New York University, although that old basis-of-comparison thing again is absent. Pennsylvania must be two touchdowns better than Columbia; at least, it was last week. I think Dartmouth will beat Cornell, largely because I find I am beginning to lose confidence in a team that scores exactly no points in its last three games.

Tulane would seem to be yards better than Sewanee and Florida, judged on what it had against Georgia, and ought to have enough for Clemson. The latter happens to be nobody's chump, however. Finally, Southern Methodist to outlast Baylor, another great fight.

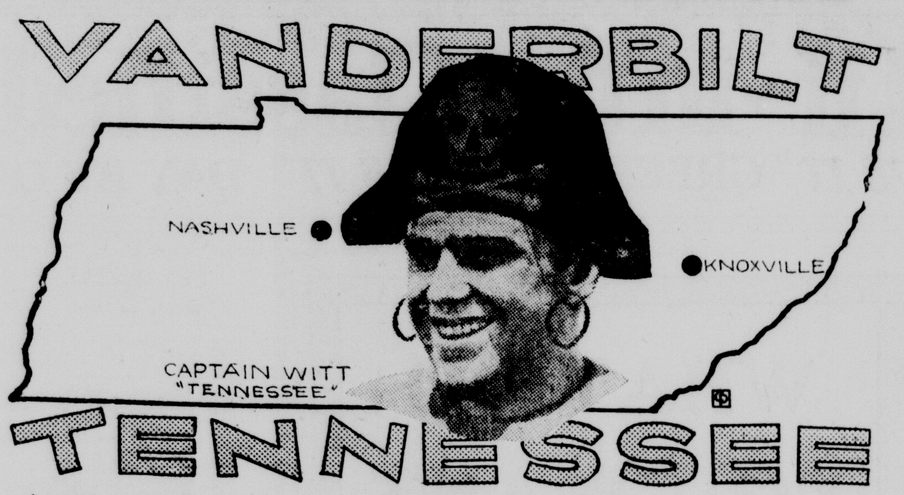
GRID COMMODORES FACE MUTINY IN OWN STATE



A mutiny against the Vanderbilt Commodores as skippers of Tennessee's ship of football destiny takes place Saturday when the undefeated University of Tennessee, of Knoxville, gridders, in the role of pirates, board the Commodore craft at Nashville, Tenn., and try to sink it. In late years Tennessee has made great strides in football, last season holding the Vandy crew to a tie and this year threatening to end the Commodores' long reign over the Lookout State.

lock, the Beaver Falls team escaping 6 to 0.

Jeannette is the best team that has faced the Beaver Falls team this season, and the "Glass Workers" fell victims last Saturday 13 to 0.

New Castle in presenting their record to date, places Schenley, Westinghouse, South Hills and Greensburg in prominance. Any of these four schools are considered "big time stuff." The only blot on the New Castle card is the 0-0 deadlock at Washington. Grove City, Bellevue and Meadville were easy prey for the steam-roller.

Hope For Good Weather

In event of a dry field tomorrow, the fans should see two highly trained elevens throwing caution to the winds and unfolding every trick in the bag. The importance of this New Castle-Beaver Falls meeting, causes both teams to disregard scouts and other interested parties.

On a dry footing the New Castle attack should function very smoothly. The local backfield men are not "beefy!" It will be a much faster and more thrilling contest if played under good weather conditions. Both teams feature open play and plenty of tricky forward passes.

Should the gridiron be waterlogged it will greatly hamper both teams. New Castle proved good "mudders" at Greensburg but the Beaver Falls team is a lot better than the Westmoreland county sons. Beaver Falls played in a sea of mud and water to down Jeannette High, but found the condition not to their liking. The same held true for the game at Butler.

Throng to Attend

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is making preparations to handle a big crowd tomorrow. Beaver Falls has asked for 700 tickets and it is indicated that more than 1,000 will follow the Tigers here.

The New Castle boosters have a big celebration planned for the game, with features of all kinds, and this is sure to swell the crowd to quite some extent. The New Castle band is to be benefited by part of the proceeds of the game.

That 8,000 fans will crowd into Franklin field by game, is a conservative guess. This is the feature game of the season for both teams and the lovers of football are sure to be out enmasse for the contest.

The probable lineups:

New Castle		Beaver Falls
Ostrosky	L E	Simon
Cuba	L T	Warwood
Beres	L G	Walton
Ciccone	C	Howe
Mooney	R G	Weiner
Alexander	R T	Dunn

Greenwich Village Losing Atmosphere

New York's Latin Quarter Is Now Crowded With Pants Salesmen

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Greenwich Village, famous melting pot for the embryo artists, poets, and novelists who descend upon New York annually in great numbers, is losing its colorful atmosphere.

In the past, the eccentric artists and others who lend color to the Village by living and dressing different from normal Americans, lived in Greenwich Village because rent was cheap.

Americans of adequate means flocked to the village to absorb the "atmosphere" and Bohemian life of the quarter. Gradually these folks of regular income began moving into the village. They were willing to pay higher rents in order to acquire the apartments and living quarters.

PRACTICE TONIGHT

The Central Christian basketball team will hold a practice session tonight at eight o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. and all members are asked to report promptly.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Sports Writer for Central Press and The New Castle News.

The recent attention drawn to Yale's stand on intersectional football—as voiced at least in the Yale Alumni Weekly—will probably furnish food for considerable discussion in coming weeks.

The weekly wished to make it clear that Yale action in going to Georgia this next fall does not "open the doors" to intersectional football as far as the New Haven institution is concerned.

"The university is not at all interested in matching its football teams with leaders in other sections of the country for the purpose of seeing which type of game is the better. The sport is played for the good of the undergraduates and not the public, however friendly the public may be." So reads part of the dissertation.

If this stand voices the general sentiment at Yale it can be accepted as a sincere stand. Yale's action in accepting a return game with Georgia cannot be construed as a desire to enter the intersectional field, of course.

The only intersectional game in which Yale has indulged to date was the memorable one with Iowa, a few years ago, when the presence of Howard Jones at the western university and his brother Tad at Yale, made the affair a logical one. For Yale it was a "Yale" game. The contest was staged solely for the purpose of bringing the teams of the two brothers together—and Howard back to his old school, Yale, for a day.

Yale refused.

German Judge Gives Sentence To Woman Who Forsakes Clothes

Is Immune To Feminine Charms; Bars Public From His Court Room

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—German judges are apparently immune to feminine charms displayed on the defendant's bench.

Jenny Crassnick, bar lady, decided to give the judges an eyefull when she was brought into a Berlin court to answer to a charge of theft.

"If I have to go in I'll go in naked," she shouted and tore all her clothes from herself.

The judge immediately excluded the public. Jenny was re-dressed by force and sentenced to one year in jail.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—The bears received the surprise of their life today when the stocks in which they had sold heavily short, were nowhere to be found at within 3 to 10 points of Thursday's final prices.

In one of the wildest openings ever recorded in Wall street, stocks rushed up 5 to 10 points for huge blocks of the market favorites in which a big "short interest" had been trapped. The unfortunate bears had sold heavily on the expectation of a big increase in brokers' loans—anywhere from $100,000,000 to $250,000,000 to be shown by the Reserve Board after the close of Thursday's market. Less than $2,000,000 was shown.

What did it all mean. Simply that thousands of American stock buyers were using their own money rather than bank loans to acquire their favorite shares; that the "big fellows" were buying 'em for their safety deposit boxes and taking them far from Wall street; that stocks were getting scarcer and scarcer and therefore "easier to bull."

More than a dozen of the well known shares made their initial entrance on the ticker in blocks of 10,000 to 25,000 shares. Montgomery Ward jumped 10 points to 404; Sears Roebuck was up 8½; United States Steel up 2½ to a new high-record price of 171½; Bethlehem Steel up 3; Chrysler Motors up 4½. Before the end of the first hour Packard Motor was up 7 points; Westinghouse Electric 8; Kennecott Copper 4 and a score or more of the market favorites 3-6 points.

Sales on the big board actually recorded on the tape in the first hour aggregated 1,424,000 shares. This is equivalent to 7,110,000 shares for a full day. But as the tape was 36 minutes behind the market at that time, a 33 per cent addition would bring the comparative total to 9,480,000 shares, if trading could be maintained at the pace set in the first hour.

Prices advanced over a wide range in the second hour. Packard jumped into the leadership of the motors with a new advance to above 118. General Motors was on the shelf, dropping back a few points to 213¼. (X-D) and Chrysler was stirred up furiously as buying orders swept in. United States Steel was above 171 and Bethlehem Steel above 77.

Again, plenty of money at 6½ per cent.

GREAT ECONOMY

Mother—Richard, don't you think it's extravagant to put both butter and jelly on your bread?

PENN SUB TACKLE IS MINISTER

Swear words are taboo when this fellow is in the game. He's the Rev. Charles Urban, an ordained minister with a pulpit in Philadelphia, Pa., on Sundays. During the week and especially on Saturdays, he is Charley Urban, a substitute tackle on the University of Pennsylvania football squad—and a mighty good one, too. He is shown reading up on his next sermon.
